Harvard Guide To African American History:

The Harvard Guide to African-American History, 2001 The Harvard Guide to African-American History Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2001 This massive guide sponsored by the W E B Du Bois Institute for Afro American Research at Harvard University and compiled by renowned experts offers a compendium of information and interpretation on over 500 years of black experience in America African American Lives Henry Louis Gates Jr., Evelyn Brooks Higginbotham, 2004-04-29 African American Lives offers up to date authoritative biographies of some 600 noteworthy African Americans These 1 000 3 000 word biographies selected from over five thousand entries in the forthcoming eight volume African American National Biography illuminate African American history through the immediacy of individual experience From Esteban the earliest known African to set foot in North America in 1528 right up to the continuing careers of Venus and Serena Williams these stories of the renowned and the near forgotten give us a new view of American history Our past is revealed from personal perspectives that in turn inspire move entertain and even infuriate the reader Subjects include slaves and abolitionists writers politicians and business people musicians and dancers artists and athletes victims of injustice and the lawyers journalists and civil rights leaders who gave them a voice Their experiences and accomplishments combine to expose the complexity of race as an overriding issue in America s past and present African American Lives features frequent cross references among related entries over 300 illustrations and a general index supplemented by indexes organized by chronology occupation or area of renown and winners of particular honors such as the Spingarn Medal Nobel Prize and Pulitzer Prize Interpreting African American History and Culture at Museums and Historic Sites Max A. van Balgooy, 2014-12-24 In this landmark guide nearly two dozen essays by scholars educators and museum leaders suggest the next steps in the interpretation of African American history and culture from the colonial period to the twentieth century at history museums and historic sites This diverse anthology addresses both historical research and interpretive methodologies including investigating church and legal records using social media navigating sensitive or difficult topics preserving historic places engaging students and communities and strengthening connections between local and national history Case studies of exhibitions tours and school programs from around the country provide practical inspiration including photographs of projects and examples of exhibit label text Highlights include Amanda Seymour discusses the prevalence of false nostalgia at the homes of the first five presidents and offers practical solutions to create a more inclusive nuanced history Dr Bernard Powers reveals that African American church records are a rich but often overlooked source for developing a more complete portrayal of individuals and communities Dr David Young executive director of Cliveden uses his experience in reinterpreting this National Historic Landmark to identify four ways that people respond to a history that has been too often untold ignored or appropriated and how museums and historic sites can constructively respond Dr Matthew Pinsker explains that historic sites may be missing a huge opportunity in telling the story of freedom and emancipation by focusing on the underground railroad rather than its much bigger upper ground counterpart Martha Katz Hyman tackles the challenges of interpreting the material culture of both enslaved and free African Americans in the years before the Civil War by discussing the furnishing of period rooms Dr Benjamin Filene describes three micro public history projects that lead to new ways of understanding the past handling source limitations building partnerships and reaching audiences Andrea Jones shares her approach for engaging students through historical simulations based on the Fight for Your Rights school program at the Atlanta History Center A exhibit on African American Vietnam War veterans at the Heinz History Center not only linked local and international events but became an award winning model of civic engagement A collaboration between a university and museum that began as a local history project interpreting the Scottsboro Boys Trial as a website and brochure ended up changing Alabama law A list of national organizations and an extensive bibliography on the interpretation of African American history provide convenient gateways to additional resources

What is African American History? Pero Gaglo Dagbovie, 2015-06-04 Scholarship on African American history has changed dramatically since the publication of George Washington Williams pioneering A History of the Negro Race in America in 1882 Organized chronologically and thematically What is African American History offers a concise and compelling introduction to the field of African American history as well as the black historical enterprise past present and future Pero Gaglo Dagbovie discusses many of the discipline's important turning points subspecialties defining characteristics debates texts and scholars The author explores the growth and maturation of scholarship on African American history from late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries until the field achieved significant recognition from the mainstream U S historical profession in the 1970s Subsequent decades witnessed the emergence and development of key theoretical approaches controversies and dynamic areas of concentration in black history the vibrant field of black women's history the intriguing relationship between African American history and Black Studies and the imaginable future directions of African American history in the twenty first century What is African American History will be a practical introduction for all students of African American history and Black Studies

The African-American Experience in Nineteenth-Century Connecticut Theresa Vara-Dannen, 2014-03-06 The African American Experience in Nineteenth Century Connecticut examines and analyzes the African American experience in Connecticut as it was through primary sources Theresa Vara Dannen analyzes the language of real nineteenth century Americans expressing the complexity of their thoughts and feelings about the racial issues of their times in a small state with very small communities of people of color This book highlights the attitudes of ordinary people whose voices emerged sometimes heroically through their daily newspapers The meshing of these voices regarding their race related experiences provides a nuanced account of a long gone past but also gives us an understanding of twenty first century Connecticut which leads the nation in the educational and economic gap between urban and nonurban citizens and has one of the most segregated school systems and residential patterns in the nation

African American Vernacular English as a Literary Dialect

Sophia Huber, 2018-06-13 Knowledge about one's linguistic background especially when it is different from mainstream varieties provides a basis for identity and self. Ancestral values can be upheld, celebrated and rooted further in the consciousness of its speakers. In the case of African American Vernacular English (AAVE), the matter is not straightforward and ultimately the social implications its speakers still face today are unresolved. Through detailed analysis of the four building blocks: phonology, morphology, syntax and vocabulary, Sophia Huber tries to trace the development of AAVE as a literary dialect. By unearthing in what ways AAVE in its written form is different from the spoken variety, long established social stigmata and stereotypes which have been burned into the consciousness of the USA through a initially white dominated literary tradition will be exposed. Analysing fourteen novels and one short story featuring AAVE, it is the first linguistic study of this scope.

