Fredy Neptune Les Murray, 1999-02-17 A novel in verse on the adventures of a German Australian sailor early this century eg The first I heard that the War had really come was a black faced officer with a target and a church on his cap directing sailors to rip our decks up for the coal below I turned out of my hammock to fight them and our bos un chucked me a shovel We re coaling that battlecruiser There The English are after her By an Australian writer Fredy Neptune Les A. Murray, 2007 Fredy Neptune is a verse novel a classic of Australian writing that has been praised around the world This stylish new edition contains a new afterword by Les Murray How Fredy and I wrote Fredy Neptune Fredy Neptune involves the journeys of a man born on the north coast of New South Wales a gentle curious man of enormous physical strength who loses his ability to feel His travels take him around the world through Hitler s Germany and cause him to witness some of the horrors of the twentieth century The persistence of Fredy s decency is among other things a celebration of much that Les Murray associates with Australia This is one of the key works by Australia s greatest poet Explorations and

Extrapolations Alexander Brock, Uwe K  chler, 2011 This volume continues the tradition in the series Hallenser Studien zur Anglistik und Amerikanistik of representing the full thematic diversity of research in English and American studies The articles mainly written by young researchers in their postgraduate or postdoctoral phases span the areas of English and American literature culture studies and linguistics as well as the teaching of English as a foreign language Fachdidaktik At the same time they represent various theoretical approaches adopted by young German researchers and the interplay of theoretical and applied issues The Poetry of Les Murray Laurie Hergenhan, Bruce Clunies Ross, 2001 Les Murray is acknowledged as Australia s leading poet the one with the most substantial world recognition Yet the criticism on his work has until now been commensurate with this reputation both in bulk and quality This ground breaking collection of essays ranges across Murray s considerable output examining its lyrical qualities and its remarkable linguistic inventiveness its landscapes and soundscapes its biographical qualities its underlying poetics and world view from the mid length poems to the culminating verse Fredy Neptune Impressive in their depth as well as their coverage these original essays reveal the riches of the poetry Contributors include outstanding Murray scholars new and well known from overseas as well as Australia Those interested in Australian and world poetry teachers students general readers and historians will find this volume an indispensable companion The Planetary Clock Paul Giles, 2021-02-11 The theme of The Planetary Clock is the representation of time in postmodern culture and the way temporality as a global phenomenon manifests itself differently across an antipodean axis To trace postmodernism in an expansive spatial and temporal arc from its formal experimentation in the 1960s to environmental concerns in the twenty first century is to describe a richer and more complex version of this cultural phenomenon Exploring different scales of time from a Southern Hemisphere perspective with a special emphasis on issues of Indigeneity and the Anthropocene The Planetary Clock offers a wide ranging revisionist account of postmodernism reinterpreting literature film music and visual art of the post 1960 period within a planetary framework By bringing the culture of Australia and New Zealand into dialogue with other Western narratives it suggests how an antipodean impulse involving the transposition of the world into different spatial and temporal dimensions has long been an integral if generally occluded aspect of postmodernism Taking its title from a Florentine clock designed in 1510 to measure worldly time alongside the rotation of the planets The Planetary Clock ranges across well known American postmodernists John Barth Toni Morrison to more recent science fiction writers Octavia Butler Richard Powers while bringing the US tradition into juxtaposition with both its English Philip Larkin Ian McEwan and Australian Les Murray Alexis Wright counterparts By aligning cultural postmodernism with music Messiaen Ligeti Birtwistle the visual arts Hockney Blackman Fiona Hall and cinema Rohmer Haneke Tarantino this volume enlarges our understanding of global postmodernism for the twenty first century

The Novel Michael Schmidt, 2014-05-12 With contributions from Great Britain Ireland America Canada Australia India and Southern Africa influenced by great novelists working in other languages and encompassing a range of genres the story of the novel in English unfolds like a richly varied landscape that invites exploration rather than a linear journey

Ambition and Anxiety Line Henriksen, 2006 This comparative study investigates the epic lineage that can be traced back from Derek Walcott's Omeros and Ezra Pound's Cantos through Dante's Divina Commedia to the epic poems of Virgil and Homer and identifies and discusses in detail a number of recurrent key topoi A fresh definition of the concept of genre is worked out and presented based on readings of Homer The study reads Pound's and Walcott's poetics in the light of Roman Jakobson's notions of metonymy and metaphor placing their long poems at the respective opposite ends of their language poles Although there has already been an intermittent critical focus on the classical and Dantean antecedents of Walcott's poetry the present study is the first to bring together the whole range of epic intertextualities underlying Omeros and the first to read this Caribbean masterpiece in the context of Pound's achievement Book Jacket

Genocide Perspectives VI Nikki Marczak, Kirril Shields, 2020-12-21 Genocide Perspectives VI grapples with two core themes the personal toll of genocide and processes that facilitate the crime From political choices governments and leaders make through to denialism and impunity the crime of genocide recurs again and again across the globe At what cost to individuals and communities What might the legacy of this criminality be This collection of essays examines the personal sacrifice genocide takes from those who live through the trauma and the generations that follow Contributors speak to the way visual art and literature attempt to represent genocide hoping to make sense of problematic histories while also offering a means of reflection after years of slow violence or silenced memories Some authors generously allow us into their own histories or contemplate how they may have experienced genocide had they been born in another time or place What facets contribute to the processes that lead to or enable the crime of genocide This collection explores those processes through a variety of case studies and lenses How do nurses whose role is inherently linked to care and compassion become mass killers How do restrictions on religious freedom play a role in advancing genocidal policies and why do perpetrators of genocide often target religious leaders Why is it so important for Australia and other nations with histories of colonial genocide to acknowledge their past Among the essays published in this volume we have the privilege and the sorrow of publishing the very last essay Professor Colin Tatz wrote before his passing in 2019 His contribution reveals yet again the enormous influence of both his research and his original ideas on genocide He reflects on continuing legacies for Indigenous Australian communities with whom he worked for many decades and adds nuance to contemporary understanding of the Armenian Genocide and the Holocaust two other cases to which he was deeply committed
