Citizen A History of the Marriage of Schools Advertising and Media Joel Spring charts the rise of consumerism as the dominant American ideology of the 21st century He documents and analyzes how from the early 19th century through the present the combined endeavors of schools advertising and media have led to the creation of a consumerist ideology and ensured its central place in American life and global culture Spring first defines consumerist ideology and consumer citizen and explores their 19th century origins in schools children's literature the commercialization of American cities advertising newspapers and the development of department stores He then traces the rise of consumerist ideology in the 20th century by looking closely at the impact of the home economics profession on the education of women as consumers and the development of an American cuisine based on packaged and processed foods the influence of advertising images of sports heroes cowboys and the clean shaven businessman in shaping male identity the outcomes of the growth of the high school as a mass institution on the development of teenage consumer markets the consequences of commercial radio and television joining with the schools to educate a consumer oriented population so that by the 1950s consumerist images were tied to the Cold War and presented as the American way of life in both media and schools the effects of the civil rights movement on integrating previously excluded groups into the consumer society the changes the women s movement demanded in textbooks school curricula media and advertising that led to a new image of women in the consumer market and the ascent of fast food education Spring carries the story into the 21st century by examining the evolving marriage of schools advertising and media and its ongoing role in educating the consumer citizen and creating an integrated consumer market This book will be of wide interest to scholars professionals and students across foundations of education history and sociology of education educational policy mass communications American history and cultural studies It is highly appropriate as a text for courses in these areas

Educating Caroline Patricia Cabot, Written Maternal Authority and Eighteenth-Century Education in Britain Rebecca Davies, 2016-02-11 Examining writing for and about education in the period from 1740 to 1820 Rebecca Davies s book plots the formation of a written paradigm of maternal education that associates maternity with educational authority Examining novels fiction for children conduct literature and educative and political tracts by Samuel Richardson Sarah Fielding Mary Wollstonecraft Maria Edgeworth Ann Martin Taylor and Jane Austen Davies identifies an authoritative feminine educational voice She shows how the function of the discourse of maternal authority is modified in different genres arguing that both the female writers and the fictional mothers adopt maternal authority and produce their own formulations of ideal educational methods The location of idealised maternity for women Davies proposes is in the act of writing educational discourse rather than in the physical performance of the maternal role Her book contextualizes the development of a written discourse of maternal education that emerged in the enlightenment period and explores the empowerment achieved by women writing within this discourse albeit through a notion of authority that is circumscribed by the rules of a discipline

The Tale of Hawthorn House Susan Wittig Albert, 2008-09-02 Miss Beatrix Potter finds the abandoned Baby Flora and a scarab ring on her doorstep An investigation reveals that the ring was pawned and reclaimed by a resident of the vacant and supposedly haunted Hawthorn House Now Beatrix and her animal friends are left pondering these utterly puzzling happenings

Educating Young Children in WPA Nursery Schools Molly Arboleda, 2018-08-14 Educating Young Children in WPA Nursery Schools the first full length national study of the WPA nursery school program helps to explain why universal preschool remains an elusive goal This book argues that program success in operating nursery schools throughout the United States during the Great Depression was an important New Deal achievement By highlighting the program s strengths its ideals its curriculum and its community outreach the author offers a blueprint for creating a universal preschool program that benefits both children and their families This volume uncovers the forgotten perspective of WPA nursery school leaders and highlights the program s innovative curriculum for young children by incorporating both extensive archival research and neglected sources

The X-List Evie Mitchell, Rune What kind of crazy person doesn t read Apparently my new neighbour She s loud sassy flirty and infuriatingly annoyingly cheerful And a non reader The worst kind of human So why is that when I dare her to enter the charity read a thon I suddenly find myself carefully curating her list And those books they re definitely not your mamma s romance Gabby I m used to people underestimating me Normally I can brush it off with a laugh But Rune He gets under my skin So when he makes an off handed comment that a non reader like me shouldn t bother with the town s charity event I can t help but accept the challenge Only these books are not what I remember from the school book list Not Even Close And Rune Well I m beginning to see him in a new light Or should I say hear him Warning This sexy little number is inspired by hot books men who read and a slight exhibitionist tease Get thee a man who knows how to handle you between the covers and settle in this steamy read will have you begging for more

