Isaacs Mark,2006-03-13 In 1904 1905 Max Weber published the sociological classic The Protestant Ethic and the Spirit of Capitalism In this book Weber argues that religion specifically ascetic Protestantism provided the essential social and cultural infrastructure that led to modern capitalism Weber s suggests that Protestantism has an affinity for capitalism Indeed something within Protestantism by accident or design creates the necessary

preconditions that lead to the flowering of a just free and prosperous society At the same time Weber wonders if the economic backwardness of certain societies and regions of the world are somehow related to their religious affiliation Weber's century old thesis challenges the erroneous core assumptions of many secular humanists postmoderns Roman Catholic traditionalists and Islamists In view of the threat of the War on Terror and in the face of the inadequate response of secularist and post modern intellectuals it is vital that we understand and appreciate the profound paradigm shift that occurred during the sixteenth and seventeenth century that led to the unfolding of modern capitalism Despite a plethora of critics Max Weber's one hundred year old thesis still stands Saint Francis of Assisi Illustrated Gilbert K

McAlpine,2013-05-22 How does one determine the readiness of any candidate for leadership in ministry Whether considering vocational ministry leadership or a position on a local board of elders or deacons without question knowledge and skills are essential But an individual's readiness for leadership and ministry cannot be assessed solely on the basis of academic transcripts or impressive statistics found in a pastor or lay leader's annual report. While embracing knowledge and skill as essential to effective leadership and ministry, the author demonstrates how these dimensions are inadequate unless rooted in that which is less quantifiable, namely heart readiness. But what does heart readiness entail or look like in the life of a leader in ministry? In a word that is grossly overused and profoundly misunderstood, love, and more specifically love for the right things in the right way for the right reasons. This book is intended for those being trained in the bible college or seminary classroom but also for lay leaders already engaged in virtually any ministry context as well. Readers are encouraged to consider and cultivate four essential loves: love for God's Word, for Christ's church, for one's neighbor, and for oneself. The Least of Chesterton, 2021-10-16 Francis of Assisi is after Mary of Nazareth the greatest saint in the Christian calendar and one of the most influential men in the whole of human history. By universal acclaim, this biography by G. K. Chesterton is considered the best appreciation of Francis's life, the one that gets to the heart of the matter. For Chesterton, Francis is a great paradoxical figure: a man who loved women but vowed himself to chastity; an artist who loved the pleasures of the natural world as few have, but vowed himself to the most austere poverty, stripping himself naked in the public square so all could see that he had renounced his worldly goods; a clown who stood on his head in order to see the world aright. Chesterton gives us Francis in his world, the riotously colorful world of the High Middle Ages, a world with more pageantry and romance than we have seen before or since.
