Technophobia! Daniel Dinello, 2013-08-26 Techno heaven or techno hell If you believe many scientists working in the emerging fields of twenty-first century technology the future is blissfully bright Initially human bodies will be perfected through genetic manipulation and the fusion of human and machine later human beings will completely shed the shackles of pain disease and even death as human minds are downloaded into death-free robots whereby they can live forever in a heavenly posthuman existence In this techno-utopian future humanity will be saved by the godlike power of technology If you believe the authors of science fiction however posthuman evolution marks the beginning of the end of human freedom values and identity Our dark future will be dominated by mad scientists rampaging robots killer clones and uncontrollable viruses In this timely new book Daniel Dinello examines the dramatic conflict between the techno utopia promised by real world scientists and the techno dystopia predicted by science fiction Organized into chapters devoted to robotics bionics artificial intelligence virtual reality biotechnology nanotechnology and other significant scientific advancements this book summarizes the current state of each technology while presenting corresponding reactions in science fiction Dinello draws on a rich range of material including films television books and computer games and argues that science fiction functions as a valuable corrective to technological domination countering techno hype and reflecting the weaponized religiously rationalized profit fueled motives of such science By imaging a disastrous future of posthuman techno totalitarianism science fiction encourages us to construct ways to contain new technology and asks its audience perhaps the most important question of the twenty first century is technology out of control

Frankenstein's Daughters Jane L. Donawerth, 1997-04-01 Women Science fiction authors past and present are united by the problems they face in attempting to write in this genre an overwhelmingly male dominated field Science fiction has been defined by male centered scientific discourse that describes women as alien others rather than rational beings This perspective has defined the boundaries of science fiction resulting in women writers being excluded as equal participants in the genre Frankenstein s Daughters explores the different strategies women have used to negotiate the minefields of their chosen career they have created a unique utopian science formulated by and for women with women characters taking center stage and actively confronting oppressors This type of depiction is a radical departure from the condition where women are relegated to marginal roles within the narratives Donawerth takes a comprehensive look at the field and explores the works of authors such as Mary Shelley Marion Zimmer Bradley Ursula K Le Guin and Anne McCaffrey

Poetics of the Hive Cristopher Hollingsworth, 2005-04 Cris Hollingsworth's waggle dance after scouting the rangiest field of literature Virgil and Homer down to Milton and Swift on to Plath and Byatt leads you to where the nectar hides He wisely roams extracting an anthology of poetry prose psychology history most of all perception that tops the bee's knees Paul West author of The Secret Life of Words Hollingsworth's wide ranging exploration of the image of the hive is impressive Poetics of the Hive and its panoply of references cannot fail to enrich university classrooms especially those devoted to both the visual arts and literature Dore Ashton author of A Fable of Modern Art Cris Hollingsworth's Poetics of the Hive is complex even daring in argument I'm even more impressed by his skill at an increasingly rare critical art the educating of argument from careful often brilliant analytical reading of literary texts Thomas R Edwards executive editor of Raritan A Quarterly Review A study to delight the passionate reader Poetics of the Hive tells the story of the evolution of the insect metaphor from antiquity to the multicultural present An experiment in the evolutionary biology of artistic form Poetics of the Hive freshly examines classic works of literature offering a view of poetic creation that complicates our ideas of the past and its formative role in modern consciousness and world literature In the first part of this lyrical synthesis of rhetoric visual and postmodern theory and cognitive science Cristopher Hollingsworth reveals the structure behind his metaphor redefining it as an aesthetically and philosophically potent tableau that he calls the Hive He traces the Hive's evolution in epic poetry from

Homer to Milton which establishes antithetical but complementary images of angelic and demonic bees that Swift Mandeville and Keats use variously to debate classical versus emerging ideas of the individual's relationship to society But the Hive becomes fully psychologized Hollingsworth argues only when its use by Conrad and Wells to explore Europe's colonial imagination of the Other is transformed by Kafka and Sartre into competing symbols of the modern self's existential condition Cristopher Hollingsworth is an assistant professor of English at St John's University Staten Island This Sacred Life Norman Wirzba, 2021-10-14 In a time of climate change environmental degradation and social injustice the question of the value and purpose of human life has become urgent What are the grounds for hope in a wounded world This Sacred Life gives a deep philosophical and religious articulation of humanity's identity and vocation by rooting people in a symbiotic meshwork world that is saturated with sacred gifts The benefits of artificial intelligence and genetic enhancement notwithstanding Norman Wirzba shows how an account of humans as interdependent and vulnerable creatures orients people to be a creative healing presence in a world punctuated by wounds He argues that the commodification of places and creatures needs to be resisted so that all life can be cherished and celebrated Humanity's fundamental vocation is to bear witness to God's love for creaturely life and to commit to the construction of a hospitable and beautiful world

A. Shippey, 1992 Will novels and stories be relevant in the next millennium when the boundaries between illusion and reality and observer and observed may dissipate in a whirl of images signals and data This essay collection divines the prospects of fiction in the information age by examining cyberpunk literature A movement less than a decade old cyberpunk is driven by deep concerns about society ethics and new technology and has been defined as the literature of the first generation of science fiction writers actually to live in a science fiction world These essays were first presented at the 1989 annual J Lloyd Eaton Conference on Science Fiction and Fantasy Literature the field's most prestigious international gathering They address concerns common not only to cyberpunk and traditional science fiction scholars critics and writers but to their counterparts outside the genre as well Interdisciplinary in perspective the essays consider the origins of cyberpunk the appropriation of its conventions by the mass media the literature s paradoxical retrogressive iconoclastic nature cyberpunk s affinities to and deviations from both traditional science fiction and postmodernist literature the parameters and components of the cyberpunk canon and the movement s future course Some essays are theoretical but all are grounded in works familiar to serious science fiction readers Neuromancer Frontera Deserted Cities of the Heart Islands in the Net Great Sky River the Mirrorshades anthology and others cyberpunk TV and cinema like the Max Headroom programs Blade Runner and Tron and precursory literature including Frankenstein Le Roman de l avenir Ralph 124C 41 and A Clockwork Orange Useful for its views on a volatile science fiction subgenre Fiction 2000 is also valuable for what it tells us about the fate of mainstream literature
