Skincare Allan Balzano, 2015-12-27 For as long as one can remember it has always been the pursuit of many to keep their youthful looks even at great costs And in this day and age the trend has not changed Now more than ever methods techniques and treatments meant to retain that youthful glow proliferate everywhere As it is the most telltale sign of getting old anti ageing goods and services account for billions of dollars spent in the hopes of delaying the onset of skin ageing Unfortunately many have been and are misinformed on how and why the skin ages misleading these same people into buying products that only offer short lived if not unsuccessful and disappointing results It is therefore only smart to know just how the skin develops over time In understanding the hows and whys of ageing skin the correct habits and treatments can then be developed to retain as much one's youthful looks for as long a time as possible

Privilege and Anxiety Hagen Koo, 2022-07-15 In Privilege and Anxiety Hagen Koo examines what has happened to the Korean middle class in the era of neoliberal globalization and demonstrates that global economic change brought more profound changes than mere economic decline and shrinking size to this class Globalization has inserted an axis of polarization into the middle class separating a small minority that benefits from the globalized economy from the large majority that suffers from it This internal differentiation generates a challenging dynamic within Korean society as the newly affluent seek to distinguish themselves from the rest of the middle class to establish a new privileged class position Privilege and Anxiety explores how these tensions play out in three areas consumption and lifestyle residential differentiation and education In all three areas the dominant orientation of the affluent middle class is to preserve their newfound privilege and to pass it onto their children Their new class practices Koo argues bring great anxiety to both the winners and losers of neoliberal globalization
