Contested Identities Roger Nicholson, Gertrud Szamosi, Claudia Marquis, 2015-09-04 This volume brings together essays that individually and collectively address the force of the literary text with regard to problematic identities They work out of shared concerns with literary representations of this issue in different regions nations and communities that often prove divided they pursue questions related to textual identity where the literary text itself is contested internally or in its generic and historical relations In sum these studies actively test identity as social or literary concept discovering in difference the very condition of a useful if paradoxical sense of personal or textual coherence What happens to us when we move between different cultures or different societies defined in geographical or historical terms What happens to texts and textual practices in these same circumstances What happens to us when we are obliged to adapt to a new social order Homi Bhabha speaks of cultural difference as calling into play what he calls cultural translation What happens to identity the narrative that fashions a continued sense of self in this case Difference raised to alterity demands that we accord functional and philosophical value not just to other aspects but also to the aspect of the other At the level of personal or textual agency however difference contests and threatens to subvert stable selfhood composing a scene of conflict Even so it often proves to be instrumental in re charging a sense of the cultural valence of the literary text not least by virtue of its political implications In this regard the border where difference materialises has considerable presence in contributions to this volume prompting appreciation of texts that work on or travel across such borders however haphazardly and dangerously but also those that compose border textualities

Home Ground and Foreign Territory Janice Fiamengo, 2014-04-03 Home Ground and Foreign Territory is an original collection of essays on early Canadian literature in English Aiming to be both provocative and scholarly it encompasses a variety of sometimes opposing perspectives subjects and methods with the aim of reassessing the field unearthing neglected texts and proposing new approaches to canonical authors Renowned experts in early Canadian literary studies including D M R Bentley Mary Jane Edwards and Carole Gerson join emerging scholars in a collection distinguished by its clarity of argument and breadth of reference Together the essays offer bold and informative contributions to the study of this dynamic literature Home

Ground and Foreign Territory reaches out far beyond the scope of early Canadian literature Its multi disciplinary approach innovates literal studies and appeals to literature specialists and general readership alike Unsettled Remains Cynthia Sugars,Gerry Turcotte,2009-08-04 Unsettled Remains Canadian Literature and the Postcolonial Gothic examines how Canadian writers have combined a postcolonial awareness with gothic metaphors of monstrosity and haunting in their response to Canadian history The essays gathered here range from treatments of early postcolonial gothic expression in Canadian literature to attempts to define a Canadian postcolonial gothic mode Many of these texts wrestle with Canada s colonial past and with the voices and histories that were repressed in the push for national consolidation but emerge now as uncanny reminders of that contentious history The haunting effect can be unsettling and enabling at the same time In recent years many Canadian authors have turned to the gothic to challenge dominant literary political and social narratives In Canadian literature the postcolonial gothic has been put to multiple uses above all to figure experiences of ambivalence that have emerged from a colonial context and persisted into the present As these essays demonstrate formulations of a Canadian postcolonial gothic differ radically from one another depending on the social and cultural positioning of who is positing it Given the preponderance in colonial discourse of accounts that demonize otherness it is not surprising that many minority writers have avoided gothic metaphors In recent years however minority authors have shown an interest in the gothic signalling an emerging critical discourse This spectral turn sees minority writers reversing long standing characterizations of their identity as monstrous or invisible in order to show their connections to and disconnection from stories of the nation

The Gothic, Postcolonialism and Otherness T. Khair,2009-11-04 Starting with a re examination of the role of the colonial racial Other in mainstream Gothic colonial fiction this book goes on to engage with the problem of narrating the subaltern in the post colonial context It engages with the problems of representing difference in lucid conceptual terms with much attention to primary texts and highlights the strengths and weaknesses of colonial discourses as well as postcolonialist attempts to write back While providing rich readings of Conrad Kipling Melville Emily Bront Erna Brodber Jean Rhys and others it offers new perspectives on Otherness difference and identity re examines the role of emotions in literature and suggests productive ways of engaging with contemporary global and postcolonial issues The Encyclopedia of
