Fighting Words Language Policy And Ethnic Relations In Asia:

Fighting Words Michael Edward Brown, Sumit Ganguly, 2003 A study of the impact of language policies on ethnic relations in fifteen Asian and Pacific countries Language, Nation and Development in Southeast Asia Lee Hock Guan, Leo Suryadinata, 2007 Papers from a workshop on Language Nation and Development in Southeast Asia held in Singapore 2003

The Languages and Linguistics of Mainland Southeast Asia Paul Sidwell, Mathias Jenny, 2021-08-23 The handbook will offer a survey of the field of linguistics in the early 21st century for the Southeast Asian Linguistic Area The last half century has seen a great increase in work on language contact work in genetic theoretical and descriptive linguistics and since the 1990s especially documentation of endangered languages The book will provide an account of work in these areas focusing on the achievements of SEAsian linguistics as well as the challenges and unresolved issues and provide a survey of the relevant major publications and other available resources We will address Survey of the languages of the area organized along genetic lines with discussion of relevant political and cultural background issues Theoretical descriptive and typological issues Genetic classification and historical linguistics Areal and contact linguistics Other areas of interest such as sociolinguistics semantics writing systems etc Resources major monographs and monograph series dictionaries journals electronic data bases etc Grammar sketches of languages representative of the genetic and structural diversity of the region

Language Policy and Modernity in Southeast Asia Antonio L. Rappa, Lionel Wee Hock An, 2006-06-15 This original piece of research considers the ways in which modernity challenges and informs the language policies of various Southeast Asian nations It combines theoretical arguments from policy studies language policy and political theory with quantitative figures where necessary Succinctly and clearly written this volume fills the research gap on the topic while bringing up to date the various political social and policy developments The Last Language on Earth Piers Kelly, 2021-12-31 The Last Language on Earth is an ethnographic history of the disputed Eskayan language spoken today by an isolated upland community living on the island of Bohol in the southern Philippines After Eskaya people were first discovered in 1980 visitors described the group as a lost tribe preserving a unique language and writing system Others argued that the Eskaya were merely members of a utopian rural cult who had invented their own language and script Rather than adjudicating outsider polemics this book engages directly with the language itself as well as the direct perspectives of those who use it today Through written and oral accounts Eskaya people have represented their language as an ancestral creation derived from a human body Reinforcing this traditional view Piers Kelly's linguistic analysis shows how a complex new register was brought into being by fusing new vocabulary onto a modified local grammar In a synthesis of linguistic ethnographic and historical evidence a picture emerges of a coastal community that fled the ravages of the U S invasion of the island in 1901 in order to build a utopian society in the hills Here they predicted that the world's languages would decline leaving Eskayan as the last language on earth Marshalling anthropological theories of nationalism authenticity and language ideology along with comparisons to similar events across highland Southeast Asia Kelly offers a convincing account of this linguistic mystery and also shows its broader relevance to linguistic anthropology Although the Eskayan situation is unusual it has the power to illuminate the pivotal role that language plays in the pursuit of identity building and political resistance Language, Education, and Identity Chaise LaDousa, Christina P. Davis, 2021-07-08 This book examines medium of instruction in education and studies its social economic and political significance in the lives of people living in South Asia It provides insight into the meaning of medium and what makes it so important to identity aspiration and inequality It questions the ideologized associations between education and social and spatial mobility and discusses the gender and class based marginalization that comes with vernacular medium education The volume also considers how policy measures such as the Right to Education RTE Act in India have failed to address the inequalities brought by medium in schools and investigates questions on language access inclusion and rights Drawing on extensive fieldwork and in depth interviews the book will be indispensable for students and scholars of anthropology education studies sociolinguistics sociology and South Asian studies It will also appeal to those interested in language and education in South Asia especially the role of language in the reproduction of inequality

The ^ALast Language on Earth Piers Kelly, 2021-12-10 The Last Language on Earth is the story of Eskayan a constructed language from the Philippines Unlike better known invented languages such as Esperanto or Klingon Eskayan has now been transmitted from generation to generation within its community for over a century and has come to be regarded by its speakers as the true indigenous language of the island of Bohol The book considers the form of language itself as a point of departure and analyzes the historical circumstances and ideological motivations that brought it into being and which continue to sustain it today

Being and Becoming Kachin Mandy Sadan, 2013-09-26 Ethnic conflict has troubled the Kachin region of Burma since 1961 The area is of increasing contemporary interest because it borders India and China and it has the potential to affect Burma s reintegration into mainstream geopolitics The book examines the conflict within a historical context of marginalisation in the region

