Free To Stay At Home A Womans Alternative:

God's Daughters R. Marie Griffith, 1997-10-08 In recent decades religious conservatives and secular liberals have battled over the appropriate role of women in society In this absorbing exploration of Women s Aglow Fellowship the largest women s evangelical organization in the world R Marie Griffith challenges the simple generalizations often made about charismatic or spirit filled Christian women and uncovers important connections between Aglow members and the feminists to whom they so often seem opposed Women s Aglow is an international interdenominational group of spirit filled women who meet outside the formal church structure for healing prayer worship and testimony Aglow represents a wider evangelical culture that has gained recent media attention as women inspired by the Christian men s group Promise Keepers have initiated parallel groups such as Praise Keepers and Promise Reapers These groups are generally newcomers to an institutional landscape that Aglow has occupied for thirty years but their beliefs and commitments are very similar to Aglow s While historians have examined earlier women s prayer groups they ve tended to ignore these modern day evangelical groups because of their assumed connection to the religious right God s Daughters reveals a devotional world in which oral and written testimonies recount the afflictions of human life and the means for seeking relief and divine assistance A relationship with God envisioned as father husband or lover and friend is a way to come to terms with pain dysfunctional family relationships and a desire for intimacy Griffith s book is also valuable in showing the complex role that women play within Pentecostalism a movement that has become one of the most important in twentieth century world religions

Maintaining Our Differences Carol D.H. Harvey, 2017-07-05 This title was first published in 2001 Employing detailed international research and focusing particularly upon family life this volume examines the background current position and key features of minority communities living within multi cultural societies New Covenant ,1982 Live Learn Lead to Make a Difference Don Soderquist, 1982 In his passionate and intentional manner Soderquist uses valuable strategies to help direct readers to become better leaders with values of integrity and ethics to learn how to make a difference with those around them in the workplace and in other areas of their lives Woman's Suffrage ,1918 Subject Catalog, 1982 Library of Congress, 1982 Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1982 Woman's World ,1928 The Economic Sociology of Immigration Alejandro Portes, 1995-06-22 Portes suggests that immigration constitutes an especially appropriate Mertonian strategic research site for economic sociology in that it provides very good opportunities for investigating the embeddedness of economic relationships in social situations the contributors expand the conventional domain of economic sociology quite literally in both time and space Contemporary Sociology Alejandro Portes and his splendid band of collaborators make clear that the causes processes and consequences of migration vary dramatically from group to group that a group s history makes a profound difference to its fate in the American economy They have produced a sinewy book a book worth arguing with Charles Tilly Columbia University The Economic Sociology of Immigration forges a dynamic link between the theoretical innovations of economic sociology with the latest empirical findings from immigration research an area of critical concern as the problems of ethnic poverty and inequality become increasingly profound Alejandro Portes lucid overview of sociological approaches to economic phenomena provides the framework for six thoughtful wide ranging investigations into ethnic and immigrant labor networks and social resources entrepreneurship and cultural assimilation Mark Granovetter illustrates how small businesses built on the bonds of ethnicity and kinship can under certain conditions flourish remarkably well Bryan R Roberts demonstrates how immigrant groups expectations of the duration of their stay influence their propensity toward entrepreneurship Ivan Light and Carolyn Rosenstein chart how specific metropolitan environments have stimulated or impeded entrepreneurial ventures in five ethnic populations Saskia Sassen provides a revealing analysis of the unexpectedly flexible and vital labor market networks maintained between immigrants and their native countries while M Patricia Fernandez Kelly looks specifically at the black inner city to examine how insular cultural values hinder the acquisition of skills and jobs outside the neighborhood Alejandro Portes also depicts the difference between the attitudes of American born youths and those of recent immigrants and its effect on the economic success of immigrant children

Special Subcommittee on Education,1975 Women in 'New Nepal' Seika Sato,2023-03-23 This book brings rarely voiced lives and experiences of women in Nepal to light and combines rich ethnography with discourse analysis Multifaceted and critical the volume situates its narrative in the profoundly transformative period after the turn of the century when New Nepal was rising on the horizon and sheds light on Nepali women s experiences in multiple sites crossing class and ethnic lines It is based on extensive fieldwork among women domestic workers construction workers street vendors women from the indigenous community of Hyolmo and others Mainly through an ethnographic approach the author explores Nepali women s experiences on the ground mostly situated in classed ethnic or other socio cultural peripheries in Nepali social landscape Through the unusually intimate narrative on these women from the global south who are still prone to be cast into a deeply colonial simplistic image of victimized women readers will get a nuanced perspective of the multidimensional diversity among these women as well as a sense of kinship with oneself The book will be invaluable for researchers and students of gender studies global south studies development studies cultural anthropology ethnography Nepal studies and feminist geography It will be of interest to anthropologists sociologists geographers policymakers and those with an interest in global gender issues The Woman's Journal ,1920 Fundamentalist Journal ,1983 Changing Minds Francesca Polletta,Edwin Amenta,2025-01-16 Social movements organized efforts by relatively powerless people to change society can result in legal and policy changes such as laws protecting same sex marriage and tax rebates for solar energy However movements also change people s beliefs values and everyday behavior Such changes may help bring about new policies or take place in the absence of new policy yet we still know little about when and why they occur In Changing Minds sociologists Francesca Polletta and Edwin Amenta ask why movements have sometimes had fast and far reaching cultural influence Polletta and Amenta examine the trajectories of U S social movements including the old age pension movements of the 1930s and 1940s the Black rights movement of the 1950s and 1960s the women s movement of the 1970s right wing movements in the 1980s and 1990s and the environmental movement up to the present to determine when why and how social movements change culture They find that influential movements are featured in the news but not only in the news Movement perspectives may appear also in opinion and commentary outlets on television talk shows and dramas in movies stand up comedy and viral memes Popular culture producers remake movement messages as they transmit them sometimes in ways that make those messages compelling For example while the news largely ignored feminists challenge to inequality in the home popular cultural outlets turned liberation into a resonant demand for women s right to self fulfillment outside the home and within it Widespread attention to the movement may lead people to change their minds individually But more substantial change is likely when companies schools and other organizations outside government strive to get out in front of a newly legitimate issue whether environmental sustainability or racial equity by adopting movement supportive norms and practices Eventually ideas associated with a movement may become a new common sense though not always the ideas that the movement intended Throughout Changing Minds Polletta and Amenta provide activists with strategies for getting their message heard and acted on They suggest how movement actors can get into the news as political players or experts rather than lawbreakers or zealots They show when it makes sense for activists to work with popular cultural producers and when they should create their own cultural outlets They explain why the routes to cultural influence have changed and why urging people to take one easy step to save the planet can do more harm than good Changing Minds is a fascinating exploration of why and how some social movements have caused profound shifts in society

Discrimination Against Women: July 1 and 31, 1970 United States. Congress. House. Committee on Education and Labor. Special Subcommittee on Education,1971

The Women's Liberation Movement in Russia Richard Stites,2021-07-13 Richard Stites views the struggle for liberation of Russian women in the context of both nineteenth century European feminism and twentieth century communism The central personalities their vigorous exchange of ideas the social and political events that marked the emerging ideal of emancipation all come to life in this absorbing and dramatic account The author s history begins with the feminist nihilist and populist impulses of the 1860s and 1870s and leads to the social mobilization campaigns of the early Soviet period
