Cinema of Flames Dina Iordanova, 2019-07-25 First study of cinema media and the Balkan wars Wide ranging view of politics and culture of the region The break up of Yugoslavia triggered a truly international film making project Underground Ulysses Gaze Before the Rain Pretty Village Pretty Flame and Welcome to Sarajevo were amongst a host of films created as the conflicts in the region unravelled These conflicts restored the Balkans as a centrepiece of Western imagery and the media especially cinema assumed a leading but ambiguous role in defining it for global consumption through a narrow range of selectively defined images Simultaneously a lot of the high quality cinematic and television work made in the region much of it discussed in this book remains relatively unknown Cinema of Flames attempts to go deeper than the imagery and address some of the general concerns of the cross cultural representation and self representation of the Balkans narrative strategies within the context of Balkan exclusion from the European cultural sphere the cosmopolitan image of Sarajevo diaspora and the representations of villains victims women and ethnic minorities all considered in the general context of Balkan cinema encyclopaedic in scope and brilliance making excellent use of the scholarly literature whilst interweaving analysis of films and other mass media The book will be a superb addition to the literatures on Bosnia and Yugoslavia It will also serve as a standard reference on Balkans film Robert Hayden University of Pittsburgh

Discovering Short Films C. Felando, 2015-07-01 As film history's oldest and one of today's most prominent forms the live action short film has both historical and contemporary significance Felando discusses the historical significance of the short film identifies the fiction short's conventions and offers two general research categories the classical short and the art short

New Taiwanese Cinema in Focus Flannery Wilson, 2015-05-29 In the Taiwanese film industry the dichotomy between art house and commercially viable films is heavily emphasized. However, since the democratization of the political landscape in Taiwan, Taiwanese cinema has become internationally fluid. As the case studies in this book demonstrate, filmmakers such as Hou Hsiao-hsien, Edward Yang, Tsai Ming-liang, and Ang Lee each engage with international audience expectations. New Taiwanese Cinema in Focus therefore presents the Taiwanese New Wave and Second Wave movements with an emphasis on intertextuality, citation, and trans-cultural dialogue. Wilson argues that the cinema of Taiwan since the 1980s should be read emblematically, that is, as a representation of the greater paradox that exists in national and transnational cinema studies. She argues that these unlikely relationships create the need for a new way of thinking about transnationalism, altogether making this an essential read for advanced students and scholars in both Film Studies and Asian Studies.

Melancholy Drift Jean Ma, 2010-06-01

Ma offers an innovative study of three provocative Chinese directors: Wong Kar-wai, Hou Hsiao-hsien, and Tsai Ming-liang. Focusing on the highly stylized and nonlinear configurations of time in each director's films, she argues that these directors have brought new global respect for Chinese cinema by amplifying motifs of loss, nostalgia, haunting absence, and ephemeral poetics. Hou, Tsai, and Wong all insist on the significance of being out of time, not merely out of place, as a condition of global modernity. Ma argues that their films collectively foreground the central place of contemporary Chinese films in a transnational culture of memory, characterized by a distinctive melancholy that highlights the difficulty of binding together past and present into a meaningful narrative. Jean Ma is assistant professor in the Department of Art and Art History at Stanford University. Melancholy Drift rides the films of three Chinese auteurs right into the heart of its subject: the mismatch between private feeling and collective history. These crucial films, set carefully beside one another, begin to pulse anew under the deft touch of Jean Ma's analyses. Drawing on a deep reservoir of historical and critical knowledge, she helps us hear these films speak of our times, then speak of time itself and of its dislocations.

Dudley Andrew, Yale University

Theoretically sophisticated and elegantly written, Melancholy Drift elucidates the subject of cinematic time in its various configurations as a response to historical ruptures and political upheavals, as representational politics, and as a reinvention of the art cinema. This book is a timely demonstration of the key roles played by Chinese auteurs in shaping the new face of world cinema today, and an important contribution to scholarship both within and beyond the field of transnational Chinese cinemas.
