Sale-catalogues of Second-hand Books on Sale by Henry Sotheran & Co Sotheran, Henry and Co, 1871 The Most Arrogant Man in France Petra ten-Doesschate Chu, 2024-05-14 A comprehensive reinterpretation of the pioneering and media savvy artist The modern artist strives to be independent of the public's taste and yet depends on the public for a living Petra Chu argues that the French Realist Gustave Courbet 1819-1877 understood this dilemma perhaps better than any painter before him In The Most Arrogant Man in France Chu tells the fascinating story of how in the initial age of mass media and popular high art this important artist managed to achieve an unprecedented measure of artistic and financial independence by promoting his work and himself through the popular press The Courbet who emerges in Chu's account is a sophisticated artist and entrepreneur who understood that the modern artist must sell and not only make his art Responding to this reality Courbet found new ways to package exhibit and publicize his work and himself Chu shows that Courbet was one of the first artists to recognize and take advantage of the publicity potential of newspapers using them to create acceptance of his work and to spread an image of himself as a radical outsider Courbet introduced the independent show by displaying his art in popular venues outside the Salon and he courted new audiences including women And for a time Courbet succeeded achieving a rare freedom for a nineteenth century French artist If his strategy eventually backfired and he was forced into exile his pioneering vision of the artist's career in the modern world nevertheless makes him an intriguing forerunner to all later media savvy artists Catalogue of the Loan Book Exhibition, Held at the University of California, Berkeley, May 26th to 31st, 1884 University of California, Berkeley, 1884 Library Bulletin, 1880 THE BOOKSELLER, 1866 The New International Encyclopædia Frank

Moore Colby, Talcott Williams, 1917 The New International Encyclopaedia, 1929 New International Encyclopedia, 1914 Catalogue Maggs Bros, 1910 The International Year Book Frank Moore Colby, 1899 Text, Image, and the Problem with Perfection in Nineteenth-Century France Daniel Sipe, 2016-04-01 In the decades after the French Revolution philosophers artists and social scientists set out to chart and build a way to a new world and their speculative blueprints circulated like banknotes in a parallel economy of ideas Examining representations of ideal societies in nineteenth century French culture Daniel Sipe argues that the dream image of the literary or art historical utopia does not disappear but rather is profoundly altered by its proximity to the social utopianism of the day Sipe focuses on this persistent afterlife in utopias ranging from François René de Chateaubriand's Amerindian utopia in Atala 1801 to the utopian spoof of J J Grandville's illustrated novel Un autre monde 1844 He proposes a new reading of Étienne Cabet's seminal utopian novel Voyage en Icarie 1840 and offers an original perspective on the gendered utopias of technological inspiration that authors such as Charles Barbara and Auguste Villiers de l'Isle Adam penned in the second half of the century In addition Sipe considers utopias or important readings of the century's rampant utopianism in among others Victor Hugo Alfred de Vigny Théophile Gautier Charles Baudelaire and Gustave Courbet His book provides the historical context for comprehending the significance and implications of this enigmatic afterlife in nineteenth century utopian art and literature

Laboratories of Faith John Warne Monroe, 2018-07-05 At a fascinating moment in French intellectual history an interest in matters occult was not equivalent to a rejection of scientific thought participants in séances and magic rituals were seekers after experimental data as well as spiritual truth A young astronomy student wrote of his quest I am not in the presence or under the influence of any evil spirit I study Spiritism as I study mathematics He did not see himself as an ecstatic visionary but rather as a sober observer For him the darkened room of occult practice was as much laboratory as church In an evocative history of alternative religious practices in France in the second half of the nineteenth and beginning of the twentieth centuries John Warne Monroe tells the interconnected stories of three movements Mesmerism Spiritism and Occultism Adherents of these groups Monroe reveals attempted to modernize faith by providing empirical support for metaphysical concepts Instead of trusting theological speculation about the nature of the soul these believers attempted to gather tangible evidence through Mesmeric experiments séances and ceremonial magic While few French people were active Mesmerists Spiritists or Occultists large segments of the educated general public were familiar with these movements and often regarded them as fascinating expressions of the modern condition a notable contrast to the Catholicism and secular materialism that prevailed in their culture Featuring eerie spirit photographs amusing Daumier lithographs and a posthumous autograph from Voltaire as well as extensive documentary evidence Laboratories of Faith gives readers a sense of what being in a séance or a secret society ritual might actually have felt like and why these feelings attracted participants While they never achieved the transformation of human consciousness for which they strove these thinkers and believers nevertheless pioneered a way of being religious that has become an enduring part of the Western cultural vocabulary Understanding Mental Disorders Daniel Lafleur, Christopher Mole, Holly Onclin, 2019-04-01 Understanding Mental Disorders aims to help current and future psychiatrists and those who work with them to think critically about the ethical conceptual and methodological questions that are raised by the theory and practice of psychiatry It considers questions that concern the mind's relationship to the brain the origins of our norms for thinking and behavior and the place of psychiatry in medicine and in society more generally With a focus on the current debates around psychiatry's diagnostic categories the authors ask where these categories come from if psychiatry should be looking to find new categories that are based more immediately on observations of the brain and whether psychiatrists need to employ any diagnostic categories at all The book is a unique guide for readers who want to think carefully about the mind mental disorders and the practice of psychiatric medicine The Encyclopædia Britannica

Hugh Chisholm, James Louis Garvin, 1926 Pontmain, Prophecy, and Protest Cheryl A. Porte, 2005 Pontmain Prophecy and Protest considers the appearance of Mary in Pontmain France in its concrete historical and cultural dimensions and demonstrates that an apparition's context dramatically affects how it is both perceived and promoted Highlighting how a private religious experience became a tool of the Roman Catholic Church which used it for affirmation and promoted it as a kind of protest against contemporary evils this book offers a new perspective on the processes at work when people turn to religion to shape their perception of reality
