way While highly rigorous the text is also student friendly with a light humorous tone With real world stories and an intuitive structure Emotion and Motivation addresses questions undergraduates are most likely to ask Why do we have emotions How do they affect our lives What motivates human behavior How can we improve well being

Cognitive Perspectives on Emotion and Motivation V. Hamilton, Gordon H. Bower, Nico H. Frijda, 2012-12-06 This book presents the contributions of the members of an Advanced Research Workshop on Cognitive Science Perspectives on Emotion Motivation and Cognition The Workshop funded mainly by the NATO Scientific Affairs Division together with a contribution from the British Economic and Social Research Council was conducted at Il Ciocco Tuscany Italy 21-27 June 1987 The venue for our discussions was ideal a quiet holiday hotel 500m high in the Apennine mountain range approached by a mile of perilously steep winding narrow road The isolation was conducive to concentrated discussions on the topics of the Workshop The reason for the Workshop was a felt need for researchers from disparate but related approaches to cognition emotion and motivation to communicate their perspectives and arguments to one another To take just one example the framework of information processing and the metaphor of mind as a computer has wrought a major revolution in psychological theories of cognition That framework has radically altered the way psychologists conceptualize perception memory language thought and action Those advances have formed the intellectual substrate for the cognitive science perspective on mental life

An Attributional Theory of Motivation and Emotion Bernard Weiner, 2012-12-06 For a long time I have had the gnawing desire to convey the broad motivational significance of the attributional conception that I have espoused and to present fully the argument that this framework has earned a rightful place alongside other leading theories of motivation Furthermore recent investigations have yielded insights into the attributional determinants of affect thus providing the impetus to embark upon a detailed discussion of emotion and to elucidate the relation between emotion and motivation from an attributional perspective The presentation of a unified theory of motivation and emotion is the goal of this book My more specific aims in the chapters to follow are to

- 1 Outline the basic principles that I believe characterize an adequate theory of motivation
- 2 Convey what I perceive to be the conceptual contributions of the perspective advocated by my colleagues and me
- 3 Summarize the empirical relations reach some definitive conclusions and point out the more equivocal empirical associations based on hypotheses derived from our particular attribution theory and
- 4 Clarify questions that have been raised about this conception and provide new material for still further scrutiny

In so doing the building blocks if any laid down by the attributional conception will be readily identified and unknown virtues of present and future peers can then better determine the value of this scientific product

Emotion and Motivation Brian Parkinson, Andrew M. Colman, 1995 Emotion and Motivation focuses on those areas of Psychology which deal with the transient mental feelings we call emotions and the psychological processes that initiate energise and direct behaviour known as motivation It covers topics such as the definition of emotion and its main components research into the theory of emotion emotion and cognition hunger and appetite social motivation and social facilitation sexual motivation behaviour and its function major theories of stress and the psychological effects of the three main stress inducing type of experience Motivation, Emotion, and Personality International Union of Psychological Science,1985 Psychology of Motivation Lois V. Brown,2007 In psychology motivation refers to the initiation direction intensity and persistence of behaviour Motivation is a temporal and dynamic state that should not be confused with personality or emotion Motivation is having the desire and willingness to do something A motivated person can be reaching for a long term goal such as becoming a professional writer or a more short term goal like learning how to spell a particular word Personality invariably refers to more or less permanent characteristics of an individual s state of being eg shy extrovert conscientious As opposed to motivation emotion refers to temporal states that do not immediately link to behaviour e g anger grief happiness This book presents that latest research in this field Emotions as Original Existences Demian Whiting,2020-09-25 This book defends the much disputed view that emotions are what Hume referred to as original existences feeling states that have no intentional or representational properties of their own In doing so the book serves as a valuable counterbalance to the now mainstream view that emotions are representational mental states Beginning with a defence of a feeling theory of emotion Whiting opens up a whole new way of thinking about the role and centrality of emotion in our lives showing how emotion is key to a proper understanding of human motivation and the self Whiting establishes that emotions as types of bodily feelings serve as the categorical bases for our behavioural dispositions including those associated with moral thought virtue and vice The book concludes by advancing the idea that emotions make up our intrinsic nature the characterisation of what we are like in and of ourselves when considered apart from how we are disposed to behave The conclusion additionally draws out the implications of the claims made throughout the book in relation to our understanding of mental illness and the treatment of emotional disorders Motivation and Emotion David C. Edwards,1998-07-23 I think David C Edwards does a very good job of covering the material The writing style is consistently clear direct and interesting Research findings are clearly presented and clearly explained Ronald R Ulm Salisbury State University How do culture and other people affect our eating habits Is love natural to humans Is anger always at the root of aggressive behaviors Aimed at unraveling the mysteries of human motivation and emotion author David C Edwards explores the evolutionary physiological social and cognitive factors that shape each motivational behavior from anger to sex to work and play Topically organized Edwards provides readers with the best of contemporary findings in each motivational behavior and summarizes how past research in the field contributed to current thought To facilitate the reader s comprehension of the material each chapter begins with a concise overview statement and ends with a personal summary Within the chapter the author highlights material of special importance and concludes major sections with a summary Each chapter ends with a set of questions that will help a student reader prepare for an exam Motivating Humans Martin E. Ford,1992-10-06 This volume provides a precise and comprehensive description of human motivation Drawing on psychology education and management Ford integrates classic and contemporary motivation theory into a unified framework Motivational Systems Theory from which he derives 17 principles for motivating people The book provides concrete examples throughout and includes a chapter on practical applications such as promoting social responsibility in young people increasing motivation for learning and school achievement increasing work productivity and job satisfaction and helping people lead emotionally healthy lives

