Have You Anything To Declare A Note:

My Circular Notes John Francis Campbell,1876 Hesperothen. Notes from the West. A Record of a Ramble in the United States and Canada in the Spring and Summer of 1881 William Howard Russell,2025-07-12 Reprint of the original first published in 1882 The Antigonos publishing house specialises in the publication of reprints of historical books We make sure that these works are made available to the public in good condition in order to preserve their cultural heritage

The English Catalogue of Books Published from January, 1835, to January, 1863 ,1864 Heroines and Heroes: Symbolism, Embodiment, Narratives & Identity Christopher Hart,2008 Hesperothen : Notes from the West (Vol. 1 of 2) A Record of a Ramble in the United States and Canada in the Spring and Summer of 1881 W. H.

Russell,1882 Hesperothen Notes from the West Vol 1 of 2 A Record of a Ramble in the United States and Canada in the Spring and Summer of 1881 On the 16th of April last in pursuance of an arrangement to that effect which was entered into some months earlier with the Duke of Sutherland a small party of gentlemen and one lady left Liverpool in the Cunard Company s steamer Gallia with the object of making a tour in the United States Previous to their departure Mr Henry Crosfield the Auditor of the London and North Western Railway Company had been in communication with friends in America and had in concert with them sketched out a general scheme to enable the visitors to traverse the Atlantic States to extend their journey westwards and to obtain the best possible view of the country in the limited space of time at their disposal Although all were on pleasure bent those of the tourists who had interests in railways on this side of the world were naturally anxious to study the modes of management which were practised on the principal lines as closely as such a hurried journey would allow them but the main object of the travellers was to see the States to behold with their own eyes the natural features of the vast continent which is exercising a rapidly increasing influence on Great Britain and Europe itself and to view the manners and customs of the great nation which even in its present enormous development gives only the indications of a lusty youth promising a manhood of irresistible vigour and strength in time to come if the body politic fulfils its early hope To be sure the inspection could not be very close minute or protracted Shooting flying is not an art given to all people and the contemplation of man at a hotel or in a street as one looks around in the dining room or out of a railway train does not afford satisfactory foundation for solid knowledge or comfortable conviction But we had to do the best we could There were for most of us the attractions in the journey which novelty possesses There were pleasures in anticipation in the sight of the wonderful cities which man has made and of the grand natural spectacles which God has created and these pleasures were I may say now enjoyed most fully For my own part having no railway interests except those I share with so many others in being carried safely swiftly and cheaply by the lines to which I entrust myself for conveyance and having formerly been in the United States my chief desire was to revive if not the pleasures of memory at least the recollections of a country in which I had spent many months of the deepest interest and excitement and where I made friends whose affection and support were of invaluable assistance and comfort to me when I much needed them at a period of terrible trial I was also eager to observe what changes had been effected since the close of the Civil War of one great incident of which I had an unfortunate experience and to revisit scenes the chief features of which had not been effaced from my recollection by the lapse of nigh twenty years The expedition was undertaken under excellent auspices From all quarters of the United States as soon as our intention was made known there had come not only expressions of satisfaction and offers of assistance but an actual competition in good offices and amid the friendly requests of the great Railway Corporations on the other side of the Atlantic that the visitors would avail themselves of the resources of their Companies the only difficulty lay in the choice of contending routes Tenders of palace cars and special trains of receptions and banquets poured in on all sides but the programme for our journey was drawn up with a due regard to the number of hours at the disposal of the travellers and ere they set out from England the very day of their return from New York had been determined

Vere, 1866 Notes of a Journey Through Part of Russia as Far as Nijni-Novgorod, in the Summer of 1863, and Journal of a Tour in Holland in 1865 Russia. [Appendix. - Descriptions, Topography and Travels.], 1866 Comprehensive French Grammar Salim Khan Anmol, 2017-01-10 Sakha Global Books Notes of a Journey Through Part of Russia as Far as Nijni-Novgorod in the Summer of 1863 and W. W. Hope Vere, 1866 Commerce, Culture, and Community in a Red Sea Port in the Thirteenth Century Li Guo, 2004-01-01 This is a study and edition of the Arabic documents uncovered in Quseir Upper Egypt These documents shed light on the Red Sea and Indian Ocean trade in the thirteenth century They also reveal aspects of the everyday life popular culture and linguistic features of the communities involved Filming the Unfilmable Ben Hellmann, 2014-04-15 This volume shares the fascinating story of the cinematic adaptation of one of the world's most influential novels An all encompassing account of the film's production and reception the account is filled with little known facts and valuable insight into Solzhenitsyn's complex relationship with filmmaking Aden and the Indian Ocean Trade Roxani Eleni Margariti, 2012-09-01 Positioned at the crossroads of the maritime routes linking the Indian Ocean and the Mediterranean Sea the Yemeni port of Aden grew to be one of the medieval world's greatest commercial hubs Approaching Aden's history between the eleventh and thirteenth centuries through the prism of overseas trade and commercial culture

Roxani Eleni Margariti examines the ways in which physical space and urban institutions developed to serve and harness the commercial potential presented by the city's strategic location Utilizing historical and archaeological methods Margariti draws together a rich variety of sources far beyond the normative and relatively accessible legal rulings issued by Islamic courts of the time She explores environmental material and textual data including merchants' testimonies from the medieval documentary repository known as the Cairo Geniza Her analysis brings the port city to life detailing its fortifications water supply harbor customs house marketplaces and ship building facilities She also provides a broader picture of the history of the city and the ways merchants and administrators regulated and fostered trade Margariti ultimately demonstrates how port cities as nodes of exchange communication and interconnectedness are crucial in Indian Ocean and Middle Eastern history as well as Islamic and Jewish history
