Departed Family and Friends Ginnie Siena-Bivona, Mitchel Whittington, 2005. The power of being contacted by loved ones from beyond the grave is celebrated in these supernatural stories from around the world. In one story each time two sisters quarrel over their late mother's possessions the sound of phone ringing can be heard even when there is no phone around. In another a mother returns to her daughter in a dream to provide comfort and relief during trying times. The themes of contacting the living for one last goodbye runs throughout this collection offering consolation and closure to those who have lost loved ones.

The Haunted House Diary Louise Hart, 2005-11-08. Based on real events in a real haunted house. Haunted House Diary tells the story of two fathers, two daughters and their families. In an effort to understand his own daughter a developer reads a tattered diary found by his workmen in an old abandoned house. Seeking to learn if the diary is real the developer searches but cannot find the author. Seeing the parallels between the family in the diary and his own the developer begins to fear that what happened to the mysteriously missing diarist could happen to his own daughter unless he acts.
