Franz Boas Reader The Shaping Of American Anthropology 1883 1911:

A Franz Boas Reader Franz Boas, 1989-03-15 The Shaping of American Anthropology is a book which is outstanding in many respects Stocking is probably the leading authority on Franz Boas he understands Boas's contributions to American anthropology as well as anthropology in general very well He is in a word the foremost historian of anthropology in the world today The reader is both a collection of Boas's papers and a solid 23 page introduction to giving the background and basic assumptions of Boasian anthropology David Schneider University of Chicago While Stocking has not attempted to present a person biography nevertheless Boas's personal characteristics emerge not only in his scholarly essays but perhaps more vividly in his personal correspondence Stocking is to be commended for collecting this material together in a most interesting and enjoyable reader Gustav Thaiss American Anthropologist A Franz Boas Reader Franz Boas, George W. Stocking, 1974 The Shaping of American Anthropology is a book which is outstanding in many respects Stocking is probably the leading authority on Franz Boas he understands Boas's contributions to American anthropology as well as anthropology in general very well He is in a word the foremost historian of anthropology in the world today The reader is both a collection of Boas's papers and a solid 23 page introduction to giving the background and basic assumptions of Boasian anthropology David Schneider University of Chicago While Stocking has not attempted to present a person biography nevertheless Boas's personal characteristics emerge not only in his scholarly essays but perhaps more vividly in his personal correspondence Stocking is to be commended for collecting this material together in a most interesting and enjoyable reader Gustav Thaiss American Anthropologist Shaping American Anthropology Stocking, 1974-07-11 The Shaping of American

Anthropology, 1883-1911 Franz Boas, 1974 An Analysis of Franz Boas's Race, Language and Culture Anna Seiferle-Valencia, 2017-07-05 Born in 1858 Franz Boas permanently changed the standards and practices of anthropology His 1940 work Race Language and Culture brings together a half century's worth of ground breaking scholarship in one volume

A Social History of Anthropology in the United States Thomas C. Patterson, 2020-05-12 In part due to the recent Yanomami controversy which has rocked anthropology to its very core there is renewed interest in the discipline's history and intellectual roots especially amongst anthropologists themselves The cutting edge of anthropological research today is a product of earlier questions and answers previous ambitions preoccupations and adventures stretching back one hundred years or more This book is the first comprehensive history of American anthropology Crucially Patterson relates the development of anthropology in the United States to wider historical currents in society American anthropologists over the years have worked through shifting social and economic conditions changes in institutional organization developing class structures world politics and conflicts both at home and abroad How has anthropology been linked to colonial commercial and territorial expansion in the States How have the changing forms of race power ethnic identity and politics shaped the questions anthropologists ask both past and present Anthropology as a discipline has always developed in a close relationship with other social sciences but this relationship has rarely been scrutinized This book details and explains the complex interplay of forces and conditions that have made anthropology in America what it is today Furthermore it explores how anthropologists themselves have contributed and propagated powerful images and ideas about the different cultures and societies that make up our world This book will be essential reading for anyone interested in understanding the roots and reasons behind American anthropology at the turn of the twenty first century Intellectual historians social scientists and anyone intrigued by the growth and development of institutional politics and practices should read this book The Collage Aesthetic in the Harlem Renaissance Rachel Farebrother,2016-12-05 Beginning with a subtle and persuasive analysis of the cultural context Farebrother examines collage in modernist and Harlem Renaissance figurative art and unearths the collage sensibility attendant in Franz Boas s anthropology This strategy makes explicit the formal choices of Harlem Renaissance writers by examining them in light of African American vernacular culture and early twentieth century discourses of anthropology cultural nationalism and international modernism At the same time attention to the politics of form in such texts as Toomer s Cane Locke s The New Negro and selected works by Hurston reveals that the production of analogies juxtapositions frictions and distinctions on the page has aesthetic historical and political implications Why did these African American writers adopt collage form during the Harlem Renaissance What did it allow them to articulate These are among the questions Farebrother poses as she strives for a middle ground between critics who view the Harlem Renaissance as a distinctive and necessarily subversive kind of modernism and those who foreground the cooperative nature of interracial creative work during the period A key feature of her project is her exploration of neglected connections between Euro American modernism and the Harlem Renaissance a journey she negotiates while never losing sight of the particularity of African American experience Ambitious and wide ranging Rachel Farebrother s book offers us a fresh lens through which to view this crucial moment in American culture

Encyclopedia of Nineteenth-century Thought Gregory Claeys,2005 Covering the period from 1789 to 1914 this work primarily deals with key figures and ideas in social and political thinking but entries also include science religion law art concepts of modernity the body and health thereby covering comprehensively the intellectual history of the period

