The Flowering of a Waratah Mervyn J. Eadie, 2000 Commencing with European settlement in Australia and the medical practitioners of that time The Flowering of a Waratah traces the development of neurology in Australia from its dependence on medical advances in Britain Europe and North America to the present day where the high standards of clinical neurology and research are acknowledged internationally The history not only expands on some of the personalities who have contributed to the present high international standing enjoyed by Australian neurology and some of the reasons for this reputation including the Australian Association of Neurologists itself but it also contains the records of membership and financial accounts and of papers presented to early scientific meetings of the Association The Flowering of a Waratah is a superbly detailed account of the history of neurology in Australia which will enrich the professional lives of future generations of Australian neurologists with a sense of being as they and the Australian Association of Neurologists continue to flourish representative Australians The volume is still in the shadow of World War II with servicemen and women who enlisted young appearing but these influences are dimming and there are now increasing numbers of non white non male non privileged and non straight subjects The 680 individuals recorded in volume 19 of the ADB include Wiradjuri midwife and Ngunnawal Elder Violet Bulger Aboriginal rights activist poet playwright and artist Kevin Gilbert and Torres Strait Islander community leader and land rights campaigner Eddie Mabo HIV AIDS child activists Tony Lovegrove and Eve Van Grafhorst have entries as does conductor Stuart Challender the first Australian celebrity to go public about his HIV AIDS condition in 1991 The arts are as always well represented including writers Frank Hardy Mary Durack and Nene Gare actors Frank Thring and Leonard Teale and arts patron Ian Potter We are beginning to see the effects of the steep rise in postwar immigration flow through to the ADB Artist Joseph Stanislaw Ostoja Kotkowski was born in Poland Pilar Moreno de Otaegui co founded the Spanish Club of Sydney Chinese restaurateur and community leader Ming Poon Dick Low migrated to Victoria in 1953 Often we have a dearth of information about the domestic lives of our subjects politician Olive Zakharov however bravely disclosed at the Victorian launch of the federal government s campaign to Stop Violence Against Women in 1993 that she was a survivor of domestic violence in her second marriage Take a dip into the many fascinating lives of the Australian Dictionary of Biography

The Flowering of a Waratah Mervyn J. Eadie, 2024-10 In Australia clinical neurology emerged as a specialised area of medical practice a century ago in the aftermath of World War I Some twenty five years later the eight men then involved in neurological practice founded a professional association devoted to its further development That founding generation and most of their immediate successors are no longer living but from the beginning they created Australian neurology has developed progressively and its story and that of The Australian and New Zealand Association of Neurologists is now extended to the present day in this new edition of The Flowering of a Waratah Extensive history of neurology in Australia starting from 19th century the pre neurologist era Beautifully produced in a dust jacketed hardback edition featuring the waratah insigne of the ANZAN Foreword by Pamela McCombe past president ANZAN Detailed index and comprehensive listing of publications by ANZAN and its members The neurologists Stephen Casper, 2016-05-16 The neurologists describes how Victorian physicians located in a medical culture that privileged general knowledge over narrow specialism came to be transformed into the specialised physicians we now call neurologists Relying entirely upon hitherto unseen primary sources drawn from archives across Britain Europe and North America this book analyses the emergence of neurology in the context of the development of modern medicine in Britain The neurologists thus surveys the patterns of change and modernisation that influenced British medical culture throughout the nineteenth and twentieth centuries In so doing it ultimately seeks an account of how neurological knowledge acquired such an expansive view of human nature as to become concerned in the last decades of the twentieth century with the human sciences philosophy art and literature
