Emotion And Spirit Questioning The Claims Of Psychoanalysis And Religion:

Emotion and Spirit Neville Symington, 1994-01-01 Psychoanalysis with Freud as its founder has vehemently denied the value of religious belief In this radical book Neville Symington makes the case that both traditional religion and psychoanalysis are failing because they exist apart and do not incorporate each other s value Religion needs psychoanalysis so that it can become relevant to people s emotional lives and their most intimate relationships Psychoanalysis needs religion so that it can contain those core spiritual values which give life meaning But for a fertile relationship both will need to relinquish excess baggage in the form of creeds dogma and rituals which only serve to obscure the deeper values which both are attempting to express The controversial conclusion of this fascinating study is that psychoanalysis is a spirituality in the world or a mature religion and inseparable from acts of virtue

Psychoanalysis and Religion in the 21st Century

David M. Black, 2012-07-26 What can be gained from a dialogue between psychoanalysis and religion Freud described religion as the universal obsessional neurosis and uncompromisingly rejected it in favour of science Ever since there has been the assumption that psychoanalysts are hostile to religion Yet from the beginning individual analysts have questioned Freud s blanket rejection of religion In this book David Black brings together contributors from a wide range of schools and movements to discuss the issues They bring a fresh perspective to the subject of religion and psychoanalysis answering vital questions such as How do religious stories carry or distort psychological truth How do religions work psychologically What is the nature of religious experience Are there parallels between psychoanalysis and particular religious traditions Psychoanalysis and Religion in the 21st Century will be of great interest to psychoanalysts psychoanalytic therapists psychodynamic counsellors and anyone interested in the issues surrounding psychoanalysis religion theology and spirituality and ethical insights of two dialogical personalist religious philosophers Martin Buber a Jew and Gabriel Marcel a Catholic who both initiated a Copernican revolution in human thought In chapters that focus on love work faith suffering and clinical practice Paul Marcus shows how the spiritual optic of Buber and Marcel can help revive and refresh psychoanalysis and bring it back into the light by communicating its inherent vitality power and relevance to the mental health community and to those who seek psychoanalytic treatment
