Stelter, Alan F. J. Artibise, 1982 This is a collection of essays focusing on the process of city building in Canada The authors weigh the relative broad social economic and technological trends as they attempt to explain the shaping of this urban landscape National Soul Marilyn Jean McKay, 2002 From Confederation to World War II mural painting was an important tool for Canadian nation building In A National Soul Marilyn McKay shows how in both Protestant English Canada and Catholic French Canada these artworks were designed to promote specific civic values Cape Bretoniana Beaton Institute of Cape Breton Studies, 2005-01-01 Nova Scotia's Cape Breton Island is a beautiful region with a unique community whose history and ethnic composition have resulted in the evolution of a powerful sense of identity and place While outsiders may think only of the island's perennial economic woes and long economic dependence on coal mining and steel production it is also the home of a rich vibrant and distinct culture Brian Douglas Tennyson's Cape Bretoniana is the first bibliography to gather together all known publications relating to the history culture economy and politics of Cape Breton Island With more than 6000 entries it not only provides a comprehensive listing of publications and post graduate theses but also detailed annotations on the listings Each entry lists the author title place of publication publisher date of publication volume and issue number in the case of periodicals and page references followed by a brief description of the item Cape Breton has never been so thoroughly documented This bibliography will help to ensure that even in a world becoming increasingly homogenized by the forces of globalization unique cultural identities like Cape Breton's can be preserved and nurtured Commerce of Taste Barry Magrill, 2012 How books of church drawings marketed taste and status alongside social change

Interdisciplinary Approaches to Canadian Society Alan F.J. Artibise, 1990-08-01 Far more than a bibliographic account of the major works in Canadian Studies Interdisciplinary Approaches to Canadian Society provides a broad examination of the state of this growing field of study Each chapter stresses the importance of the interdisciplinary and multidisciplinary approaches which have come to characterize Canadian Studies Also in an unprecedented collaborative effort almost all the chapters are jointly authored by anglophone and francophone scholars The works on Quebec and the francophone community respect the distinct nature of this facet of Canada As stated in the introduction this work is a primer in the field and a guide to further pursuits Its users will welcome it as a friendly introduction to an exciting country Architecture in Transition Kelly Crossman, 1987-11-01 However behind the public face of design architectural life in Canada during the 1880s and 1890s was in turmoil The Canadian public had lost confidence in its designers students were forced to study abroad to secure a first class education professional rivalry was unscrupulous architectural competitions a scandal American architects and their architecture were the fashion These things changed but not before the world of the Canadian architect had been turned on its head replaced by one which resembled the world of contemporary architects with professional organisations regulated standards formalised education centred in the universities and the belief that Canadian architecture should reflect local climates culture and geography Kelly Crossman provides the first analysis of this period Beginning with a review of the architectural milieu in Toronto and Montreal in the 1880s he traces the rise of professionalism as an idea and architectural nationalism as a goal His analysis is more a history of architectural ideas than a survey of forms It places the architecture of these years in an historical and ideological context demonstrating that it developed with its own logic in response to national and international factors During the two decades after 1885 Canadian architects grappled with problems whose long term implications they could not have foreseen the role of the architect in industrialised society the need to accommodate and integrate applied science and the need to express their own and their country's personality in architectural form By the beginning of this century they had begun to find their own voice The story of this process will be of interest not just to students and scholars but to anyone interested in the development of Canada and its architecture Churches of Nova Scotia Robert Tuck,2004 Both text and photographs tell the story of more than 30 churches from all parts of the province and a variety of denominations and eras The Queen Anne Revival Style in Canadian Architecture Leslie Maitland,Canadian Parks Service. National Historic Parks and Sites,1990 Contains an overview of the origin of the style in Great Britain and its American interpretation In examining the style in Canada it begins with the efforts made by Canadian architects to adapt it to a new and often difficult habitat The preponderant number of domestic examples reflects the popularity of the style for residential construction It also examines its influence on institutions resort buildings apartments and commercial constructions Canadian Architectural Styles Don Mikel,2025-10-07 Featuring over 1 100 photographs this guide identifies more than 40 important architectural styles in Canada ranging from the nineteenth century Georgian Gothic Revival and Italianate buildings to twentieth and twenty first century Art Deco Mid Century Modern Brutalist and Neo Expressionism The examples are drawn from all across Canada rural small town and urban Meticulously researched and extensively illustrated the book includes heritage homes cottages churches schools and buildings of government and commerce Each chapter provides an introduction to the style followed by carefully selected representative examples from across the country An index to buildings by town or region enables readers to identify and appreciate architectural styles in every part of Canada The result of more than a decade of research and photography this is the first comprehensive field guide to Canadian architectural styles Coal Black Heart John Demont,2010-04-06 A major new work of history told through the stories of a teeming cast of characters The history of coal is the story of the last two centuries of the industrialized world Coal has powered that world and controlled the destinies of millions And nowhere has that influence run more deeply than in Nova Scotia where the industry's rise and decline has transformed society twice Coal Black Heart is a global history that centres unapologetically on one province and the generations of people whose lives there have been shaped by this dominating industry There are the miners There are the moonshiners and brooding social reformers and charismatic preachers who gave the mining towns their particular feel and flair And there are the profiteers whose greed led to disaster This is history as great storytelling enthralling involving deeply moving and it is a very personal narrative A brilliant reporter journalist and author who has spent most of his career examining Nova Scotia's weave of land people and history and who grew up listening to its stories John DeMont was born to write this book Acadiensis ,1999 The Blue Banner Barry Cahill,Laurence DeWolfe,Murray Alary,2008-02-06 The Blue Banner is a case study of the survival of historic denominationalism grounded in resistance to church union It traces the origins and near demise of Presbyterianism in Nova Scotia and the development of Saint David's from its beginnings as a new congregation and the only site of Presbyterian witness in metropolitan Halifax. The authors look at various aspects of congregational life: corporate structure and governance, education, worship and music, volunteerism, mission and outreach, and stewardship of the historic site and building that has been home to Saint David's since the beginning. Subject Catalog Library of Congress, 1979. Canadian architectural periodicals index, 1940-1980 Claude Bergeron, 1986. Subject Catalog, 1979 Library of Congress, 1979.

ABM, 1986. Abstracts of journal articles, books, essays, exhibition catalogs, dissertations, and exhibition reviews. The scope of ARTbibliographies Modern extends from artists and movements beginning with Impressionism in the late 19th century up to the most recent works and trends in the late 20th century. Photography is covered from its invention in 1839 to the present. A particular emphasis is placed upon adding new and lesser known artists and on the coverage of foreign language literature. Approximately 13,000 new entries are added each year. Published with title LOMA from 1969-1971.
