International Handbook of Educational Policy Nina Bascia, Alister Cumming, Amanda Datnow, Kenneth Leithwood, David Livingstone, 2008-05-14 Nina Bascia Alister Cumming Amanda Datnow Kenneth Leithwood and David Livingstone This Handbook presents contemporary and emergent trends in educational policy research in over fty chapters written by nearly ninety leading researchers from a number of countries It is organized into ve broad sections which capture many of the current dominant educational policy foci and at the same time situate current understandings historically in terms of both how they are conceptualized and in terms of past policy practice The chapters themselves are empirically grounded providing illustrations of the conceptual implications c tained within them as well as allowing for comparisons across them The se re exivity within chapters with respect to jurisdictional particularities and c trasts allows readers to consider not only a range of approaches to policy analysis but also the ways in which policies and policy ideas play out in different times and places. The sections move from a focus on prevailing policy tendencies through increasingly critical and outsider perspectives on policy. They address in turn the contemporary strategic emphasis on large scale reform, substantive emphases at several levels on leadership and governance, improving teacher quality and conceptualizing learning in various domains around the notion of literacies and concluding finally with a contrasting topic workplace learning which has had less policy attention and thus allows readers to consider both the advantages and disadvantages of learning and teaching under the bright gaze of policy.

Cultural Education - Cultural Sustainability

Zvi Bekerman, Ezra Kopelowitz, 2008-02-06. This volume is a path breaking contribution to the study of efforts of diaspora indigenous and minority groups broadly defined to use education formal and informal to sustain cultural continuity while grappling with the influences and demands of wider globalizing, nationalizing or other homogenizing and assimilatory forces. Particular attention is given to groups that use educational elements other than second language teaching alone in programs to sustain their particular cultural traditions. The focus of the book on cultural sustainability changes the nature of questions posed in multicultural education from those that address the opening of boundaries to issues of preserving boundaries in an open yet sustainable way. As forced and elective immigration trends are changing the composition of societies and the educational systems within them, bringing a rich diversity of cultural experience to the teaching learning process, diaspora indigenous and minority groups are looking more and more for ways to sustain their cultures in the context of wider socio political influences. This volume is a first opportunity to consider critically multicultural efforts in dialogue with educational options that are culturally particularistic but at the same time tolerant. Academics will find this an excellent reference book. Practitioners will draw inspiration in learning of others efforts to sustain cultures and will engage in critical reflection on their own work vis vis that of others. Teachers will realize they do not stand alone in their educational efforts and will uncover new strategies and methodologies through which to approach their work.

Unite or Perish Mammo Muchie, Vusi

Gumede, 2015-03-26. This book is an outcome of the third conference in the successful Scramble for Africa International Conference series now renamed the African Unity for Renaissance International Conference. The book provides an overview and contains profound analyses of the important issues pertaining to African Unity and African Renaissance. The book is accessible to a wide variety of readers ranging from policy makers to researchers, from teachers to students and for anyone concerned with the further development of the African continent and Africa's renewal. The book outlines the various issues that animate Africa's stand in the global political, socio economic, cultural and technological arenas. The chapters gathered in the book critically examine and evaluate the burning questions and challenges with which Africa is grappling. This book is one of the vital texts for understanding how Africa will manage to navigate the tumultuous waters of globalisation as Africa has just recently emerged out of the horrors of slavery, colonialism, apartheid, neo colonialism and genocide and is still wrestling with unceasing conflicts, popular unrest, neo imperialism, coloniality and mushrooming insurgency. The chapters provide a much needed insight into the issue of whether Africa has achieved genuine and meaningful independence after 50 years of the founding of the OAU and whether the baby steps Africa has taken towards unity are worth celebrating The contributors highlight these and allied issues with a view to capture more public attention in order to stimulate debate and usher in a new phase in the quest for African Unity and Renaissance The contributors are distinguished authors and established and emerging scholars in their own domains While a majority of the contributors are from the continent distinguished scholars from around the globe have joined their African fellows in dealing with the relevant issues regarding Africa's place in an ever changing world

