El Amor La Soledad:

El amor, la soledad André Comte-Sponville, 2002-01-02 El amor y la soledad van siempre juntos no son dos contrarios sino dos reflejos de una misma luz que es la vida Sin esta luz no valdría la pena dedicar a la filosofía ni una sola hora esta es la tesis del presente libro que no es simplemente un libro de filosofía sino más bien el libro de un filósofo sobre lo que la filosofía y la vida le han enseñado sobre lo que él ha aprendido Es todo lo contrario de un sistema o de un tratado sin llegar a ser un ensayo Son entrevistas lo que Montaigne hubiera llamado conferencias El más fecundo y natural ejercicio de nuestro espíritu a mi parecer es la conferencia decía o dicho de otro modo conversaciones Un arte menor Sin duda alguna pero eso forma parte de su encanto Aquí la verdad importa más que la belleza el placer más que el trabajo la vida más que la obra , throughout the world and with the consequent threat to the stability of a common discourse in putative countries once mapped and subsequently dominated by colonizing powers the need for such studies becomes increasingly obvious Whose idea of a nation is to prevail throughout these postcolonial territories whose claims to speak for a people are to be legitimized by international agreement amid the demands of patriotic rhetoric what role may be allowed for individual expression that attempts to transcend the immediate political agenda who may assume positions of authority in defining an ethnic paradigm such are the questions variously addressed in this volume The essayists who here contribute to the discussion are students of the various national literatures that are now becoming more generally available in the West The range of topics is broad moving globally from the Caribbean and South America through the African continent and on to the Indian subcontinent and moving temporally through the nineteenth century and into the closing days of our twentieth We deal with poetry fiction and theoretical writings and have two types of reader in mind We hope to introduce the uninitiated to the breadth of this expanding field and we hope to aid those with a specialized knowledge of one or other of these literatures in their consideration of the extent to which post colonial writing may or may not form a reasonably unified field We seek to avoid the new form of colonialism that might impose a theoretical template to these quite divergent writings falsely rendering it all accessible and familiar At the same time we do note questions and concerns that cross borders whether these imagined lines are spatial temporal gendered or racial
