The Work of Self-Representation Ivy Schweitzer, 2000-11-09 In The Work of Self Representation Ivy Schweitzer examines early American poetry through the critical lens of gender. Her concern is not the inclusion of female writers into the canon; rather, she analyzes how the metaphors of woman and feminine function in Puritan religious and literary discourse to represent both the otherness of spiritual experience and the ways in which race and class function to keep the other in marginalized positions. Schweitzer argues that gender was for seventeenth-century New England and still is today a basic and most politically charged metaphor for the differences that shape identity and determine cultural position. To glimpse the struggle between gender ideology and experience, Schweitzer provides close readings of the poetry of four New Englanders writing between the Great Migration and the first wave of the Great Awakening: John Fiske, Edward Taylor, Anne Bradstreet, and Roger Williams. Schweitzer focuses exclusively on lyric poetry; she says because a first-person speaker wrestling with the intricacies of individual consciousness provides fruitful ground for exploring the politics of voice and identity and especially problems of authority, intertextuality, and positionality. Fiske and Taylor define the orthodox tradition, and Bradstreet and Williams in different ways challenge it. Her treatment of the familiar poetry of Bradstreet and Taylor is solidly grounded in historical and literary scholarship yet suggestive of the new insights gained from a gender analysis, while discussions of Fiske and Williams bring their little-known lyric work to light. Taken together, these poets' texts illustrate the cultural construction of a troubled masculinity and an idealized effaced femininity implicit in the Puritan notion of redeemed subjectivity and constitute a profoundly disturbing and resilient part of our Puritan legacy.

Walking Wisely Robert B. Callahan Sr., 2013-01-16 The Apostle Paul leaves no stone unturned as he continues developing a pathway for each of us built upon the foundation of the Triune God. He has carefully and prayerfully utilized the words in this magnificent letter to clearly, concisely, and forcefully relate the truths revealed to him by the Lord Jesus Christ and the Holy Spirit. Paul, in this illuminating sixth chapter of Ephesians, weaves together enlightening commands and counsel that will enhance the lives of people walking with Jesus. He tells the believers what to do and what not to do in simple, straightforward language. He succinctly describes Christlike conduct before expounding upon the lifestyles of those who will have no inheritance in the Kingdom of God and Christ. These tough words make one stop and think: At least they should. The Apostle continues walking with Jesus by urging Christ's followers to walk wisely, and Christ shall give thee light. See then that ye walk circumspectly, not as fools but as wise. After building this part of God's pathway, Paul focuses our attention on the two most important relationships in one's life: i) marriage and ii) Christ and His church. The truths presented by the Apostle provide Christ's companions as they walk together with an increasing faith, plus joy, knowledge, love, strength, and wisdom. May we ask for nothing more, nothing less, and nothing else.