Twentieth Century Forcible Child Transfers Ruth Amir,2018-11-27 The current surge of displaced and trafficked children child soldiers and child refugees rekindles the virtually dead letter of the Genocide Convention prohibition on transferring children of one group to another This book focuses on the gap between genocide as a legal term and genocidal forcible child transfer as a catastrophic experience that disrupts a group s continuity It probes the Genocide Convention s boundaries and draws attention to the diverse yet highly similar patterns of forcible child transfers cases such as colonial genocide in the US Canada and Australia Jewish Yemeni immigrants in Israel children of Republican parents during the Spanish Civil War and its aftermath and Operation Peter Pan in Cuba The analysis highlights the consequences of the under inclusive protection granted only to four groups Ruth Amir argues effectively for the need to add an Amending Protocol to the Genocide Convention to protect from forcible transfer to children of any identifiable group of persons perpetrated with the intent to destroy the group as such This proposed provision together with Communications and Rapid Inquiry Procedures will highlight the gravity of forcible child transfers and contribute to the prevention and punishment of genocide

The Dispersion Stéphane Dufoix, 2016-11-28 Winner of the 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title Award In The Dispersion St phane Dufoix skillfully traces how the word diaspora first coined in the third century BCE has over the past three decades developed into a contemporary concept often considered to be ideally suited to grasping the complexities of our current world Spanning two millennia from the Septuagint to the emergence of Zionism from early Christianity to the Moravians from slavery to the defence of the Black cause from its first scholarly uses to academic ubiquity from the early negative connotations of the term to its contemporary apotheosis St phane Dufoix explores the historical socio semantics of a word that perhaps paradoxically has entered the vernacular while remaining poorly understood

The Meaning of Race Kenan Malik, 1996-07-12 In The Meaning of Race Kenan Malik throws new light on the nature and origins of ideas of racial difference Arguing that the concept of race is a means through which Western society has come to understand the relationship between humanity society and nature the book re examines the relationship between Enlightenment thought and racial discourse clarifies the nature of scientific racism and presents a critique of postmodern theories of cultural difference

Companion to the History of Modern Science G N Cantor, G.N. Cantor, J.R.R. Christie, M.J.S. Hodge, R.C. Olby, 2020-10-07 The 67 chapters of this book describe and analyse the development of Western science from 1500 to the present day Divided into two major sections The Study of the History of Science and Selected Writings in the History of Science the volume describes the methods and problems of research in the field and then applies these techniques to a wide range of fields Areas covered include the Copernican Revolution Genetics Science and Imperialism the History of Anthropology Science and Religion Magic and Science The companion is an indispensable resource for students and professionals in History Philosophy Sociology and the Sciences as well as the History of Science It will also appeal to the general reader interested in an introduction to the subject

A History of Anthropological Theory Paul A. Erickson, Liam Donat Murphy, 2013-01-01 In the latest edition of their popular overview text Erickson and Murphy continue to provide a comprehensive affordable and accessible introduction to anthropological theory from antiquity to the present A new section on twenty first century anthropological theory has been added with more coverage given to postcolonialism non Western anthropology and public anthropology The book has also been redesigned to be more visually and pedagogically engaging Used on its own or paired with the companion volume Readings for a History of Anthropological Theory Fourth Edition this reader offers a flexible and highly useful resource for the undergraduate anthropology classroom For additional resources visit the Teaching Theory page at www.utpteachingculture.com

Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories Regna Darnell, Frederic W. Gleach, 2019-11-01 Histories of Anthropology Annual presents diverse perspectives on the discipline's history within a global context with a goal of increasing awareness and use of historical approaches in teaching learning and conducting anthropology The series includes critical comparative analytical and narrative studies involving all aspects and subfields of anthropology Volume 13 Disruptive Voices and the Singularity of Histories explores the interplay of identities and scholarship through the history of anthropology with a special section examining fieldwork predecessors and indigenous communities in Native North America Individual contributions explore the complexity of women's history indigenous history national traditions and oral histories to juxtapose what we understand of the past with its present continuities These contributions include Sharon Lindenburger's examination of Franz Boas and his navigation with Jewish identity Kathy M Closkey's documentation of Navajo weavers and their struggles with cultural identities and economic resources and demands and Mindy Morgan's use of the text of Ruth Underhill's Oodham study to capture the voices of three generations of women ethnographers Because this work bridges anthropology and history a richer and more varied view of the past emerges through the meticulous narratives of anthropologists and their unique fieldwork ultimately providing competing points of access to social dynamics This volume examines events at both macro and micro levels documenting the impact large scale historical events have had on particular individuals and challenging the uniqueness of a single interpretation of the same facts Anthropological Theory R. Jon McGee, Richard L.

