A BYGONE SUMMER WONDERLAND LEENA G.S.,Authors Tree Publishing ,2021-02-18 Imagine a world where there was no internet no mobile phones tablets or any of the hi fi gadgets that kids today are used to Telephones Landline Transistors Tape Recorders were the most high end gadgets of those times and were considered luxury items found in only certain homes of middle class India So how did children spend their time especially their holidays Holidays were mostly spent travelling by train or bus to meet relatives friends or hosting them This book takes the reader on an enjoyable trip down the memory lane to the 1970 s and attempts to recreate the memorable summer holiday of a little girl with her family Growing up in a cosmopolitan city Madras Anju visits her hometown Trivandrum during her summer holidays which leaves an everlasting impact on her innocent mind forever It turns out to be a remarkable vacation of new experiences little adventures and lovely discoveries for Anju through her cousins family members and friends She experiences a new way of life amidst nature s bounty that becomes an unforgettable part of her growing up creating lifetime bonds The Bygone Boyfriend Alexandria Blaelock,2020-12-11 A single day can change a lifetime After fifteen years Jennifer Hughes is back in her home town on business It seemed big and busy then Now it seems very small Only the golden Summer sun remains the same The ghosts of past friends surround her but the only one she wonders about is Jason Spencer The boy who dumped her And then he turns up In the flesh She can t go back but does she have to move on without him Marmaduke Merry: A Tale of Naval Adventures in Bygone Days William Henry Giles Kingston,2020-09-28 I belong to the family of the Merrys of Leicestershire Our chief characteristic was well suited to our patronymic Merry by name and merry by nature was a common saying among us Indeed a more good natured laughing happy set of people it would be difficult to find Right jovial was the rattle of tongues and the cachinnation which went forward whenever we were assembled together either at breakfast or dinner or supper our father and mother setting us the example so that we began the day with a hearty laugh and finished it with a heartier Laugh and grow fat is an apothegm which all people cannot follow but our mother did in the most satisfactory manner Her skin was fair and most thoroughly comfortably filled out her hair was light and her contented spirit beamed out from a pair of large laughing blue eyes so that it was a pleasure to look at her as she sat at the head of the table serving out the viands to her hungry progeny Our sisters were very like her and came fairly under the denomination of jolly girls and thoroughly jolly they were none of them ever had a headache or a toothache or any other ache that I know of Our father was a good specimen of a thorough English country gentleman he was thorough in everything honest faced stout and hearty not over refined perhaps but yet gentle in all his thoughts and acts a hater of a lie and every thing dishonourable hospitable and generous to the utmost of his means a protector of the poor and helpless and a friend to all his neighbours Yes and I may say more both he and my mother were humble sincere Christians and made the law of the Bible their rule of life He told a good story and laughed at it himself and delighted to see our mother and us laugh at it also Had he been bred a lawyer and lived in London he would have been looked upon as a first rate wit but I am certain that he was much happier with the lot awarded to him He had a good estate his tenants paid their rents regularly and he had few or no cares to disturb his digestion or to keep him awake at night and I am very certain that he would far rather have had us to hear his jokes and laugh at them with him than all the wits London ever produced He delighted in joining in all our sports either of the field or flood and we always looked forward to certain amusement when he was able to accompany us He was our companion and friend we had no secrets from him why should we He was always our best adviser and if we got into scrapes which one or the other of us was not unfrequently doing we were very certain that no one could extricate us as well as he could I don't mean to say that he forgot the proverb Spare the rod spoil the child or that we were such pieces of perfection that we did not deserve punishment but we had sense enough to see that he punished us for our good he did it calmly never angrily and without any unnecessarily severe remark and we certainly did not love him the less for the sharpest flogging he ever gave us Directly afterwards he would meet the culprit in his usual frank hearty way and seem to forget all about the matter Baltimore's Bygone Department Stores Michael J. School Library Journal Famous Poems from Bygone Days Martin Gardner, 2013-02-20 Over 80 poems from the 19th and early 20th centuries including works about love and war ships and the sea farms and family life and death heaven and hell Wondrous Deeds of Bygone Days - Illustrated by Harry Theaker M. Dorothy Belgrave, 2013-04-16 Wondrous Deeds of Bygone Days Illustrated by Harry Theaker is written by M. Dorothy Belgrave and Hilda Hart. This book contains a beautiful collection of short stories and legends from England Ireland Wales and Scotland. Harry G. Theaker 1873-1954 was a British illustrator painter designer and decorator for pottery. Born in Wolstanton Staffordshire he was the son of George Theaker whom was headmaster of the School of Art in Burslem from 1869-94 and designer for pottery. Theaker was also best known as a successful illustrator particularly of children's books. His first known published works date from about 1911 and most of his further illustrations date from the 1920s and 1930s. These include works such as The Ingoldsby Legends Children's Stories from The Arabian Nights The Water Babies and Grimm's Fairy Tales. Theaker also made hand coloured plates from Sir John Tenniel's original illustrations to Alice in Wonderland and Alice Through the Looking Glass for editions published between 1911 and 1930. Bygone Eastbourne John Charles Wright, 1902 Bygone Cumberland and Westmorland Daniel Scott, 1899 Memories of a Bygone Age Prince Arfa, 2016-11-15 Set against the backdrop of Iran's struggle against the rising powers of Russia and Britain the memoirs of Mirza Riza Khan Arfa ed Dowleh otherwise known as Prince Arfa 1853-1902 are packed with picaresque adventures as the prince tells the story of his rise from humble provincial beginnings to the heights of the Iranian state. With this translation his incredible story is brought to life for the first time in English. Prince Arfa writes with arresting wit about the deadly intrigues of the Qajar court. Lamentingly but resolutely he chronicles the decline of Iran from a once great empire to an almost bankrupt lawless state in which social unrest is channelled and exploited by the clergy. He describes the complex interactions between Iran and Europe including an account of Naser od Din Shah's profligate visits to Britain and France the splendor and eccentricities of the doomed Tsar Nicholas II's court the Tsar's omen laden coronation and his own favor with the Tsarina who would grant him concessions on matters of vital importance to his country. The result is a memoir of extraordinary political intrigue. Tahoe Tales of Bygone Days and Memorable Pioneers Don Lane, 2004-11-24 The manuscript is a collection of short stories that were originally prepared as part of a radio program that began in the early 1980 s as a summer informational and educational program for Tahoe area residents and tourists Between 1982 and 1985 the author presented more than one hundred radio tales about Tahoe s history and the environment over Tahoe radio station KTHO AM 590 Lane returned to the radio airways in 1995 this time with radio station KOWL AM 1490 and has since broadcast more than two thousand tales Don Lane s Tales of Tahoe The manuscript is a distinctive mixture of stories about the events large and small that shaped and changed the region and simple stories about the people that once lived in our region during the past 150 years Stories about pioneer men and women gold seekers and adventurers Tales about the unique characters the famous like the Donner s Mark Twain John Sutter and James Marshall and John Fremont along with the powerful and the forgotten The manuscript weaves serious history with light hearted tales with a minimum of editorializing as the emphasis has been on maintaining historical integrity and authenticity The stories gathered from old journals archives and historical records are both entertaining and educational And hopefully too this manuscript will contribute to an increased awareness of our regional history and a greater appreciation for those people that have been lost inside the pages of history
