Looking High and Low Brenda Jo Bright, Liza Bakewell, 2022-12-06 Can low riders rightfully be considered art Why are Chicano murals considered art while graffiti is considered vandalism What do Native American artisans think about the popular display of their ceremonial objects How do the middlebrow notions of Getty workers influence highbrow values at the J Paul Getty Trust Looking High and Low attempts to answer these questions and the broader question What is art by bringing together a collection of challenging essays on the meaning of art in cultural context and on the ways that our understandings of art have been influenced by social process and aesthetic values Arguing that art is constituted across cultural boundaries rather than merely inside them the contributors explore the relations between art cultural identity and the social languages of evaluation among artists art critics art institutions and their audiences in the Southwest and in Mexico The authors use anthropological methods in art communities to uncover compelling evidence of how marginalized populations make meaning for themselves how images of ethnicity function in commercial culture how Native populations must negotiate sentimental marketing and institutional appropriation of their art work and how elite populations use culture and ritual in ways that both reveal and obscure their power and status The authors make dramatic revelations concerning the construction and contestation of ideas of art as they circulate between groups where notions of what art should be are often at odds with each other This volume challenges conventional modes of analyzing art Its ethnographic explorations illuminate the importance of art as a cultural force while creating a greater awareness of the roles that scholars museum curators and critics play in the evaluation of art Contents Introduction Art Hierarchies Cultural Boundaries and Reflexive Analysis Brenda Jo Bright Bellas Artes and Artes Populares The Implications of Difference in the Mexico City Art World Liza Bakewell Space Power and Youth Culture Mexican American Graffiti and Chicano Murals in East Los Angeles 1972 1978 Marcos Sanchez Tranquilino Remappings Los Angeles Low Riders Brenda Jo Bright Marketing Maria The Tribal Artist in the Age of Mechanical Reproduction Barbara Babcock Aesthetics and Politics Zuni War God Repatriation and Kachina Representation Barbara Tedlock Middlebrow into Highbrow at the J Paul Getty Trust Los Angeles George E Marcus

Para Power Nick Juravich, 2024-12-10 Paraprofessional educators entered US schools amidst the struggles of the late 1960s Immersed in the crisis of care in public education paras improved systems of education and social welfare despite low pay and second rate status Understanding paras as key players in Black and Latino struggles for jobs and freedom Nick Juravich details how the first generation of paras in New York City transformed work in public schools and the relationships between schools and the communities they served Paraprofessional programs created hundreds of thousands of jobs in working class Black and Latino neighborhoods These programs became an important pipeline for the training of Black and Latino teachers in the 1970s and early 1980s while paras organizing helped drive the expansion and integration of public sector unions An engaging portrait of an invisible profession Para Power examines the lives and practices of the first generation of paraprofessional educators against the backdrop of struggles for justice equality and self determination Publication ,1994 Elements of Early Modern Physics J. L. Heilbron,2024-03-29 Elements of Early Modern Physics comprises the two long introductory chapters of J L Heilbron s monumental work Electricity in the 17th and 18th Centuries A Study of Early Modern Physics plus a concluding summary of the remaining chapters Heilbron opens with a presentation of the general principles of physical theory and a description of the institutional frameworks in which physics were cultivated in the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries He argues that the single most important contributor to physics in the seventeenth century was the Catholic Church In the first half of the eighteenth century Cartesian and Newtonian physicists disagreed over principles but thought in similar terms and cultivated the same sort of qualitative natural philosophy Work towards an exact physics which took on important dimensions after 1770 confounded the programs of both Heilbron shows that by attending too closely to the Copernican revolution and the confrontation of great philosophical systems historians have seriously misjudged the character of early modern science This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1982 The Art of Precolumbian Gold Jan Mitchell,1985