Black Girlhood and Identity in Canadian Elementary Schools Natasha Burford, 2024-11-15 This volume uses interviews and narratives data from self identified Black women reflecting on their childhood in the Canadian public school system to explore voice and agency girlhood and identity in Canada's elementary schools Exploring themes of race gender identity friendship dreams authority and success the author showcases diversity in Black Canadian feminism and gives voice and agency to Black female stories that have traditionally been absent amongst the literary canon of education An intimate and compelling scholarly exploration it contributes to conversations around transforming the Black girl narrative in public education and will appeal to researchers faculty and post graduate students with interests in race and ethnicity in education gender studies and multicultural education

How Black and Working Class Children Are Deprived of Basic Education in Canada Bairu Sium, 2014-04-03 This book is the culmination of twenty four years of research It explores the thematic intersections of race class immigration and the potential of building student centered classrooms Of course the building of a truly student centered is itself a slow and contested process Over the years progressive changes towards more inclusive education made by some governments were dismantled by others and have left disadvantaged children where they were before the study was launched In the meantime the system has perfected the process of streaming minority children to dead end courses that betray the social and economic mobility advertised to them This book examines the moments and positions of educational betrayal in which racialized and working class students disproportionately find themselves For many at that point the only option is to drop out of school and engage in the drug trade or other lifestyles that put them at further risk This is a longitudinal study of a kind with respect to reform and changes retained in education It started with eight months observation of a split level grade five and six classroom in September 1986 That was instrumental in identifying the uphill battle that black working class and new immigrant children and their parents were facing to secure the education they deserved Through continued reviews observation and follow up interviews change or lack of it was traced The results call for urgent overhaul of the way education is provided to all children The book ends with suggestions to effect change

Encyclopedia of Diversity in Education James A. Banks, 2012-05-17 The diversity education literature both nationally and internationally is broad and diffuse Consequently there needs to be a systematic and logical way to organize and present the state of research for students and professionals American citizens need to understand the dynamics of their increasingly diverse communities and institutions and the global world in which we live work and lead With continually evolving information on diversity policies practices and programs it is important to have one place where students scholars teachers and policymakers can examine and explore research policy and practice issues and find answers to important questions about how diversity in U S education enriched with theories research and practices in other nations are explained and communicated and how they affect institutional change at both the K 12 and postsecondary levels With about 700 signed entries with cross references and recommended readings the Encyclopedia of Diversity in Education 4 volumes in both print and electronic formats will present research and statistics case studies and best practices policies and programs at pre and postsecondary levels Diversity is a worldwide phenomenon and while most of the entries in the Encyclopedia will focus on the United States diversity issues and developments in nations around the world including the United States are intricately connected Consequently to illuminate the many aspects of diversity this volume will contain entries from different nations in the world in order to illuminate the myriad aspects of diversity From A to Z this Encyclopedia will cover the full spectrum of diversity issues including race class gender religion language exceptionality and the global dimensions of diversity as they relate to education This four volume reference work will be the definitive reference for diversity issues in education in the United States and the world

Politics of Anti-Racism Education: In Search of Strategies for Transformative Learning George J. Sefa Dei, Mairi McDermott, 2013-12-02 This collection of essays invites readers to think through critical questions concerning anti racism education such as How does anti racism education centre race as an analytic and simultaneously work with multiple sites of oppression without reifying hierarchies of difference How can anti racism education be engaged to speak to historical questions of power and privilege within conventional schooling practices How do we recognize anti racism education in its many iterations In this book the authors explore the knowledge that constitutes anti racism education and the ways in which knowledge constitutive of anti racism education becomes embodied through particular pedagogues The authors are anti racism educators with experiences in diverse settings the chapters cover various fields and socio historic geographies address contemporary educational issues and are situated within personal political historical and philosophical conversations Anti racism education is a discursive stance and steeped in politics that shape and are shaped by everyday conversations theories and practices The essays in this collection work through many of the possibilities and limitations of engaging in counter hegemonic education for transformative learning Readers will discover lived experiences theory practice and critical reflexivity

Global Constructions of Multicultural Education Carl A. Grant, Joy L. Lei, 2001-06 Provides a comparative understanding of the global range of multicultural issues in education and the types of approaches being used to address them Presents different ways to think talk and research about issues of diversity and the effects of power

