The History of British Literature on Film, 1895-2015 Greg M. Colón Semenza, Bob Hasenfratz, Robert J. Hasenfratz, 2017-01-26 From The Death of Nancy Sykes 1897 to The Hobbit The Battle of the Five Armies 2014 and beyond cinematic adaptations of British literature participate in a complex and fascinating history The History of British Literature on Film 1895-2015 is the only comprehensive narration of cinema's 100 year old love affair with British literature Unlike previous studies of literature and film which tend to privilege particular authors such as Shakespeare and Jane Austen or particular texts such as Frankenstein or particular literary periods such as Medieval this volume considers the multiple functions of filmed British literature as a cinematic subject in its own right one reflecting the specific political and aesthetic priorities of different national and historical cinemas In what ways has the British literary canon authorized and influenced the history and aesthetics of film and in what ways has filmed British literature both affirmed and challenged the very idea of literary canonicity Seeking to answer these and other key questions this indispensable study shows how these adaptations emerged from and continue to shape the social artistic and commercial aspects of film history

Muslims in the Western Imagination Sophia Rose Arjana, 2015-01-02 A Choice 2015 Outstanding Academic Title Throughout history Muslim men have been depicted as monsters The portrayal of humans as monsters helps a society delineate who belongs and who or what is excluded Even when symbolic as in post 9 11 zombie films Muslim monsters still function to define Muslims as non human entities These are not depictions of Muslim men as malevolent human characters but rather as creatures that occupy the imagination non humans that exhibit their wickedness outwardly on the skin They populate medieval tales Renaissance paintings Shakespearean dramas Gothic horror novels and Hollywood films Through an exhaustive survey of medieval early modern and contemporary literature art and cinema Muslims in the Western Imagination examines the dehumanizing ways in which Muslim men have been constructed and represented as monsters and the impact such representations have on perceptions of Muslims today The study is the first to present a genealogy of these creatures from the demons and giants of the Middle Ages to the hunchbacks with filed teeth that are featured in the 2007 film 300 arguing that constructions of Muslim monsters constitute a recurring theme first formulated in medieval Christian thought Sophia Rose Arjana shows how Muslim monsters are often related to Jewish monsters and more broadly to Christian anti Semitism and anxieties surrounding African and other foreign bodies which involves both religious bigotry and fears surrounding bodily difference Arjana argues persuasively that these dehumanizing constructions are deeply embedded in Western consciousness existing today as internalized beliefs and practices that contribute to the culture of violence both rhetorical and physical against Muslims

McKee, 2014-04-03 This book explores the relationship among gender desire and narrative in 1940s woman's films which negotiate the terrain between public history and private experience The woman's film and other form of cinematic melodrama have often been understood as positioning themselves outside history and this book challenges and modifies that understanding contextualizing the films it considers against the backdrop of World War II In addition in paying tribute to and departing from earlier feminist formulations about gendered spectatorship in cinema McKee argues that such models emphasized a masculine centered gaze at the inadvertent expense of understanding other possible modes of identification and gender expression in classical narrative cinema She proposes ways of understanding gender and narrative based in part on literary narrative theory and ultimately works toward a notion of an androgynous spectatorship and mode of interpretation in the 1940s woman's film