Issues in African American Music Portia Maultsby, Mellonee Burnim, 2016-10-26 Issues in African American Music: Power, Gender, Race, Representation is a collection of twenty-one essays by leading scholars surveying vital themes in the history of African American music. Bringing together the viewpoints of ethnomusicologists, historians and performers, these essays cover topics including the music industry, women and gender, and music as resistance, and explore the stories of music creators and their communities. Revised and expanded to reflect the latest scholarship, with six all-new essays, this book both complements the previously published volume African American Music: An Introduction and stands on its own. Each chapter features a discography of recommended listening for further study. From the antebellum period to the present and from classical music to hip hop, this wide-ranging volume provides a nuanced introduction for students and anyone seeking to understand the history, social context and cultural impact of African American music.

Black Families Harriette Pipes McAdoo, 2006-08-10 Following the success of its best-selling predecessors, the Fourth Edition of Harriette Pipes McAdoo's Black Families retains several now classic contributions while including updated versions of earlier chapters and many entirely new chapters. The goal through each revision of this core text has been to compile a book that focuses on positive dimensions of African American families. The book remains the most complete assessment of black families available in both depth and breadth of coverage. Cross-disciplinary in nature, the book boasts contributions from such fields as family studies, anthropology, education, psychology, social work and public policy. Directions for future research are suggested at the end of each chapter and references guide readers to more in-depth discussion of specific topics. Chapters are grouped into six parts covering history, theoretical conceptions, religion, child socialization, gender relations and public policy. New to This Edition: A new chapter 2 by the creator of the annual celebration of Kwanza, Maulana Karenga and Tiamoyo Karenga. A new chapter 16 by noted historian of Black women, Darlene Clark Hines. Two new chapters on religious dimensions by Harriette Pipes McAdoo, chapter 7 and by Pamela Martin, chapter 9. A new chapter 10 covering the topic of death is discussed by Latrese Adkins with emphasis on the role that funerals play with Black communities. A new chapter 17 on breast cancer prevention for women by Karen Williams adds to the coverage of gender relations. The latest demographic information on

Black families in a new chapter 11 written by Harriette Pipes McAdoo Jonathan Livingston updates John McAdoo's work on the socialization of men within families in a revised chapter 15 Robert Hill updates his earlier chapter on social welfare policies in a revised chapter 23 that examines the aftermath and impact of welfare reform enacted during the Clinton administration Black Families Fourth Edition will interest students scholars and practitioners in African American Families Black Families and related courses in fields of African American and ethnic studies human development and family studies sociology social work and education

African American Literature in Transition, 1930-1940: Volume 10 Eve Dunbar, Ayesha K. Hardison, 2022-04-07 The volume explores 1930s African American writing to examine Black life culture and politics to document the ways Black artists and everyday people managed the Great Depression's economic impact on the creative and the social Essays engage iconic figures such as Sterling Brown Langston Hughes Zora Neale Hurston Dorothy West and Richard Wright as well as understudied writers such as Arna Bontemps and Marita Bonner Henry Lee Moon and Roi Ottley This book demonstrates the significance of the New Deal's Works Progress Administration WPA the Communist Party of the United States CPUSA and Black literary circles in the absence of white patronage By featuring novels poetry short fiction and drama alongside guidebooks photographs and print culture African American Literature in Transition 1930-1940 provides evidence of the literary culture created by Black writers and readers during a period of economic precarity expanded activism for social justice and urgent internationalism

Writing History from the Margins Claire Parfait, Hélène Le Dantec-Lowry, Claire Bourhis-Mariotti, 2016-09-13 With contributions from leading American and European scholars this collection of original essays surveys the actors and the modes of writing history from the margins of society focusing specifically on African Americans Nearly 100 years after The Journal of Negro History was founded this book assesses the legacy of the African American historians mostly amateur historians initially who wrote the history of their community between the 1830s and World War II Subsequently the growth of the civil rights movement further changed historical paradigms and the place of African Americans and that of black writers in publishing and in the historical profession Through slavery and segregation self-educated and formally educated Blacks wrote works of history often in order to inscribe African Americans within the main historical narrative of the nation with a two-fold objective to make African Americans proud of their past and to enable them to fight against white prejudice Over the past decade historians have turned to the study of these pioneers but a number of issues remain to be considered This anthology will contribute to answering several key questions concerning who published these books and how were they distributed read and received Little has been written concerning what they reveal about the construction of professional history in the nineteenth century when examined in relation to other writings by Euro-Americans working in an academic setting or as independent researchers

