Austria Made in Hollywood Jacqueline Vansant, 2019 Considers over sixty Hollywood films set in Austria examining the film industry the influence of domestic factors on images of a foreign country and the persistence of clichés Maria von Trapp watching the final scene of The Sound of Music for the first time as her family escaped into Switzerland exclaimed Don't they know geography in Hollywood Salzburg does not border on Switzerland Hadshe thought about the beginning of the film which transports viewers to Salzburg Austria in the last Golden Days of the Thirties when the country was in fact suffering from extreme political and social unrest she might have asked Don't they know history either In The Sound of Music as well as in Hollywood's many other Austria films the projections on the screen resemble reflections in a funhouse mirror Elements of a real place with areal history inhabited by real people can be found in the fractured distortions which have both drawn from and contributed to the general public's perceptions of the country and its citizens Austria Made in Hollywood focuses on films set in an identifiable Austria examining them through the lenses of the historical contexts on both sides of the Atlantic and the prism of the ever changing domestic film industry The study chronicles the protean screen images of Austria and Austrians that set them apart both from European projections of Austria and from Hollywood incarnations of other European nations and nationals. It explores explicit and implicit cultural commentaries on domestic and foreign issues inserted in the Austrian stories while considering the many sometimes conflicting forces that shaped the films.

The Letters of Gertrude Stein and Carl Van Vechten, 1913-1946 Gertrude Stein, Carl Van Vechten, 1986-07-14 This monumental collection of correspondence between Gertrude Stein and critic, novelist and photographer Carl Van Vechten provides crucial insight into Stein's life, art and artistic milieu as well as Van Vechten's support of major cultural projects such as the Harlem Renaissance. From their first meeting in 1913, Stein and Van Vechten formed a unique and powerful relationship and Van Vechten worked vigorously to publish and promote Stein's work. Existing biographies of Stein, including her own autobiographical writings, omit a great deal about her experiences and thoughts. They lack the ordinary detail of what Stein called daily, everyday living: the immediate concerns, objects, people and places that were the grist for her writing. These letters not only vividly represent those details but also showcase Stein and Van Vechten's private selves as writers. Edward Burns's extensive annotations include detailed cross-referencing of source materials.

The National Forgotten League Dan Daly, 2012-10-01 The first fifty years of America's most popular spectator sport have been strangely neglected by historians claiming to tell the complete story of pro football. Well, here are the early stories that the complete story has left out. What about the awful secret carried around by Sid Luckman, the Bears Hall of Fame quarterback whose father was a mobster and a murderer? Or Steve Hamas who briefly played in the NFL then turned to boxing and beat Max Schmeling, conqueror of Joe Louis? Or the two one-armed players who suited up for

NFL teams in 1945 Or Steelers owner Art Rooney postponing a game in 1938 because of injuries These are just a few of the little known facts Dan Daly unearths in recounting the untold history of pro football in its first half century These decades were also full of ideas and experimentation such as the invention of the modern T formation that revolutionized offense unlimited player substitution and soccer style kicking as well as the emergence of televised pro football as prime time entertainment Relying on obscure sources original interviews old game films and statistical databases Daly s extensive research and engaging stories bring the NFL s formative years and pro football s folk roots to life
