Fred Directory of Radio Ardele Leavelle, 1980 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1980-07 Library of Congress Catalogs Library of Congress, 1980 U.S. Army Signal Corps Vehicles 1941-45 Didier Andres, 2021-12-08 Includes hundreds of period photos covering all the details of the trucks vans and trailers vital to maintain the communications of the U S Army in WWII The Signal Corps was at the forefront of the technological development of communications throughout World War II Tasked with coordinating all American military activities the Signal Corps initially had to rely on a communications landline network covering some 1 300 000 km This network together with radio communications provided President Roosevelt with a global overview of military operations down to battalion level updated hourly for nearly five years Technological evolution was so rapid that radio communications soon took over from the landline network however adaptation remained a priority within the US Army Signal Corps for when landline networks were unavailable or radio silence had to be observed signallers also maintained older communications methods including homing pigeons Almost every large piece of Signal Corps equipment required wheeled transport Early in the war the Model K vehicles designed for the Signal Corps needs quickly proliferated with 84 variants being produced After that designation was abandoned the Signal Corps would catalogue a further 62 models of vehicles and trailers most of them were associated with a particular radio or radar installation This comprehensive and fully illustrated account covers radar radio vehicles plus specialized vehicles such as telephone repair trucks mobile telephone switchboards and homing pigeon units all described in technical detail and illustrated by hundreds of period photos Kelly's Directory of the Electrical Industry and Wireless and Allied Trades Throughout England, Scotland and Wales, and the Principal Towns in Ireland, the Channel Islands and Isle of Man ... ,1926 Grand Haven City Directories ,1928 Radio's Hidden Voice Hugh Richard Slotten, 2009 A detailed study of American public radio s early history National Union Catalog ,1980 Includes entries for maps and atlases Catalog of Copyright Entries. Third Series Library of Congress. Copyright Office, 1971 Pauline Frederick Reporting MARILYN S. GREENWALD, 2015-01-01 Pauline Frederick Reporting is the biography of the life and career of the first woman to become a network news correspondent After no less an authority than Edward R Murrow told her there was no place for her in broadcasting Pauline Frederick 1908 90 cracked the good old boys club through determination and years of hard work eventually becoming a trusted voice to millions of television viewers During Frederick s nearly fifty years as a journalist she interviewed a young Fidel Castro covered the Nuremberg trials interpreted diplomatic actions at the United Nations and was the first woman to moderate a presidential debate The life of this pivotal figure in American journalism provides an inside perspective on the growth and political maneuverings of television networks as well as Frederick s relationships with iconic NBC broadcast figures David Brinkley Chet Huntley and others Although Frederick repeatedly insisted that she would trade her career glamorous as it was to have a family a series of romances ended in heartache when she did indeed choose her work over love At the age of sixty one however she married and attained the family life she had always wanted Her story is one for all modern women striving to balance career and family The United States Catalog ,1928 Wrigley's British Columbia Directory ,1922 Selling Mrs. Consumer Janice Williams

Rutherford,2010-07-01 This first book length treatment of the life and work of Christine Frederick 1883 1970 reveals an important dilemma that faced educated women of the early twentieth century Contrary to her professional role as home efficiency expert advertising consultant and consumer advocate Christine Frederick espoused the nineteenth century ideal of preserving the virtuous home and a woman s place in it In an effort to reconcile her desire to succeed in the public sphere of modernization and consumerism with the knowledge that most middle class Americans still held traditional beliefs about gender roles Frederick fashioned a career for herself that encouraged other women to remain at home With the rise of home economics and scientific management Frederick college educated but confined to the drudgery of housework devised a plan for bringing the public sphere into the domestic Her home would become her factory She learned how to standardize tasks by observing labor saving devices in industry and then applied this knowledge to housework She standardized dishwashing for example by breaking the job into three separate operations scraping and stacking washing and drying and putting away Determined to train women to become proficient homemakers and efficient managers Frederick secured a job writing articles for the Ladies Home Journal A professional career as home efficiency expert later expanded to include advertising consultant and consumer advocate Frederick assured male advertisers that she knew women well and promised to help them sell to Mrs Consumer While Frederick sought the power and influence available only to men she promoted a division of labor by gender and therefore served the fall of the early twentieth century wave of feminism Rutherford s engaging account of Christine Frederick s life reflects a dilemma that continues to affect women today whether to seek professional gratification or adhere to traditional family values Pontiac City Directories ,1927 Ishpeming City Directories ,1929

Slotten,2022-02-08 A fascinating account of how the United States established the first global satellite communications system to project geopolitical leadership during the Cold War On July 20 1969 the world watched spellbound as NASA astronaut Neil Armstrong stepped off the Apollo 11 lunar module to walk on the moon NASA estimated that 20 percent of the planet s population nearly 650 million people watched the moon landing footage which was made possible by the first global satellite communications system the International Telecommunications Satellite Organization or Intelsat In Beyond Sputnik and the Space Race Hugh R Slotten analyzes the efforts of US officials especially during the Kennedy administration to establish this satellite communication system and open it to all countries of the world Locked in competition with the Soviet Union for both military superiority and international prestige President John F Kennedy overturned the Eisenhower administration s policy of treating satellite communications as simply an extension of traditionally regulated telecommunications Instead of allowing private communications companies to set up separate systems that would likely primarily serve major developed regions the new administration decided to take the lead in establishing a single world system Explaining how the East West Cold War conflict became increasingly influenced by North South tensions during this period Sloten highlights the growing importance of non aligned countries in Asia Latin America and Africa He also underscores the importance of a political economy of total Cold War in which many crucial aspects of US society became tied to imperatives of national security and geopolitical prestige Drawing on detailed archival records to examine the full range of decisionmakers involved in the Intelsat system Beyond Sputnik and the Space Race spotlights mid and lower level agency staff usually ignored by historians One of the few works to analyze the establishment of a major global infrastructure project this book provides an outstanding analytical overview of the history of global electronic communications from the mid nineteenth century to the present The United States Catalog Ida M.
