social conditions the building of human capacity and capabilities and institutional development on the local and global levels For example in an environment characterized by a better quality of human life it is expected that people will be able to lead long and productive lives They are also expected to enjoy good health have access to knowledge and educational opportunities and be treated by all with respect in a socially equitable and dignified manner In the sphere of political economy they are expected to have the opportunity to participate in governance decisions that affect their lives and the community in which they live and to have the potential to earn sufficient income to supply themselves with adequate nutrition shelter and other material and aesthetic needs Furthermore people are expected to maintain a sustainable environment and equitable social contracts across space and generations especially in the context of the evolving global governance The volume of Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is divided into five topics which are then expanded into multiple subtopics each as a chapter presented in two volumes The first is Major issues in Human Development and provides an over view of the Topic with emphasis on the sociological foundation of human development The second Topic Diversity and Historical Processes reviews the historical and technological processes which have led to the present state of human diversity and differentiation The third Topic Causes of Global Change focuses on whether it is possible in the present global environment to enlarge people s capabilities so that economic progress may be translated into a multidimensional human happiness The fourth Topic Consequences of Global Change examines global change not in the narrow sense of short term economic change but rather as historical waves of long term development The fifth Topic on Planning Strategies reviews current practice and projects challenges in the next century These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers and NGOs

Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty-First Century - Volume II Ismail Sirageldin, 2008-12-31 Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is a component of Encyclopedia of Human Resources Policy Development and Management in the global Encyclopedia of Life Support Systems EOLSS which is an integrated compendium of twenty Encyclopedias The volume of Human Development examines the state and nature of human development and identifies factors that determine its promotion for the twenty first century A general goal since the ultimate goal for human development is to enhance the quality of human life However the concept quality of human life is not well defined It is determined by a set of interrelated factors that cut across many disciplines with varied perspectives and paradigms These include the prevailing culture health status economic performance technological development political and social conditions the building of human capacity and capabilities and institutional development on the local and global levels For example in an environment characterized by a better quality of human life it is expected that people will be able to lead long and productive lives They are also expected to enjoy good health have access to knowledge and educational opportunities and be treated by all with respect in a socially equitable and dignified manner In the sphere of political economy they are expected to have the opportunity to participate in governance decisions that affect their lives and the community in which they live and to have the potential to earn sufficient income to supply themselves with adequate nutrition shelter and other material and aesthetic needs Furthermore people are expected to maintain a sustainable environment and equitable social contracts across space and generations especially in the context of the evolving global governance The volume of Sustainable Human Development in the Twenty First Century is divided into five topics which are then expanded into multiple subtopics each as a chapter presented in two volumes The first is Major issues in Human Development and provides an over view of the Topic with emphasis on the sociological foundation of human development The second Topic Diversity and Historical Processes reviews the historical and technological processes which have led to the present state of human diversity and differentiation The third Topic Causes of Global Change focuses on whether it is possible in the present global environment to enlarge people s capabilities so that economic progress may be translated into a multidimensional human happiness The fourth Topic Consequences of Global Change examines global change not in the narrow sense of short term economic change but rather as historical waves of long term development The fifth Topic on Planning Strategies reviews current practice and projects challenges in the next century These two volumes are aimed at the following five major target audiences University and College Students Educators Professional Practitioners Research Personnel and Policy Analysts Managers and Decision Makers and NGOs

Human Development and the University in Sub-Saharan Africa Bertha Kibona,2023-08-22 This book utilises a human development and capability approach to examine the role of higher education in the context of Tanzania The author considers decolonisation debates as they relate to African concerns in order to make a case for systems design and implementation implications for decolonising higher education institutions The book will be of interest to students scholars and policymakers in the field of higher education

Education and International Development Tristan McCowan,Elaine Unterhalter,2015-01-29 Honorable Mention 2016 PROSE Award Education Practice Education is fundamental to every aspect of development and there is widespread support across the world for policies that affirm that all children regardless of their circumstances have a right to quality schooling Yet despite concerted efforts from national governments multilateral organisations and NGOs over many decades we are still far from achieving education for all In addition while education can enhance human development it is also associated with persistent inequalities Education and International Development provides a comprehensive introduction to the field giving an overview of the history influential theories important concepts and areas of achievement and presenting a critical reflection on emerging trends in policy practice and research With chapters that review key challenges and inspiring initiatives in countries around the globe focusing on critical issues such as language conflict and teachers this book serves both as a companion to graduate studies in international education and a concise reference book for practitioners and educators in the field

Sri Aurobindo's Vision of Integral Human Development Monica Gupta,2014-05-22 This book explores the integral vision of human development contained in the original works of Sri Aurobindo and The Mother It delves into multiple layers of the human personality as envisaged by Sri Aurobindo and The Mother and explores a new developmental science of consciousness based on the practice of Integral Yoga The book examines the major metatheoretical conceptions that shape the contemporary discipline of developmental psychology and discusses the ways in which Sri Aurobindo's philosophical and psychological perspective can help break fresh ground for developmental theorisation and research by extending the current understanding of the human evolutionary potential The author proposes a new agenda for human development which brings together the key ideas of integral individual and collective development and informs practices in the areas of counselling education parenting and self development This book will be of special interest for researchers of developmental psychology human development counselling psychology philosophy social work and education
