Higher education for diversity, social inclusion and community Sjur Bergan, Ira Harkavy, 2018-08-20 How does the Council of Europe put into practice its commitment to the promotion of a culture of democracy through education Over the past decade or so our societies have been facing increasing difficulties in reconciling acceptance of diversity and social inclusion with the need for community The search for simple solutions to complex problems the fact that fake news and alternative facts are no longer seen as nonsensical expressions our responses to migration and the refugee crisis and the growth of populism in many parts of Europe present challenges to our societies and not least to education Authors from Europe North America and South Africa outline how higher education could respond to these challenges The first section makes a strong case for the continuing importance of higher education and research to modern society The second focuses on higher education institutions and the need for inclusive and diverse campuses The third section considers opportunities to improve the inclusion of refugees and immigrants in higher education Whereas the focus in Europe is mostly on refugees in the United States it is largely on immigrants further accentuated by the debate on the Dreamers

Civic Education for the Foreign-born in the United States United States. Immigration and Naturalization Service, 1945. The life of a democracy is dependent in a major sense upon the education of its people. The public schools of America have been entrusted with the development of a program of education to safeguard and improve our democracy. Boys and girls living in America growing up in the American home the American school and the environment of an American community accept rather naturally even though imperfectly the responsibility of citizenship. The foreign born have not had the opportunity to grow up under similar environmental conditions. It follows therefore that instruction in citizenship is highly desirable and essential for many who come to our country and who want to become an integral part of its society. This pamphlet Civic Education for the Foreign Born was prepared at the request of the president of the American Association of School Administrators in order to bring before the members of that association and others the important educational job yet to be done. That job is primarily the responsibility of public education. Naturalization is a vital function. The nationality laws place upon the Immigration and Naturalization Service responsibilities that make it highly desirable for its officials to work very closely with the public school leaders in the educational work. This pamphlet is one evidence of this cooperative relationship.

Education for Hope John E Hull, 2023-01-27. This book traces the little known history of an alternative school system erected in Canada by post WWII Dutch Neo Calvinist immigrants. In less than four decades this community established a kindergarten to university education system that extended from Ottawa Ontario to Victoria BC. This remarkable tradition of education imagines the school as a dissident and transformational social institution. While this book offers the narrative of faith based tradition of education the author makes a strong case that educators from diverse ideological backgrounds can learn important lessons from it about the implementation of an alternative educational vision teacher led curriculum reform and a self formative pedagogy To supplement this narrative the author also provides a separate set of theoretical discussions on key issues in school reform as well as his memoir as an educator and curriculum designer within this tradition The Care, Cure, and Education of the Crippled Child Henry Edward Abt,1924 Hearings Before the Subcommittee on Elementary, Secondary, and Vocational Education of the Committee on Education and Labor, House of Representatives, Ninety-fifth Congress, First [and Second] Session, on H.R.15, to Extend for Five Years Certain Elementary, Secondary, and Other Education Programs, Hearings Held in Washington, D.C. ...: Impact aid United States.
