Playhouses and Privilege Abigail A. Van Slyck, 2025-02-11 Examining playhouses of the super rich to understand how architecture contributed to the construction of elite identity and modern childhood Playhouses and Privilege explores children's playhouses built on British and American estates between the 1850s and the mid 1930s Different from the prefabricated buildings that later populated suburban backyards these playhouses were often fully functional cottages designed by well known architects for British royalty American industrialists and Hollywood stars As Abigail A Van Slyck shows these buildings were more than extravagant spaces to cultivate children's imaginations and fantasy lives Reviewing a rich archive that includes extant buildings site plans family photographs baby books and intimate household correspondence Van Slyck demonstrates that these structures were tools of social reproduction shaped by elite parents attitudes toward child rearing education and class privilege Recognizing playhouses as stages for the purposeful performance of upper class identity she illuminates their importance in influencing children to internalize gendered codes of conduct as they enacted rituals of hospitality and learned how to supervise servants From Queen Victoria and Prince Albert's Swiss Cottage built on their Osborne estate in 1853 to the children's cottage constructed on the grounds of Cornelius Vanderbilt's Newport mansion in 1886 and from the miniature bungalow commissioned in 1926 for the Dodge Brothers Motor Company heiress to the corporate sponsored glass block playhouse given to Shirley Temple in 1936 Van Slyck surveys a variety of playhouses and their milieus to trace the evolution of elite childhood and the broader social practices of wealth Playhouses and Privilege makes clear that far from being frivolous playhouses were carefully planned architectural manifestations of adult concerns integral to the reproduction of class privilege