Motivation and Emotion Phil Gorman,2004 Explores the relationship between the brain and our motivation to do things analysing psychological physiological and combined approaches Motivation and Emotion Denys DeCatanzaro,1998 This unique book provides a comprehensive study of emotion within a modern evolutionary perspective Motivation and emotion are presented within an integrated approach that assumes biological and psychological causes including evolution neuroscience endocrinology human development and culture Motivation and Emotion Presents a wealth of modern evidence integrating neuroscience and endocrinology into the study of motivation and emotion The book provides a variety of photographs of facial expressions showing emotions from people of diverse cultures as well as nonhuman primates It also discusses modern interactive explanations for specific behaviors rather than dull historical perspectives For example human affect is explained as a response to social events and stress resulting in psychophysiological consequences An essential reference for any professional in sociology or psychology Motivation and Emotion (PLE: Emotion) Phil

Evans,2014-11-20 Originally published in 1989 this title provided a wide ranging and up to date review of a traditional area of psychology It will be of great interest to all those who wish to discover what governs human behaviour and feeling in other words what makes people tick Phil Evans explores the influences that determine a range of behaviour from those with clear biological links such as eating sleeping and sexual activity to those specifically human concerns such as the need to achieve success or approval He also analyses the feelings and emotions that often guide behaviour He gives a detailed outline of various theoretical perspectives on what it is to be a human being whether a biological organism with biological needs a responder to environmental signals of pleasure or a cognitively aware agent continuously processing information regarding current circumstances His review of both cognitive and biosocial approaches conveys the liveliness of debate and argument within psychology at the time and demonstrates that an understanding of all views is necessary to illuminate fully the complex nature of human behaviour

Motivation and Emotion Paul Thomas Young,2011 Emotion, Motivation, and Self-Regulation Nathan C. and motivation: Insights from optogenetics and pharmacogenetics Anton Ilango, Mary Kay Lobo,2015-06-04 Application of optogenetic and pharmacogenetic tools to study the neural circuits underlying emotional valence feeding arousal and motivated behaviors has provided crucial insights into brain function Expression of light sensitive proteins into specific neurons and subsequent stimulation by light optogenetics to control neuronal activity or expression of designer receptors exclusively activated by designer drugs DREADD in specific neuronal populations with subsequent activation or suppression of neuronal activity by an otherwise inert ligand pharmacogenetics provides control over defined elements of neural circuits These novel tools have provided a more in depth understanding into several questions about brain function These include Regulation of sleep wake transition by the interaction of hypocretin neurons of lateral hypothalamus and noradrenergic neurons of the locus coeruleus Regulation of feeding by AGRP and POMC neurons in arcuate nucleus of the hypothalamus Place preference and positive reinforcement by activation of DA neuron of VTA Place aversion by activation of VTA GABA and lateral habenula neurons Opposing influences on reinforcement by activation of D1 and D2 expressing medium spiny neurons of dorsal striatum and nucleus accumbens The list still grows From cell type specific manipulations to signaling properties in the cell Dietz et al 2012 with unprecedented temporal resolution these tools revolutionize the exploration of pathways connectivity Recent years also witnessed the extension of applying these tools from studying emotional valence and motivated behavior to reactivation of memory c fos based genetic approaches allowed us to integrate light sensitive opsins or DREADD receptor into specific neurons that are activated by certain learning events for example fear Garner et al 2012 Liu et al 2012 In this Research Topic we welcome researchers to contribute original research articles review articles methods and commentary on topics utilizing optogenetic and pharmacogenetic tools to study the neural circuits underlying emotional valence motivation reinforcement and memory We believe the Research Topic will shine light on various questions we have about brain function by using novel optogenetic and pharmacogenetic tools and will hopefully inspire ongoing research to overcome the hurdles of using these tools to advance clinical applications

Motivation, Emotion, and Cognition David Yun Dai, Robert J. Sternberg, 2004-07-13 The central argument of this book is that cognition is not the whole story in understanding intellectual functioning and development To account for inter individual intra individual and developmental variability in actual intellectual performance it is necessary to treat cognition emotion and motivation as inextricably related Motivation Emotion and Cognition Integrative Perspectives on Intellectual Functioning and Development represents a new direction in theory and research on intellectual functioning and development portrays human intelligence as fundamentally constrained by biology and adaptive needs but modulated by social and cultural forces and encompasses and integrates a broad range of scientific findings and advances from cognitive and affective neurosciences to cultural psychology addressing fundamental issues of individual differences developmental variability and cross cultural differences with respect to intellectual functioning and development By presenting current knowledge regarding integrated understanding of intellectual functioning and development this volume promotes exchanges among researchers concerned with provoking new ideas for research and provides educators and other practitioners with a framework that will enrich understanding and guide practice
