Zilia, an Inca Virgin of the Sun, is captured by the Spanish conquistadores and brutally separated from her lover Aza. She is rescued and taken to France by Derville, a nobleman who is soon captivated by her. One of the most popular novels of the eighteenth century, the Letters of a Peruvian Woman recounts Zilia's feelings on her separation from both her lover and her culture and her experience of a new and alien society. Françoise de Graffigny's bold and innovative novel clearly appealed to the contemporary taste for the exotic and the timeless appetite for love stories. But by fusing sentimental fiction and social commentary, she also created a new kind of heroine defined by her intellect as much as her feelings. The novel's controversial ending calls into question traditional assumptions about the role of women both in fiction and society and about what constitutes civilization. Encounters with the Other Martin Calder, 2003 Encounters with the Other brings together a range of eighteenth century texts in which the exploration of lingua incognita figures as a prominent topos Drawing mostly on a corpus of French texts but also including a number of works in English Martin Calder attempts to realign well known texts with more canonically marginalized works The originality of the perspectives offered by this book lies in the comparative reading of works not previously conjoined Encounters with otherness are marked by a transgression of the limits of language occurring when language becomes alien or unfamiliar Alterity may take various forms a foreign language a familiar language marked by the traits of foreignness something unrecognizable as language or even one's own language breaking down as in madness Unfamiliar language may be produced by a foreigner by a child who cannot yet speak in extreme cases by something unrecognizably human in all cases by an agency somehow marked by difference Narratives of encounters with otherness have written into them narratives of the discovery of the self Implicitly informed by the reading techniques associated with literary theory Encounters with the Other offers an insightful commentary on issues surrounding colonialism cultural difference gender and the importance of language to identity Martin Calder's work challenges certain Eurocentric notions and exposes the problematic links between Enlightenment rationality and colonial expansion This book is of interest both to undergraduate students and to academic researchers and to a more general readership concerned with understanding the relationship between Europe the West and a wider world

Lettres D'Une Péruvienne, Par Mme De Graffigny Françoise de Graffigny, 1797 The Emerging Female Citizen Theresa Ann Smith, 2006-05-15 Eighteenth century Spanish women were not idle bystanders during one of Europe's most dynamic eras As Theresa Ann Smith skillfully demonstrates in this lively and absorbing book Spanish intellectuals calling for Spain to modernize its political social and economic institutions brought the question of women's place to the forefront as did women themselves In explaining how both discourse and women's actions worked together to define women's roles in the nation The Emerging Female Citizen not only illustrates the rising visibility of women but also reveals the complex processes that led to women's relatively swift exit from most public institutions in the early 1800s As artists writers and reformers Spanish women took up pens joined academies and economic societies formed tertulias similar to French salons and became active in the burgeoning public discourse of Enlightenment In analyzing the meaning of women s presence in diverse centers of Enlightenment Smith offers a new interpretation of the dynamics among political discourse social action and gender ideologies

Gender and Voice in the French Novel, 1730-1782 Aurora Wolfgang,2017-03-02 Analyzing four best selling novels by both women and men written in the feminine voice this book traces how the creation of women centered salons and the emergence of a feminine poetic style engendered a new type of literature in eighteenth century France The author argues that writing in a female voice allowed writers of both sexes to break with classical notions of literature and style so that they could create a modern sensibility that appealed to a larger reading public and gave them scope to innovate with style and form Wolfgang brings to light how the female voice in literature came to embody the language of sociability but also allowed writers to explore the domain of inter subjectivity while creating new bonds between writers and the reading public Through examination of Marivaux s La Vie de Marianne Graffigny s Lettres d une Pruvienne Riccoboni s Lettres de Mistriss Fanni Butlerd and Laclos s Les Liaisons dangereuses she shows that in France this modern feminine sensibility turned the least prestigious of literary genres the novel into the most compelling and innovative literary form of the eighteenth century Emphasizing how the narratives analyzed here refashioned the French literary world through their linguistic innovation and expression of new forms of subjectivity this study claims an important role for feminine voice narratives in shaping the field of eighteenth century literature

