Einmal Ist Keinmal:

Selected Writings: 1938-1940 Walter Benjamin, 1996 Comprising more than 65 pieces journal articles reviews extended essays sketches aphorisms and fragments this volume shows the range of Walter Benjamin's writing His topics here include poetry fiction drama history religion love violence morality and mythology The Fate of Desire James S. Hans, 1990-01-01 The Fate of Desire examines the problems of living in a decentered world Assuming that the poststructuralist declaration of the end of man is an essential aspect of our current ways of thinking the book focuses on the positive values inherent in this shift In substituting multiplicity and fields of play for identity and hierarchy and in distinguishing between desire as fullness and desire as lack Hans argues for a vision of existence that is based on the difficulties Nietzsche posited as an inevitable part of fully affirming the rich but tragic nature of life These reconceptions of the human scene redefine self discipline in terms of understanding and loving one's fate Instead of providing yet one more critique of the flawed values through which the Western world has constituted itself The Fate of Desire takes up the task of weighing the things of the world anew revaluing them in terms of our present understanding of our positions in the world Hans suggests that if we are fated to be driven by desire and if we are led to accept the ways in which our desire manifests itself according to our own individual fates there is still every reason to believe that humans can find a productive way of understanding and fully occupying their place in the world Walter Benjamin: Modernity Peter Osborne, 2005 No other single author has so commanding a critical presence across so many disciplines within the arts and humanities in so many national contexts as Walter Benjamin 1892-1940 The belated reception of his work as a literary critic dating from the late 1950s has been followed by a rapid series of critical receptions in different contexts Frankfurt Critical Theory and Marxism Judaism Film Theory Post structuralism Philosophical Romanticism and Cultural Studies This collection brings together a selection of the most critically important items in the literature across the full range of Benjamin's cultural theoretical interests from all periods of the reception of his writings but focusing upon the most recent to produce a comprehensive overview of the best critical literature The Films of Konrad Wolf Larson Powell, 2020 This is the first book in any language on the films of Konrad Wolf 1925-1982 East Germany's greatest filmmaker and puts Wolf in a larger European filmic and historical context Anti-Proverbs in Five Languages Anna T. Litovkina, Hrisztalina Hrisztova-Gotthardt, Péter Barta, Katalin Vargha, Wolfgang Mieder, 2022-01-11 This book is the first comparative study of English German French Russian and Hungarian anti proverbs based on well known proverbs Proverbs are by no means fossilized texts but are adaptable to different times and changed values While anti proverbs can be considered as variants of older proverbs they can also become new proverbs reflecting a more modern worldview Anti proverbs are therefore a lingo cultural phenomenon that deserves the attention of cultural and literary historians folklorists linguists and general readers interested in language and wordplay Anti-Heimat Cinema Ofer Ashkenazi, 2020-09-08 Anti Heimat Cinema The Jewish Invention of the German

Landscape studies an overlooked yet fundamental element of German popular culture in the twentieth century In tracing Jewish filmmakers contemplations of Heimat a provincial German landscape associated with belonging and authenticity it analyzes their distinctive contribution to the German identity discourse between 1918 and 1968 In its emphasis on rootedness and homogeneity Heimat seemed to challenge the validity and significance of Jewish emancipation Several acculturation seeking Jewish artists and intellectuals however endeavored to conceive a notion of Heimat that would rather substantiate their belonging This book considers Jewish filmmakers contribution to this endeavor It shows how they devised the landscapes of the German Homeland as Jews namely as acculturated outsiders within Through appropriation of generic Heimat imagery the films discussed in the book integrate criticism of national chauvinism into German mainstream culture from World War One to the Cold War Consequently these Jewish filmmakers anticipated the anti Heimat film of the ensuing decades and functioned as an uncredited inspiration for the critical New German Cinema

No Place Like Home Johannes von Moltke, 2005-09-06 This is the first comprehensive account of Germany's most enduring film genre the Heimatfilm which has offered idyllic variations on the idea that there is no place like home since cinema's early days Charting the development of this popular genre over the course of a century in a work informed by film studies cultural history and social theory Johannes von Moltke focuses in particular on its heyday in the 1950s a period that has been little studied Questions of what it could possibly mean to call the German nation home after the catastrophes of World War II are anxiously present in these films and von Moltke uses them as a lens through which to view contemporary discourses on German national identity

Habitation in German Modernism Meindert Peters, 2024 Joins a growing body of scholarship dealing with the productive relationship between literature and cognitive studies while also positing a new theory of modernism How do we habituate ourselves to environments that are not yet or no longer familiar What is at stake in adapting our behavior to new or changed situations The present study explores these questions by bringing German literature and thought of the early twentieth century a time of immense social and material change in Europe into dialogue with contemporary research in embodied cognition In six close readings of texts by Vicki Baum Walter Benjamin Alfred Döblin Martin Heidegger Georg Kaiser and Rainer Maria Rilke it brings into relief German modernism's concerns over how we adapt our behavior to environments that are new changed and or changing Rather than emphasizing the alienation and isolation that these texts investigate regarding the modern urban experience as much of the research on literary modernism has traditionally done Meindert Peters's book draws out the more dynamic moments of mastery responsiveness and cooperation that underpin habituation Moreover it extends these questions of habituation to the function of literature itself by showing how modernist forms invite engagement and participation

Habitation in German Modernism not only joins a growing body of scholarship dealing with the productive relationship between literature and cognitive studies but also posits a new theory of modernism