Handbook for Working with Children and Youth Michael Ungar, 2005-05-11 To study resilience one should adopt a fundamental humility about oneself and one's culture and society and simultaneously a respect for the human strength of others The chapters in this book take these three cautions seriously and offer a convincing demonstration that resilience is indeed a many splendored thing James Garbarino Cornell University The Handbook For Working With Children and Youth Pathways To Resilience Across Cultures and Contexts examines lives lived well despite adversity Calling upon some of the most progressive thinkers in the field it presents a groundbreaking collection of original writing on the theories methods of study and interventions that promote resilience Unlike other works that have left largely unquestioned their own culture bound interpretations of the ways children and youth survive and thrive this volume explores the multiple paths children follow to health and well being in diverse national and international settings It demonstrates the connection between social and political health resources and addresses the more immediate concerns of how those who care for children create the physical emotional and spiritual environments in which resilience is nurtured Key Features Cross cultural Illustrates the rich variety of culturally embedded pathways by which children navigate toward health and well being Multidisciplinary Draws upon international experts utilizing both quantitative and qualitative studies from psychology social work psychiatry nursing education criminology child and youth care community health and family therapy Comprehensive Provides broad developmental perspectives on resilience from theory and research methods to interventions with individuals families and communities Connects theory to practice Clarifies the construct of resilience from the viewpoint of resilience researchers and practitioners in health related disciplines from different methodological paradigms within the social sciences and human services Academics graduate students and professionals studying or working in human service fields such as human development and family studies education social work child and youth care work developmental psychology applied developmental science child psychiatry nursing and family therapy will benefit from this Handbook In essence anyone who works with youth or is interested in the developmental issues related to children and youth in clinical residential or community settings will find Ungar s Handbook to be of great value Fanon and the Counterinsurgency of Education

,2010-01-01 Fanon and the Counterinsurgency of Education takes up the challenge of an anti colonial reading of Fanon to broach questions of identity difference and belonging and the implications for schooling and education The authors deliberately offer a careful and selective capturing of Fanon s works pointing to the relevance for oppressed communities as they resist re organized colonial relations in schooling and education While colonialism and neo colonialism have functioned and continue to function differently in diverse environments and social contexts contributions in the book enthuse that we must raise new questions in a bold attempt to re theorize colonial relations social difference and the representational politics of education Educators must ask new questions in order to contribute to knowledge of how to resist the entrapments of colonialism racism exploitation and alienation Frantz Fanon s oeuvre is informative to the pursuit of critical education especially when we examine the colonial encounter and the colonized experience The book offers concrete lessons in the struggle to revise education to meet the needs of diverse communities Nuances of Blackness in the Canadian Academy Awad Ibrahim, Tamari Kitossa, Malinda S. Smith, Handel Kashope Wright, 2022-02-02 The essays in Nuances of Blackness in the Canadian Academy make visible the submerged stories of Black life in academia. They offer fresh historical, social, and cultural insights into what it means to teach, learn, research, and work while Black. In daring to shift from margin to centre, the book's contributors confront two overlapping themes. First, they resist a singular construction of Blackness that masks the nuances and multiplicity of what it means to be and experience the academy as Black people. Second, they challenge the stubborn durability of anti-Black tropes, the dehumanization of Blackness, persistent deficit ideologies, and the tyranny of low expectations that permeate the dominant idea of Blackness in the white colonial imagination. Operating at the intersections of discourse and experience, contributors reflect on how Blackness shapes academic pathways, ignites complicated and often difficult conversations, and reimagines Black pasts, presents, and futures. This unique collection contributes to the articulation of more nuanced understandings of the ways in which Blackness is made, unmade, and remade in the academy and the implications for interrelated dynamics across and within post-secondary education. Black communities in Canada and global Black diasporas.

Weaving Connections David Selby, Tara Goldstein, 2000 Education plays a vitally important role in building foundations for social progress. This remarkable collection describes educational models based on the principles of tolerance, equity, and justice developed over the past three decades by teachers, parents, activists, and students. In a time of crippling cutbacks and educational reforms designed to promote business over education, this book is critical reading. Contributors from across Canada discuss the initiatives behind their approaches, how they developed curricula, and the future of their educational work. Weaving Connections is a call to action by progressive educators, inviting us to cherish educational models that teach us how to live in harmony, respect, and balance with one another.