Civil Rights Movement Jamie J. Wilson, 2013-01-24 This book gives readers a comprehensive introduction to the topic of the Civil Rights Movement arguably the most important political movement of the 20th century and provides a road map for future study and historical inquiry Civil Rights Movement provides a comprehensive reference guide to this momentous cultural evolution that starts in the 1930s By beginning the story of how African Americans have long attempted to improve their lives while facing severe legislative judicial and political constraints the author dispels the common misconception that black people only started their struggle to achieve equality in the mid 1950s The book discusses all of the major campaigns of the 1950s and 1960s within the deep southern states border states and northern urban areas thereby demonstrating that the African American struggle for equality was not solely in the South Synthesizing historical research historical research and providing an accessible historical narrative of one of the most fascinating and inspiring periods of United States history the book is appropriate for high school students and general readers Judicial victories significant to the movement and the shift in the portrayal of African Americans on television and in film are also addressed Literary

Research and the Era of American Nationalism and Romanticism Angela Courtney,2007-12-07 The early years of American nationhood beginning at the close of colonial rule and ending with the onset of the Civil War saw both a young country and its literature grow in confidence and develop an awareness of self identity Pride in the new nation was a primary characteristic of much literary output in the early years of the country whether in the form of fiction poetry drama essay travel writing or journal As the country grew and generations began to be born on the new land Romanticism took hold lauding not only the construct of the nation but also the natural power and potential of the country This era of American literary expression has left behind a rich legacy of traditionally canonized authors as well as material published in the growing periodical press that was of immediate importance to the population at the time Literary Research and the Era of American Nationalism and Romanticism Strategies and Sources examines the resources that deal with the literature produced in the approximately 70 years of antebellum American literature Covering all formats the volume discusses bibliographies indexes research guides archives special collections microform and digital primary text resources and how they are best utilized for a literary research project Suggestions are offered for best practices for research while exploring a wide selection of resources that run the gamut from classic standards of American literary bibliography through contemporary open access digital resources

Peace Be Still Matthew C. Whitaker,2014-01-01 A concise engaging and provocative history of African Americans since World War II Peace Be Still is also nothing less than an alternate history of the United States in the twentieth and twenty first centuries Organizing this history around culture politics and resistance Matthew C Whitaker takes us from World War II as a galvanizing force for African American activism and the modern civil rights movement to the culmination of generations of struggle in the election of Barack Obama From the promise of the post World War II era to the black power movement of the 1960s the economic and political struggles of the 1970s and the major ideological realignment of political culture during the 1980s 1990s and early 2000s this book chronicles a people fighting oppression while fashioning a dynamic culture of artistic and religious expression along with a program of educational and professional advancement A resurgence of rigid conservative right wing policies the politics of poverty racial profiling and police brutality are ongoing counterpoints to African Americans rising to political prominence and securing positions once denied them A history of African Americans for a new generation Peace Be Still demonstrates how dramatically African American history illuminates the promise conflicts contradictions hopes and victories that all Americans share Religion and American Culture David G. Hackett, 2003 First Published in 2003 Routledge is an imprint of Taylor Francis an informal company Atlas of Slavery and Civil Rights Nicholas J Santoro, 2006 Slavery came to North America via Virginia in the early 1600s It would be two hundred and sixty five years before the practice would finally come to an end It would take another one hundred years before the basic civil rights of those former slaves and their descendants were fully established in law During that time and thereafter it would be a matter of attitude and acceptance by the white race Of the years there were a number of pivotal events that shaped the issues and the responses to slavery and civil rights The Atlas presents a number of these events in an attempt to tell part of the history of the march for equality in America It also includes brief biographical sketches of the lives of many of the leading figures that led the fight This work deals with black Americans or blacks a term that has become synonymous with the Negro race itself their struggle out of slavery and their quest for acceptance and equal rights under the law The effects of slavery were all pervasive Without an understanding of and an appreciation for slavery segregation and the struggle for equal rights it is difficult if not impossible to understand the America of our history and to reach beyond where we are today to arrive at where we need to be Encyclopedia of African American Business Jessie Smith, 2017-11-27 This two volume set showcases the achievements of African American entrepreneurs and the various businesses that they founded developed or promote as well as the accomplishments of many African American leaders both those whose work is well known and other achievers who have been neglected in history Nearly everyone is familiar with New York City's Wall Street a financial center of the world but much fewer individuals know about the black Wall Streets in Durham and Tulsa where prominent examples of successful African American leaders emerged Encyclopedia of African American Business Updated and Revised Edition tells the fascinating story that is the history of African American business providing readers with an inspiring image of the economic power of black people throughout their existence in the United States It continues the historical account of developments in the African American business community and its leaders describing the period from 18th century America to the present day The book describes current business leaders opens a fuller and deeper insight into the topics chosen and includes numerous statistical tables within the text and in a separate section at the back of the book The encyclopedia is arranged under three broad headings Entry List Topical Entry List and African American Business Leaders by Occupation This arrangement introduces readers to the contents of the work and enables them to easily find information about specific individuals topics or occupations The book will appeal to students from high school through graduate school as well as researchers library directors business