Educating Tomorrow's Engineers Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Science and Technology Committee,2013-02-08 In the UK we teach young people to become computer users and consumers rather than programmers and software engineers This is creating a chronic skills gap in ICT We need around 82 000 engineers and technicians just to deal with retirements up to 2016 and 830 000 SET professionals by 2020 On the plus side the Government s proposal to include computer science as a fourth science option to count towards the EBac is welcomed The Committee also welcomes the EBac s focus on attainment of mathematics and science GCSEs but is concerned that subjects such as Design and Technology D T might be marginalised A Technical Baccalaureate TechBac is being designed but if it is to be a success schools should be incentivised to focus on the TechBac by making it equivalent to the EBac Reforms to vocational education following the Wolf Review meant that Level 2 of the Engineering Diploma a qualification highly regarded would count as equivalent to one GCSE despite requiring curriculum time and effort equivalent to several GCSEs The Engineering Diploma however is currently being redesigned as four separate qualifications The Committee also expressed concerns over the Department for Education s DfE lack of clarity on its research budget and use of evidence in decision making The DfE needs to place greater focus on gathering evidence before changes to qualifications are made and must leave sufficient time for evidence to be gathered on the effectiveness of policies before introducing further change The possibility of gathering evidence from randomised controlled trials RCTs should be seriously considered Building Bridges Clare Kosnik,Simone White,Bethan Marshall,A. Lin Goodwin,Jean Murray,2016-07-15 Literacy learning continues to be central to schooling and is currently of major concern to educators policy developers and members of the public alike However the proliferation of communication channels in this digital era requires a fundamental re thinking of the nature of literacy and the pedagogy of literacy teaching and teacher education This text brings together papers by experts in teacher education literacy and information technology to help chart a way forward in this complex area. Because of their background in teacher education the authors are realistic about what is appropriate and feasible; they do not just jump on a technology bandwagon but they are also able to provide extended examples of how to embed technology in the practice of teacher education. Taking a multi-disciplinary perspective, literacy, teacher education, and digital technology, and informed by a range of empirical studies, policy analyses, and scholarly reflection, this book makes a unique contribution to the literature on one of education's most pressing challenges: how we prepare teachers of literacy at a time when understandings of literacy are expanding. Chapters by leading researchers are complemented by those offering illuminating vignettes of practice that in turn provide opportunities for interrogation by the rich theoretical toolkit that characterizes the field. The book is thoughtfully structured and manages a coherence that is rare in edited collections. An impressive and heartening read.

Neither Lady nor Slave Susanna Delfino, Michele Gillespie, 2003-10-15 Although historians over the past two decades have written extensively on the plantation mistress and the slave woman, they have largely neglected the world of the working woman. Neither Lady nor Slave pushes southern history beyond the plantation to examine the lives and labors of ordinary southern women: white, free, black, and Indian. Contributors to this volume illuminate women's involvement in the southern market economy in all its diversity. Thirteen essays explore the working lives of a wide range of women: nuns and prostitutes, iron workers and basket weavers, teachers and domestic servants in urban and rural settings across the antebellum South. By highlighting contrasts between paid and unpaid, officially acknowledged and invisible work within the context of cultural attitudes regarding women's proper place in society, the book sheds new light on the ambiguities that marked relations between race, class, and gender in the modernizing South. The contributors are E. Susan Barber, Bess Beatty, Emily Bingham, James Taylor Carson, Emily Clark, Stephanie Cole, Susanna Delfino, Michele Gillespie, Sarah Hill, Barbara J. Howe, Timothy J. Lockley, Stephanie McCurry, Diane Batts Morrow, and Penny L. Richards

Vicarious Trauma and Burnout in Law Colin James, 2025-03-13 This book integrates research on the causes, responses, and protective strategies for vicarious trauma that are recognized in a range of human services and argues their relevance to the legal profession. Examining related conditions that are common among lawyers, including burnout, compassion fatigue, and secondary trauma, the text reveals how lawyers' vulnerability to trauma is aggravated by
