in Process Thought S. Sia, 2012-12-06 One of the controversial issues which have recently come into prominence among philosophers and theologians is how one should understand the term I God It seems that despite the fact that a certain idea of God is assumed by not most people there is a degree of disagreement over the meaning many if of the term God is generally taken to refer to a supreme Being the Creator who is perfect and self existent holy personal and loving This understanding of God corresponds to what many have either been brought up to believe in or have come to accept as the meaning of this word Nevertheless theists appear to be defending a particular idea of God and to be accusing atheists of attacking another one which does not tie in with the theistic interpretation Cardinal Maximus IV for instance is quoted as saying The God the atheists don't believe in is a God I don't believe in either 2 On the other hand atheists have been challenging believers to explain clearly what they mean by God because these critics cannot see how that idea can have any acceptable meaning Furthermore theists themselves seem to be divided over the issue H P Owen in his book Concepts of Deity shows quite convincingly that there is a bewildering variety of concepts of God among theists One has only to ask around for confirmation of this observation     The Bloomsbury Encyclopedia of Philosophers in America John R. Shook, 2016-02-11 For scholars working on almost any aspect of American thought The Bloomsbury Encyclopedia to Philosophers in America presents an indispensable reference work Selecting over 700 figures from the Dictionary of Early American Philosophers and the Dictionary of Modern American Philosophers this condensed edition includes key contributors to philosophical thought From 1600 to the present day entries cover psychology pedagogy sociology anthropology education theology and political science before these disciplines came to be considered distinct from philosophy Clear and accessible each entry contains a short biography of the writer an exposition and analysis of his or her doctrines and ideas a bibliography of writings and suggestions for further reading Featuring a new preface by the editor and a comprehensive introduction The Bloomsbury Encyclopedia to Philosophers in America includes 30 new entries on twenty first century thinkers including Martha Nussbaum and Patricia Churchland With in depth overviews of Waldo Emerson Margaret Fuller Noah Porter Frederick Rauch Benjamin Franklin Thomas Paine and Thomas Jefferson this is an invaluable one stop research volume to understanding leading figures in American thought and the development of American intellectual history     Heirs and Ancestors John K. Shields, 2012-02-01 Process and Analysis brings together an unprecedented collection of the world s leading contemporary process and analytic philosophers to explore philosophical topics of common interest The contributors examine a wide variety of explicit and implicit commonalities and differences of approach to such central philosophical issues as the nature and status of events time space relations particulars and God This unique collection demonstrates that both traditions have important things to say to one another In fact a largely ignored conversation between the two traditions has been carried on since at least the days of Whitehead s influence on early Cambridge analytic philosophy This long awaited volume is an invaluable research tool for scholars and students alike working in the areas of analytic and process philosophy      American Journal of Theology & Philosophy ,1993

Process Thought and Roman Catholicism John Becker, Marc A. Pugliese, 2022-03-21 This collection of essays explores convergences and divergences between process thought and Roman Catholicism with the goal of identifying reasons for why process philosophy and theology has not had the same impact in Roman Catholic circles as in Protestantism and of constructively navigating avenues of promising engagement between Process thought and Roman Catholicism In creatively considering the Roman Catholic tradition from the vantage point of Process thought different theoretical perspectives are brought to bear on Catholic characteristics of historical theology fundamental theology systematic theology moral theology social justice and theology of religions While the contributors draw upon a broad range of resources from the disciplines of the physical and social sciences philosophy and ethics from a process perspective the primary methodology employed is theological reflection      Modern Christian Thought: The twentieth century James C. Livingston, Francis Schüssler Fiorenza, This widely acclaimed introduction to modern Christian thought formerly published by Prentice Hall provides full scholarly accounts of the major movements and thinkers theologians and philosophers in the Christian tradition since the eighteenth century Enlightenment together with solid historical background and critical assessments This second edition deals with the entire modern period in both Europe and America and is the first to include extensive treatment of modern Catholic thinkers Evangelical thought and Black and Womanist theology A Platonic Philosophy of Religion Daniel A. Dombrowski, 2012-02-01 A Platonic Philosophy of Religion challenges traditional views of Plato's religious thought arguing that these overstate the case for the veneration of Being as opposed to Becoming Daniel A Dombrowski explores how process or neoclassical perspectives on Plato's view of God have been mostly neglected impoverishing both our view of Plato and our view of what can be said in contemporary philosophy of religion on a Platonic basis Looking at the largely ignored later dialogues Dombrowski finds a dynamic theism in Plato and presents a new and very different Platonic philosophy of religion The work's interpretive framework derives from the application of process philosophy and discusses the continuation of Plato's thought in the works of Hartshorne and Whitehead Notebooks Schubert M. Ogden, 2018-11-06 As artists not uncommonly keep sketchbooks so thinkers often write notebooks Schubert Ogden is a thinker for whom writing notebooks has been an essential discipline throughout his long career of trying to think as a Christian systematic theologian By his own confession constantly writing down his thoughts so he could discover what he wanted to think has always been as necessary to learning how to think theologically as constantly reading in order to think fruitfully with the minds of others This volume is a selection from the indefinitely larger corpus of Ogden's notebooks now archived in the Drew University Library All arising from his thinking as a theologian the entries selected are addressed to some of the more fundamental and therefore mainly philosophical issues now facing anyone who would do Christian theology systematically While each entry stands on its own and may well be read discretely they together make up a single many sided argument for a distinctive way of doing theology today by resolutely pursuing a comparably distinctive way of doing metaphysics and ethics The Quest for Plausible Christian Discourse in a World of Pluralities Younhee Kim, 2008 This book critically examines David Tracy's well known methodology of fundamental theology namely his revisionist model as developed in his Blessed Rage for Order 1975 together with his methodological shifts through the 1980s 1990s and early 2000s It explores how successful he has been in constructing a methodology for the public theological discourse that he deems so necessary More particularly this book asks how serviceable this methodology is for articulating Christian discourse in an intelligible and public way in the contemporary context of religious plurality The Revelation of Nature Paul Matthews, 2017-07-05 This title was first published in 2001 The Revelation of Nature embraces pragmatism aesthetics and metaphysics in an effort to narrate a fundamental relationship between the contemporary world and the natural source and site for any world of meaning Beginning with an exploration of Heidegger's seminal insight into the way we exist that human existence must be understood in its everydayness Matthews links these ideas to Heidegger's interpretation of the development of Western history in terms of its grounding metaphysical determinations to do with truth reality and the nature of things Matthews concludes that our everyday lives are informed and shaped by intellectual precepts and normative modes of behaviour that promote the combination and enslavement of both nature and ourselves within a mass technological grid This book breaks new ground in theology without underpinning the analysis with a particular religious viewpoint

Whitehead at Harvard, 1924-1925 Brian G. Henning, 2019-11-27 In these newly commissioned essays leading Whitehead scholars ask a range of important questions about Whitehead's first year of philosophy lectures Do these lectures challenge or confirm previous understandings of Whitehead's published works What is revealed about the development of Whitehead's thought in the crucial period after London but before the publication of Science and the Modern World What should we make of concepts and terms that were introduced in these lectures but were never incorporated into subsequent publications Also included is the text of Whitehead's first lecture at Harvard recently gifted to the Critical Edition allowing for a clearer understanding of Whitehead's plans and goals for his first course of lectures in philosophy than has previously been possible
