Haunted Screen:

The Haunted Screen Lee Kovacs, 1999 While ghosts often inhabit films and literature devoted to the horror genre a group of literature based films from the 1930s and 1940s presents more human and romantic apparitions These films provide the underpinnings for many of the gentle supernatural films of the 1990s Tracing the links between specters as diverse as Rex Harrison s Captain Gregg and Patrick Swazye s Sam Wheat the text presents the evolution of the cinematic literary ghost from classic Gothic to the psychological sociological and political ideologies of today Included are analyses of the literary and film versions of classic ghost stories Wuthering Heights The Ghost and Mrs Muir Portrait of Jennie Letter from an Unknown Woman The Uninvited Liliom and Our Town as well as interpretations of modern films not based on literary works that show the influence of these predecessors Ghost and Truly Madly Deeply The text includes stills a bibliography and an index

The Haunted Screen Lotte H. Eisner, 1969 Uncanny Histories in Film and Media Patrice Petro, 2022-06-17
Uncanny Histories in Film and Media probes the uncanny as a mode of historical analysis Whether writing about film movements individual works or the legacies of major or forgotten critics and theorists the contributors challenge our inherited narratives to reveal a disturbance of what was once familiar in the histories of our field Expressionist Film Dietrich Scheunemann, 2003 Beginning with a fundamentally new interpretation of Dr Caligari and with fresh views of other expressionist classics this book offers new perspectives on important alternative styles and genres that emerged in films by such eminent directors as Lubitsch Fritz Lang and E A Dupont Conrad Veidt on Screen John T. Soister, 2015-09-02
Conrad Veidt a native of Berlin began acting in small parts as an extra until called into service during World War I After his discharge he began a theater career that subsequently led to films and more than one turn as a director This work thoroughly details Veidt s film career It lists all movies that he was involved in and provides a synopsis cast and crew and reviews of each film There are many photographs a list of films that he is thought possibly to have been involved in and an extensive bibliography Film, Architecture and Spatial Imagination Renée Tobe, 2016-08-25 Films use architecture as visual shorthand to tell viewers everything they need to know about the characters in a short amount of time Illustrated by a diverse range of films from different eras and cultures this book investigates the reciprocity between film and architecture Using a phenomenological approach it describes how we the viewers can learn how to read architecture and design in film in order to see the many inherent messages Architecture s representational capacity contributes to the plausibility or reality possible in film The book provides an ontological understanding that clarifies and stabilizes the reciprocity of the actual world and a filmic world of illusion and human imagination thereby shedding light on both film and architecture

Nosferatu Cristina Massaccesi, 2016-02-23 Unravels the never ending fascination exercised by the film and provides a clear guide to the film s contexts cinematography and possible interpretations covering the political and social contexts

The Big Screen David Thomson, 2012-10-16 An engaging primer on film history examining the rise of movies their influence and the technology that conveys them New York Times Book Review The Big Screen tells the enthralling story of the movies and their signal role in modern life their rise and spread their remarkable influence over us and the technology that made the screen smaller now but ever more ubiquitous as important as the images it carries At first film was a waking dream the gift of appearance delivered for a nickel to huddled masses sitting in the dark But soon and abruptly movies began transforming our societies and our perceptions of the world The celebrated film authority David Thomson takes us around the globe through time and across many media moving from Eadweard Muybridge to Steve Jobs from Sunrise to I Love Lucy from John Wayne to George Clooney from television commercials to streaming video to tell the complex gripping paradoxical story of the movies Does the big screen take us out into the world or merely mesmerize us That is Thomson's question in this grand adventure of a book This passionate and provocative feat of storytelling is vital to anyone trying to make sense of the age of screens the age that more than ever we are living in Erudite and entertaining Lisa Schwarzbaum Entertainment Weekly Thomson has a deft conversational style across an amazing range of topics fresh and insightful Clint O Connor The Plain Dealer Cleveland For those who take their films seriously The Big Screen will have you both rethinking some mainstream ideas and reorganizing your Netflix queue Neal Justin Star Tribune Minneapolis Wax Museum Movies

George Higham, 2020-10-16 Spanning over a century of cinema and comprised of 127 films this book analyzes the cinematic incarnations of the uncanniest place on earth wax museums Nothing is as it seems at a wax museum It is a place of wonder horror and mystery Will the figures come to life at night or are they very much dead with corpses hidden beneath their waxen shells Is the genius hand that molded them secretly scarred by a terrible tragedy longing for revenge Or is it a sinner's sanctum harboring criminals with countless places to hide in plain sight This chronological analysis includes essential behind the scenes information in addition to authoritative research comparing the creation of real wax figures to the reel ones seen onscreen Publicly accessible or hidden away in a maniac's lair wax museums have provided the perfect settings for films of all genres to thrillingly play out on the big screen since the dawn of cinema The Haunted Screen Lotte H.

