Labour Movement Craig Heron,2020-06-01 In The Canadian Labour Movement historian Craig Heron and political scientist Charles Smith tell the story of Canada s workers from the midnineteenth century through to today painting a vivid picture of key developments such as the birth of craft unionism the breakthroughs of the fifties and sixties and the setbacks of the early twenty first century The fourth edition of this book has been completely updated with a substantial new chapter that covers the period from the great recession of 2008 through to 2020 In this chapter Smith describes the fallout of the financial crisis how Stephen Harper s government restricted labour rights the rise of the gig economy and precarious work and the continued de industrialization in the private sector These pressures contributed to fracturing the movement as when Unifor the largest private sector union split from the Canadian Labour Congress the established house of labour Through it all rank and file union members have fought for better conditions for all workers including through campaigns like the fight for a 15 minimum wage The Canadian Labour Movement is the definitive book for anyone interested in understanding the origins achievements and challenges of the labour and social justice movements in Canada The Atlantic Provinces in

Confederation Ernest R. Forbes,Delphin A. Muise,1993-12-15 Canada s four easternmost provinces while richly diverse in character and history share many elements of their political and economic experience within Confederation In this volume thirteen leading historians explore the shifting tides of Atlantic Canada s history beginning with the union of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick with Ontario and Quebec to form the Dominion in 1867 Continuing on through Prince Edward Island s entry into Confederation six years later and Newfoundland s in 1949 they take the story of Atlantic Canada up to the 1980s Collectively their work sheds light on the complex political dynamic between the region and Ottawa and reveals the roots of current social and economic realities Fragmentation versus integration plenty versus scarcity centre versus periphery and other models inform their analysis The development of regional disparity and responses to it form a major theme The tradition of regional protest by Maritimers and later Atlantic Canadians runs deep so does their commitment to the idea of an integrated Canadian nation Protests over the decades have primarily been expressions of frustration at perceived exclusion from the full benefits of national union The creation of national markets for labour capital and goods often operated to their detriment and political decisions at the national level frequently reinforced rather than alleviated the regional predicament More than an account of the wealthy and powerful this book often places ordinary men and women at the centre of the story Above all it reveals the resilience of Atlantic Canadians as they have struggled to overcome their problems and to share in the benefits of life in the Canadian community Solidarity Beyond Bars Jordan House,Asaf Rashid,2022-11-15T00:00:00Z

Prisons don't work but prisoners do. Prisons are often critiqued as unjust but we hear little about the daily labour of incarcerated workers, what they do, how they do it, who they do it for, and under which conditions. Unions protect workers fighting for better pay and against discrimination and occupational health and safety concerns but prisoners are denied this protection despite being the lowest paid workers with the least choice in what they do, the most vulnerable among the working class. Starting from the perspective that work during imprisonment is not rehabilitative, this book examines the reasons why people should care about prison labour and how prisoners have struggled to organize for labour power in the past. Unionizing incarcerated workers is critical for both the labour movement and struggles for prison justice; this book argues to negotiate changes to working conditions as well as the power dynamics within prisons themselves. Canadian Labour History David Jay Bercuson, 1987 Managing Canada's Fisheries Joseph Gough, Canada. INTERNATIONAL TRUE CRIME BESTSELLER An instant true crime classic about a brutal Nova Scotia murder for fans of Say Nothing and Furious Hours. Publishers Weekly Fascinating A must read for all concerned about how humans manage to live together. Or not. Margaret Atwood In his riveting and meticulously reported true crime book Silver Donald Cameron offers an intricate narrative about a notorious small town crime: the 2013 murder of Phillip Boudreau by three upstanding citizens of Cape Breton Island. Phillip Boudreau seemed invincible: a miscreant who would plague the village forever as police frustration grew and budgets shrunk. But when two cousins and skipper Dwayne Samson saw Boudreau in his boat about to vandalize their lobster traps, they took matters into their own hands. Like so many times before, the small time criminal was about to cost them thousands of dollars out of their seasonal livelihood, so they took out a rifle and fired four shots. Was the Boudreau killing cold blooded murder, a direct reaction to credible threats, or the tragic result of local officials failing to protect the community? As many local people have said, if those fellows hadn't killed him, someone else would have. Cameron's searing, utterly gripping true crime story about one Nova Scotia community raises a disturbing question: Are there times when taking the law into your own hands is not only understandable but the responsible thing to do? In Defence of Home Places Mark R. Leeming, 2017-06-07 As environmental deterioration became a major political issue near the end of the twentieth century, activists in Nova Scotia stood together to defend the places they called home. They cooperated to protect local environments and economies but they disagreed about the causes of environmental problems, the role of humanity in nature, and the place of environmentalists in the political process. In Defence of Home Places examines the diversity of environmental activism in Nova Scotia, illustrating how radicals and conservatives combined efforts to achieve early legislative and social success. It also chronicles the debates and disagreements over fundamental principles that then weakened and divided the powerful environmental movement. Placing the evolution of Nova Scotian environmental activism within a broader theoretical framework, Mark R. Leeming considers its development in national and international contexts.
