Frans Hals, Life, Work, Restoration Norbert Middelkoop, 1989 Frans Hals Norbert Middelkoop, Anne van Grevenstein, Anne van Grevenstein-Kruse, 1989 Frans Hals Norbert E. Middelkoop, Anne Kruse, Rollin Cochrane, 1989

Frans Hals Walter A. Liedtke, 2011 This is a showcase of 11 major works by Frans Hals The author also discusses the formation of Hals s style and considers his work in the context of broader European trends Dutch Paintings in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Walter A. Liedtke, Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), 2007 Presents a catalog that surveys the Dutch paintings found in the Metropolitan Museum of Art Immortal Thoughts: Late Style in a Time of Plague Christopher Neve, 2023-05-16 A remarkable heartfelt beautifully written analysis of the late work of major artists which author Max Porter has called completely and utterly marvelous In 2020 as the spread of COVID 19 caused pandemonium worldwide a painter and writer returned to a childhood home to reflect upon the transcendence of nature and the work of the artists he most admires It seems to Christopher Neve that in their final works their late style that they have something remarkable in common This has more to do with intuition and memory than with rationality or reason Immortal Thoughts Late Style in a Time of Plague is an anthology of these reflections In this personal and moving account nineteen short essays on artists are interspersed with recollections of the cataclysmic global progress of the disease in poignant contrast to the beauty of the seasons in Neve s isolated house and garden From Paul C zanne and Michelangelo to Rembrandt and Gwen John Neve dwells on artists late ideas memories risks and places in the context of time and mortality As much art history as a discussion of great art in the context of the dance of death Neve also writes about Pierre Bonnard Giorgio Morandi Nicolas Poussin Chaim Soutine and many others Immortal Thoughts is a summary of a lifetime s contemplation of art Reading Renaissance Ethics Marshall Grossman, 2007-03-12 Bringing together eminent historicist and formalist critics this volume examines how Renaissance texts were read how they were put to use and why this matters for the study of Renaissance literature and for the future of literary studies Traces of Vermeer Jane Jelley, 2017-07-21 Johannes Vermeer s luminous paintings are loved and admired around the world yet we do not understand how they were made We see sunlit spaces the glimmer of satin silver and linen we see the softness of a hand on a lute string or letter We recognise the distilled impression of a moment of time and we feel it to be real We might hope for some answers from the experts but they are confounded too Even with the modern technology available they do not know why there is no evidence of any preliminary drawing why there are shifts in focus and why his pictures are unusually blurred Some wonder if he might possibly have used a camera obscura to capture what he saw before him The few traces Vermeer has left behind tell us little there are no letters or diaries and no reports of him at work Jane Jelley has taken a new path in this detective story A painter herself she has worked with the materials of his time the cochineal insect and lapis lazuli the sheep bones soot earth and rust She shows us how painters made their pictures layer by layer she investigates old secrets and hears travellers tales She explores how Vermeer could have used a lens in the creation of his masterpieces The clues were there all along After all this time now we can unlock the studio door and catch a glimpse of Vermeer inside painting light Like Father, Like Son?
