Harpoons to Harvest J. R. Carroll, 1989-01-01 Untold Stories Jan Critchett, 2013-04-04 I m your half brother and I m here to stay This is my home With these words Wilmot Abraham sought refuge with his white relations Wilmot was the best known Aboriginal in the Warrnambool district of Victoria a man who maintained the old way of life long after his people were dispossessed Local farmers spoke of him as the last of his tribe Few were aware that his father had been a white lad working as a boundary rider on the Western District frontier and only the Aboriginal community knew that Wilmot had barely escaped with his life from the violent seizure of his mother s people s country In Untold Stories Jan Critchett presents a series of moving Aboriginal biographies from the Western District of Victoria drawing both on the oral tradition of local Koori Elders and on official records Wilmot s is one of the many untold stories that appear here for the first time Untold Stories opens our eyes to a number of remarkable individuals who managed to make a life for themselves in the interstices of the society that had dispossessed them Their long running battle to maintain their culture and their connection to country in the face of a regime that seemed bent on denying their humanity is both humbling and inspiring Native-Born John Molony, 2013-05-24 The native born have walked constantly with me but only as shadows In libraries and manuscript rooms in the faded pages of newspapers and journals in the lectures of my colleagues or conversations with others they have been there but shyly and rarely did they speak for themselves Often I thought that they scarcely knew who they were and if they did whether they were allowed to know they were Australians and whether they were ever encouraged by those born elsewhere to think of themselves as Australians This beautifully written absorbing and thoughtful book tells the story of the first white Australians to be born in this land Born here before 1850 most were the children of convicts They had no access to land and no education and the free settlers generally treated them with contempt as second rate citizens John Molony was curious to discover how they thought of themselves what it meant to them to be Australian He draws fascinating links between their experience and attitudes and those of all children of immigrant parents up to the present day The Archaeology of Whaling in Southern Australia and New Zealand Susan Lawrence, Mark Staniforth, 1998 A Distant Field of Murder Jan Critchett, 1990 Impact of Europeans on Aborigines of Victorias Western District in the 1840s treatment of Aborigines by Europeans violent conflict killing of Aborigines Aboriginal women relationship to land population Charles Joseph La Trobe George Augustus Robinson Protector of Aborigines health conditions Who's who of Australian Writers, 1995 Harpoons to Harvest J.
