Melson,2021-02-05 This military study examines the evolution of the Rhodesian armed services during the complex conflicts of the Cold War era Through the 1960s and 1970s Africa endured a series of conflicts involving Rhodesia South Africa and Portugal in conflict with the Frontline States The Cold War brought outside influences including American interest at the diplomatic economic and social level In Fighting for Time military historian Charles D Melson sheds new light on this complex and consequential period through analysis of the Rhodesian military Drawing on a wealth of primary sources Melson examines the Rhodesian military s evolution into a special operations force conducting intelligence driven operations Along the way he identifies key lessons to be learned from this low intensity conflict at the level of tactics techniques and procedures Melson looks closely at the military response to the emerging revolutionary threat and the development of general and special purpose units He addresses the critical use of airpower as a force multiplier supporting civil police and army efforts ranging from internal security and border control to internal and external combat operations the necessity of full time joint command structures and the escalation of cross border attacks and unconventional responses as the conflict evolved Notes from the Dream House Philip French,2018-10-25 Notes from the Dream House is a best of selection of reviews by the celebrated Observer film critic Philip French Spanning half the history of cinema his reviews cover a great variety of films from westerns and gangsters to art movies and musicals the hits and the misses the good the bad and the ugly French takes on films as disparate as The Gospel According to St Matthew and Ted The Remains of the Day and Caligula His reviews are personal witty and sharply perceptive Time and again he reveals not only an encyclopaedic knowledge of cinema but also an erudition an enthusiasm and a boundless curiosity Taken together they form an illuminating commentary on modern culture but above all they are a distillation of one man s lifelong love of cinema a worthy memorial to one of the most respected and beloved of modern critics Bullets Not Ballots Jacqueline L. Hazelton,2021-05-15 In Bullets Not Ballots Jacqueline L Hazelton challenges the claim that winning hearts and minds is critical to successful counterinsurgency campaigns Good governance this conventional wisdom holds gains the besieged government popular support denies support to the insurgency and makes military victory possible Hazelton argues that major counterinsurgent successes since World War II have resulted not through democratic reforms but rather through the use of military force against civilians and the co optation of rival elites Hazelton offers new analyses of five historical cases frequently held up as examples of the effectiveness of good governance in ending rebellions the Malayan Emergency the Greek Civil War the Huk Rebellion in the Philippines the Dhofar rebellion in Oman and the Salvadoran Civil War to show that although unpalatable it was really brutal repression and bribery that brought each conflict to an end By showing how compellence works in intrastate conflicts Bullets Not Ballots makes clear that whether or not the international community decides these human moral and material costs are acceptable responsible policymaking requires recognizing the actual components of counterinsurgent success and the limited influence that external powers have over the tactics of counterinsurgent elites

Fighting and Writing Luise White, 2021-02-08 In Fighting and Writing Luise White brings the force of her historical insight to bear on the many war memoirs published by white soldiers who fought for Rhodesia during the 1964 1979 Zimbabwean liberation struggle In the memoirs of white soldiers fighting to defend white minority rule in Africa long after other countries were independent White finds a robust and contentious conversation about race difference and the war itself These are writings by men who were ambivalent conscripts generally aware of the futility of their fight not brutal pawns flawlessly executing the orders and parroting the rhetoric of a racist regime Moreover most of these men insisted that the most important aspects of fighting a guerrilla war tracking and hunting knowledge of the land and of the ways of African society were learned from black playmates in idealized rural childhoods In these memoirs African guerrillas never lost their association with the wild even as white soldiers boasted of bringing Africans into the intimate spaces of regiment and regime