Eisner, 1969 Book on expressionism in German motion pictures Cinematography in the Weimar Republic Paul Matthew St. Pierre, 2016-08-15 In film history director cinematographer collaborations were on a labor spectrum with the model of the contracted camera operator in the silent era and that of the cinematographer in the sound era But in Weimar era German filmmaking 1919-33 a short period of intense artistic activity and political and economic instability these models existed side by side due to the emergence of camera operators as independent visual artists and collaborators with directors Berlin in the 1920s was the chief site of the interdisciplinary avant-garde of the Modernist movement in the visual literary architectural design typographical sartorial and performance arts in Europe The Weimar Revolution that arose in the aftermath of the November 1918 Armistice and that established the Weimar Republic informed and agitated all of the art movements such as Expressionism Dada the Bauhaus Minimalism Objectivism Verism and Neue Sachlichkeit New Objectivity Among the avant garde forms of these new stylistically and culturally negotiated arts the cinema was foremost and since its inception had been a radical experimental practice in new visual technologies that proved instrumental in changing how human beings perceived movement structure perspective light exposure temporal duration continuity spatial orientation human postural facial vocal and gestural displays and their own spectatorship as well as conventions of storytelling like narrative setting theme character and structure Whereas most of the arts mobilized into schools movements institutions and other structures cinema a collaborative art tended to organize around its ensembles of practitioners Historically the silent film era 1895 1927 is associated with auteurs the precursors of François Truffaut and other filmmakers in the 1960s actuality filmmakers and pioneers like R W Paul and Fred and Joe Evans in England Auguste and Louis Lumière and Georges Méliès in France and Charles Chaplin and Buster Keaton in America who by managing all the compositional executional and editorial facets of film production scripting directing acting photographing set costume and lighting design editing and marketing imposed their personal vision or authorship on the film The dichotomy of the auteur and the production ensemble established a production hierarchy in most filmmaking In formative German silent film however this hierarchy was less rank or class driven because collaborative partnerships took precedence over single authorship Whereas in silent film production in most countries the terms filmmaker and director were synonymous in German silent film the plural term Filmemacher:innen connoted both directors and cinematographers along with the rest of the filmmaking crew Thus German silent filmmakers principle contribution to the new medium and art of film was less the representational iconographies of Expressionist New Objective and Naturalist styles than the executional practice of co authorship and co production in distinctive cinematographer director partnerships such as those of cinematographer Theodor Sparkuhl and director Ernst Lubitsch Fritz Arno Wagner with F W Murnau Fritz Lang and G W Pabst Rudolf Mat with Carl Theodor Dreyer Guido Seeber with Lang and Pabst and Carl Hoffmann with Lang and Murnau

The History of German Literature on Film Christiane Schönfeld, 2023-06-15 A 2024 CHOICE OUTSTANDING ACADEMIC TITLE This book tells the story of German language literature on film beginning with pioneering motion picture adaptations of Faust in 1897 and early debates focused on high art as mass culture It explores analyzes and contextualizes the so called golden age of silent cinema in the 1920s the impact of sound on adaptation practices the abuse of literary heritage by Nazi filmmakers and traces the role of German language literature in exile and postwar films across ideological boundaries in divided Germany in New German Cinema and in remakes and movies for cinema as well as television and streaming services in the 21st century Having provided the narrative core to thousands of films since the late 19th century many of German cinema's most influential masterpieces were inspired by canonical texts popular plays and even children's literature Not being restricted to German adaptations however this book also traces the role of literature originally written in German in international film productions which sheds light on the interrelation between cinema and key historical events It outlines how processes of adaptation are shaped by global catastrophes and the emergence of nations by materialist conditions liberal economies and capitalist imperatives political agendas the mobility of individuals and sometimes by the desire to create reflective surfaces and perhaps even art Commercial cinema's adaptation practices have foregrounded economic interest but numerous filmmakers throughout cinema history have turned to German language literature not simply to entertain but as a creative contribution to the public sphere marking adaptation practice at least potentially as a form of active citizenship

Street with No Name Andrew Dickos, 2002-07-07 This history of film noir explores the legacy and aesthetic roots of American filmmakers including Orson Welles John Huston Otto Preminger and others Flourishing in the United States during the 1940s and 50s the bleak violent genre of filmmaking known as film noir reflected the attitudes of writers and auteur directors influenced by the events of the turbulent mid twentieth century Films such as Force of Evil Night and the City Double Indemnity Kiss Me Deadly and later on Chinatown and The Grifters are indelibly American Yet the sources of this genre were found in Germany and France and imported to Hollywood by emigr filmmakers Andrew Dickos's Street with No Name traces film noir back to its roots in German Expressionist cinema and the French cinema of the interwar years Dickos describes the development of film noir in America from 1941 through the 1970s covering notable directors such as Orson Welles Fritz Lang John Huston Nicholas Ray Robert Aldrich Samuel Fuller Otto Preminger Robert Siodmak Abraham Polonsky Jules Dassin Anthony Mann and others Dickos also charts the genre's influence on such celebrated postwar French filmmakers as Jean Pierre Melville Francois Truffaut and Jean Luc Godard Addressing the aesthetic cultural political and social concerns of its creators Street with No Name demonstrates how film noir generates a highly expressive raw and violent mood as it exposes the ambiguities of modern postwar society A Choice Outstanding Academic Title