Warms, 2024-10-02 Anthropological Theory: An Introductory History presents a selection of critical essays in anthropology from 1860 to the present day Classic authors such as Marx, Durkheim, Boas, Malinowski, and Douglas are joined by contemporary thinkers including Ortner, Boellstorff, and Simpson McGee and Warm's detailed introductions examine critical developments in theory introduce key people and discuss historical and personal influences on theorists In extensive footnotes the editors provide commentary that puts the writing in historical and cultural context defines unusual terms translates non-English phrases identifies references to other scholars and their works and offers paraphrases and summaries of complex passages The notes identify and provide background information on concepts important in the development of anthropology New to the Eighth Edition Anthropology, Decolonization, and Whiteness puts the anthropology of resistance in historical context explores the history of the anthropology of decolonization and whiteness and presents some recent controversies in anthropology Phenomenological Anthropology and The Anthropology of the Good broadens the focus of the previous anthropology of the good section to provide a more diverse overview of philosophical anthropology Revised introductions to every section in the book offer suggested readings for important works in each area beyond what's offered in the text New readings include works by Sherry Ortner, Michel Rolf Trouillot, Jason Throop, Audra Simpson, and Orisanmi Burton The Worlds of S. An-sky Gabriella Safran, Steven J. Zipperstein, 2006 The author of The Dybbuk Shloyme Zanol Rappoport known as An-sky 1863-1920 was a figure of immense versatility and also ambiguity in Russian and Jewish intellectual literary and political spheres Drawing together leading historians ethnographers literary scholars and others this

Elisabeth Reichel,2021-08 Writing Anthropologists Sounding Primitives re examines the poetry and scholarship of three of the foremost figures in the twentieth century history of U S American anthropology Edward Sapir Margaret Mead and Ruth Benedict While they are widely renowned for their contributions to Franz Boas s early twentieth century school of cultural relativism what is far less known is their shared interest in probing the representational potential of different media and forms of writing This dimension of their work is manifest in Sapir s critical writing on music and literature and Mead s groundbreaking work with photography and film Sapir Mead and Benedict together also wrote more than one thousand poems which in turn negotiate their own media status and rivalry with other forms of representation A Elisabeth Reichel presents the first sustained study of the published and unpublished poetry of Sapir Mead and Benedict charting this largely unexplored body of work and relevant selections of the writers scholarship In addition to its expansion of early twentieth century literary canons Writing Anthropologists Sounding Primitives contributes to current debates about the relations between different media sign systems and modes of sense perception in literature and other media Reichel offers a unique contribution to the history of anthropology by synthesizing and applying insights from the history of writing sound studies and intermediality studies to poetry and scholarship produced by noted early twentieth century U S American cultural anthropologists Access the OA edition here Surveying the Record Edward Carlos Carter,1999 Papers given at a conference on Scientific Exploration in North America to 1930 with topics including Cartography Oceanic Exploration Art Anthropology Lewis and Clark and the West This book adds much to our quest for knowledge of who and where we are by illuminating such themes as the role of maps and mapmaking in defining our national identity the origins of Western exploration the cultural clash found in the best selling account of a 19th century physician explorer with Arctic peoples the role of art in the service of science in bringing these newly discovered places and peoples into the Amer parlor and the impact of Mormon farming techniques on John Wesley Powell s famed 1878 Arid Region Report Black and white maps and illus The Archaeology of Ethnicity Siân Jones,2002-11-01 The question of ethnicity is highly controversial in contemporary archaeology Indigenous and nationalist claims to territory often rely on reconstructions of the past based on the traditional identification of cultures from archaeological remains Sian Jones responds to the need for a reassessment of the ways in which social groups are identified in the archaeological record with a comprehensive and critical synthesis of recent theories of ethnicity in the human sciences In doing so she argues for a fundamentally different view of ethnicity as a complex dynamic form of identification requiring radical changes in archaeological analysis and interpretation Captured Heritage Douglas Cole,2011-11-01 The heyday of anthropological collecting on the Northwest Coast took place between 1875 and the Great Depression The scramble for skulls and skeletons poles canoes baskets feast bowls and masks went on until it seemed that almost everything not nailed down or hidden was gone The period of most intense collecting on the coast coincided with the growth of anthropological museums which reflected the realization that time was running out and that civilization was pushing the indigenous people to the wall destroying their material culture and even extinguishing the native stock itself Douglas Cole examines the process of collecting in the context of the development of museums and anthropology The main North American museums with Northwest Coast collections the Smithsonian Institution the American Museum of Natural History Chicago s Field Museum of Natural History the Royal British Columbia Museum and the Canadian Museum of Civilization in Ottawa were intense rivals in the race against time For the new edition of Captured Heritage Douglas Cole has written a preface in which he outlines developments since the book s first publication in 1985 Since that time for example the Kwagiulth Museum and Cultural Center on Quadra Island and the U Mista Museum and Cultural Center at Alert Bay have been successful in having some of their artifacts repatriated