The Books that Made the European Enlightenment Gary Kates,2022-08-11 In contrast to traditional Enlightenment studies that focus solely on authors and ideas Gary Kates employs a literary lens to offer a wholly original history of the period in Europe from 1699 to 1780 Each chapter is a biography of a book which tells the story of the text from its inception through to the revolutionary era with wider aspects of the Enlightenment era being revealed through the narrative of the book s publication and reception Here Kates joins new approaches to book history with more traditional intellectual history by treating authors publishers and readers in a balanced fashion throughout Using a unique database of 18th century editions representing 5 000 titles the book looks at the multifaceted significance of bestsellers from the time It analyses key works by Voltaire Adam Smith Madame de Graffigny Jean Jacques Rousseau and David Hume and champions the importance of a crucial innovation of the age the rise of the erudite blockbuster which for the first time in European history helped to popularize political theory among a large portion of the middling classes Kates also highlights how and why some of these books were read in the European colonies as well as incorporating the responses of both ordinary men and women as part of the reception histories that are so integral to the volume

Sensibility, Reading and Illustration Ann Lewis, 2017-12-02 Eighteenth century sensibility has always been controversial In fact the term itself refers to complex forms of physical and emotional responsiveness and Lewis's study investigates the fictional exploration of various key problems of sentimental response that were at the heart of eighteenth century moral epistemological and aesthetic debates These are analysed in conjunction with some of the actual often emotional responses that the term its fictions and images have provoked through time including an indispensable survey of the varying construction of sensibility as an object of study and the polemics subtending its definition The verbal evocation of the visual in the form of spectacles and signs was understood in the eighteenth century as having an especially powerful impact Lewis provides a new reading of the theme of sensibility by analysing the textual images in three best selling novels from the mid century Graffigny's Lettres d'une Peruvienne Marivaux's La Vie de Marianne and Rousseau's Julie The examination of a largely neglected corpus of illustrations understood as readings of each text provides striking new evidence of the complexity thematic richness and duplicity of these spectacles whose power to provoke different reactions is perhaps their most interesting characteristic

Reading Drama in Eighteenth-Century France Thomas Wynn, 2024-01-10 Reading Drama in Eighteenth Century France is the first book length study of how plays were read in eighteenth century France and relatedly of closet drama excessive plays that cannot be performed within the playhouse's confines and which thus appeal to the reader's imagination This period in France was characterized by the troumanie a craze that encompassed the page as well as the stage The book's first part surveys the historical context in which plays were read and offers a theoretical model for understanding this practice The eighteenth century closet was valued as a privileged site of reading Although scholars routinely present this room as a place of calm reflection Thomas Wynn develops a framework derived in part from queer theory to argue that it fosters passionate and disruptive pleasures that elude the coercive normativity of the playhouse To explore the multipositional experience of reading plays in this period Wynn turns to the journal Mercure de France whose extensive reviews help us to think about geographies of reading coercion and autonomy The second part examines how dramatists exploited the critical imaginative and formal potential of the reading experience It offers close analysis of several closet plays comedies depicting the dispute between Jesuits and Jansenists in the 1730s Hault's historical drama François II roi de France 1747 and erotic plays from the end of the period The study concludes with an account of Rétif de La Bretonne's Le Drame de la vie 1793 an extreme and arguably unsurpassed example of closet drama Ultimately this book shows closet drama is not failed theatre but rather an indisputable part of the lively passionate and combative theatrical culture of eighteenth century France Français 1re Françoise de Graffigny, Lettres d'une Péruvienne Lucille Arnaud,2025-04

The Sources of Secularism Anna Tomaszewska,Hasse Hämäläinen,2017-10-05
This book examines the importance of the Enlightenment for understanding the secular outlook of contemporary Western societies It shows the new ways of thinking about religion that emerged during the 17th and 18th centuries and have had a great impact on how we address problems related to religion in the public sphere today Based on the assumption that political concepts are rooted in historical realities this collection combines the perspective of political philosophy with the perspective of the history of ideas Does secularism imply that individuals are not free to manifest their beliefs in public Is secularization the same as rejecting faith in the absolute Can there be a universal rational core in every religion Does freedom of expression always go hand in hand with freedom of conscience Is secularism an invention of the predominantly Christian West which cannot be applied in other contexts specifically that of Muslim cultures Answers to these and related questions are sought not only in current theories and debates in political philosophy but also in the writings of Immanuel Kant Benedict Spinoza Thomas Hobbes Anthony Collins Adriaan Koerbagh Abb Claude Yvon Giovanni Paolo Marana and others