Expressionism in the Cinema Brill Olaf Brill, 2016-02-19 One of the most visually striking traditions in cinema for too long Expressionism has been a neglected critical category of research in film history and aesthetics The fifteen essays in this anthology remedies this by revisiting key German films like The Cabinet of Dr Caligari 1920 and Nosferatu 1922 and also provide original critical research into more obscure titles like Nerven 1919 and The Phantom Carriage 1921 films that were produced in the silent and early sound era in countries ranging from France Sweden and Hungary to the United States and Mexico An innovative and wide ranging collection Expressionism in the Cinema re-canonizes the classical Expressionist aesthetic extending the critical and historical discussion beyond pre-existing scholarship into comparative and interdisciplinary areas of film research that reach across national boundaries

Recollecting Lotte Eisner Naomi DeCelles, 2022-11-08 Recollecting Lotte Eisner provides the first in depth examination of the remarkable transnational career of film journalist archivist and historian Lotte Eisner 1896-1983 From her early years as a film critic in interwar Berlin to her escape from prison in occupied France and from her role as chief curator at the Cinmath que fran aise to that as the mythic collective conscience of New German Cinema Eisner was a prolific writer and lecturer and a pivotal voice in early film and media studies Situated at the juncture of feminist media historiography and disciplinary intellectual history this groundbreaking book is based on extensive multilingual archival research and the excavation of a rich corpus of previously overlooked materials Introducing samples of Eisner's writing in translation this volume makes some of the most important contributions of a foundational scholar in the field of film studies accessible for the first time to an English language readership

Revisiting the "Nazi Occult" Monica Black, Eric Kurlander, 2015 New collection of essays promising to re-energize the debate on Nazism's occult roots and legacies and thus our understanding of German cultural and intellectual history over the past century

Rethinking Jewishness in Weimar Cinema Barbara Hales, Valerie Weinstein, 2020-11-01 The burgeoning film industry in the Weimar Republic was among other things a major site of German Jewish experience one that provided a sphere for Jewish outsiders to shape mainstream culture The chapters collected in this volume deploy new historical theoretical and methodological approaches to understanding the significant involvement of German Jews in Weimar cinema Reflecting upon different conceptions of Jewishness as religion ethnicity social role cultural code or text these studies offer a wide ranging exploration of an often overlooked aspect of German film history Traditions in World Cinema Linda Badley, R. Barton Palmer, Steven Jay Schneider, 2006 The core volume in the Traditions in World Cinema series this book brings together a colourful and wide ranging collection of world cinematic traditions national regional and global all of which are in need of introduction investigation and in some cases critical reassessment Topics include German expressionism Italian neorealism French New Wave British new wave Czech new wave Danish Dogma post Communist cinema Brazilian post Cinema Novo new Argentine cinema pre revolutionary African traditions Israeli persecution films new Iranian cinema Hindi film songs Chinese wenyi

The Films of Werner Herzog Timothy Corrigan, 2013-12-17 Given Herzog's own pronouncement that film is not the art of scholars but of illiterates it is not surprising that his work has aroused ambivalent and contradictory responses Visually and philosophically ambitious and at the same time provocatively eccentric Herzog's films have been greeted equally by extreme adulation and extreme condemnation Even as Herzog's rebellious images have gained him a reputation as a master of the German New Wave he has been attacked for indulging in a romantic naiveté and wilful self absorption To his hardest critics Herzog's films appear as little more than Hollywood fantasies disguised as high seriousness This book is an attempt to illuminate these contradictions It gathers essays that focus from a variety of angles on Herzog and his work The contributors move beyond the myths of Herzog to investigate the merits of his work and its place in film history A challenging range of films is covered from Fata Morgana and Aguirre the Wrath of God to more recent features such as Nosferatu and Where the Green Ants Dream offering the reader ways of understanding why whatever the controversies surrounding Herzog and his films he remains a major and popular international filmmaker Originally published in 1986

Facing the Pacific Jeffrey A. Geiger, 2007-04-30 The enduring popularity of Polynesia in western literature art and film attests to the pleasures that Pacific islands have over the centuries afforded the consuming gaze of the west connoting solitude release from cares and more recently self renewal away from urbanized modern life Facing the Pacific is the first study to offer a detailed look at the United States intense engagement with the myth of the South Seas just after the First World War when at home a popular vogue for all things Polynesian seemed to echo the expansion of U S imperialist activities abroad Jeffrey Geiger looks at a variety of texts that helped to invent a vision of Polynesia for U S audiences focusing on a group of writers and filmmakers whose mutual fascination with the South Pacific drew them together and would eventually drive some of them apart Key figures discussed in this volume are Frederick O Brien author of the bestseller White Shadows in the South Seas filmmaker Robert Flaherty and his wife Frances Hubbard Flaherty who collaborated on Moana director W S Van Dyke who worked with Robert Flaherty on MGM s adaptation of White Shadows and Expressionist director F W Murnau whose last film Tabu was co directed with Flaherty