Language, Education and Nation-building P. Sercombe, R. Tupas, 2014-09-02 This volume tracks the complex relationships between language education and nation building in Southeast Asia focusing on how language policies have been used by states and governments as instruments of control assimilation and empowerment Leading scholars have contributed chapters each representing one of the countries in the region

Social Difference and Constitutionalism in Pan-Asia Susan H. Williams, 2014-02-10 This book addresses the role of constitutions and constitutionalism in dealing with the challenges of social difference such as religion or race and ethnicity The book brings together lawyers political scientists historians religious studies scholars and area studies experts to consider how constitutions address issues of difference across Pan Asia

Is English an Asian Language? Andy Kirkpatrick, Wang Lixun, 2020-10-29 A comprehensive account of how English is being used and reshaped by multilingual Asian speakers to fit their everyday needs

Democratization and Ethnic Minorities Jacques

Bertrand, Oded Haklai, 2013-10-23 Many new democracies are characterized by majority dominance and ethnocentrism. Varying paths or transitions toward democracy create very different outcomes for how ethnic identities, communities, and politics are recognized. This book illustrates the varied consequences of democratization from ethnic violence, new forms of accommodation to improve minorities' status, or sometimes only minor improvements to life for ethnic minorities. The book treads a nuanced path between conflicting myths of democratization, illustrating that there are a variety of outcomes ranging from violence or stability to the extension of rights, representation, and new resources for ethnic minorities. Contributors discuss the complex mechanisms that determine the impact of democratization of ethnic minorities through five factors: inherited legacies from the pre-transition period, institutional configurations, elite strategies, societal organization, and international influences. Global in scope, this book features a broad range of case studies, both country-specific and regional, including chapters on Nigeria, Kenya, Turkey, and Taiwan, Eastern Europe, the former Soviet Union, Southeast and East Asia. This book provides new insights and makes an important contribution to existing debates on democratization, nationalism, ethnic conflict, and ethnic politics. Language Planning in the Asia Pacific Robert Kaplan, Richard Baldauf, 2013-12-16 This volume covers the language situation in Hong Kong, Timor-Leste, and Sri Lanka, explaining the linguistic diversity, the historical and political contexts, and the current language situation, including language in education, planning, the role of the media, the role of religion, and the roles of non-indigenous languages. Two of the authors are indigenous to the situations described, while the other has undertaken extensive field work and consulting there. The three monographs contained in this volume draw together the literature on each of the polities to present an overview of the research available about each of them, while providing new research-based information. The purpose of the volume is to provide an up-to-date overview of the language situation in each polity based on a series of key questions, in the hope that this might facilitate the development of a richer theory to guide language policy and planning in other polities where similar issues may arise. This book was published as special issues of Current Issues in Language Planning. Myanmar N. Ganesan, Kyaw Yin Hlaing, 2007 Covers issues of historical influence and political considerations that have shaped the dominant thinking within the state and the military. Examines the three major ethnic groups in the country: Karen, Kachin, and Shan. Deals with how the various ethnic groups are trying to cope with decades of conflict and reconstruct their communities. Nationalism, Language, and Muslim Exceptionalism Tristan James Mabry, 2015-03-25 Drawing on fieldwork in Iraq, Pakistan, India, Indonesia, and the Philippines, Nationalism, Language, and Muslim Exceptionalism compares the politics of six Muslim separatist movements, locating shared language and print culture as a central factor in Muslim ethnonational identity. The Oxford Handbook of Peace History Charles F. Howlett, Christian Philip Peterson, Christian Peterson, Deborah D. Buffton, David L. Hostetter, 2023 The Oxford Handbook of Peace History uniquely explores the distinctive dynamics of peacemaking across time and place and analyzing how past and present societies have created diverse cultures of peace and applied strategies for peaceful change The analysis draws upon the expertise of many well respected and distinguished scholars from disciplines such as anthropology economics history international relations journalism peace studies sociology and theology This work is divided into six parts The first three sections address the chronological sweep of peace history from the Ancient Egyptians to the present while the last three cover biographical profiles of peace advocates key issues in peace history and the future of peace history A central theme throughout is that the quest for peace is far more than the absence of war or the pursuit of social justice ideals Students and scholars alike will appreciate that this work examines the field of peace history from an international perspective and expands analysis beyond traditional Eurocentric frameworks This volume also goes far beyond previously published handbooks and anthologies in answering what are the strengths and limits of peace history as a discipline and what can it offer for the future It also has the unique features of a state of the field introduction with a detailed treatment of peace history historiography and a chapter written by a noted archivist in the field that provides a comprehensive list of peace research resources It is a work ably suited applicable for classrooms and scholarly bookshelves
