new interpretations and frameworks for understanding Malick's unique creative choices. Drawing from a range of diverse academic disciplines, the collection analyzes the groundbreaking qualities of his cinematic style and the philosophical underpinnings that permeate his work. Rigorously researched and unique, the arguments presented within this volume shed new light on Malick and the cinematic medium. Living in the End Times Slavoj Žižek, 2011-04-18. There should no longer be any doubt: global capitalism is fast approaching its terminal crisis. But if the end of capitalism seems to many like the end of the world, how is it possible for Western society to face up to the end times? In a major new analysis of our global situation, Žižek argues that our collective responses to economic Armageddon correspond to the stages of grief: ideological denial, explosions of anger and attempts at bargaining followed by depression and withdrawal. For this edition, Žižek has written a long afterword that leaves almost no subject untouched, from WikiLeaks to the nature of the Chinese Communist Party.

Image Receptors in Oral and Maxillofacial Radiology Kesari Singh, 2020-07-08. This book is a comprehensive guide for all dental faculty and students to know about the image receptors used and the differences between them in the field of dental radiology. Feminist Auteurs Geetha Ramanathan, 2006. Feminist Auteurs examines a rich and diverse body of work that has received insufficient attention both in film studies and in feminist theory on film. Looking at individual films within the context of feminist film as a genre, Ramanathan examines film from diverse cultural traditions while paying close attention to what might be regarded as feminist in different cultural contexts. The films chosen expand our ideas of feminism, covering as they do film from Africa, Latin America, Europe, Asia, and the US. Full-length interpretations of twenty-four films, both older and contemporary, including Vagabond, India Song, Bhaji on the Beach, Chocolat, and Daughters of the Dust, lay out a complete and powerful framework for reading women's film. Poison and Poisoning in Science, Fiction and Cinema Heike Klippel, Bettina Wahrig, Anke Zechner, 2017-11-14. This book is about poison and poisonings; it explores the facts, fears, and fictions that surround this fascinating topic. Poisons attract attention because they are both dangerous and hard to discover. Secretive and invisible, they are a challenging object of representation. How do science studies, literature, and especially film, the medium of the visible, explain and show what is hidden? How can we deal with uncertainties emerging from the ambivalence of dangerous substances? These considerations lead the editors of this volume to the notion of precarious identities as a key discursive marker of poisons and related substances. This book is unique in facilitating a multi-faceted conversation between disciplines. It draws on examples from historical cases of poisoning, figurations of uncertainty, and blurred boundaries in literature and cinematic examples from early cinema and arthouse to documentary and blockbuster. The contributions work with concepts from gender studies, new materialism, post-colonialism, deconstructivism, motif studies, and discourse analysis. Daily Life in 1990s America Richard A. Schwartz, 2024-09-05. With the end of the Cold War, the invention of the World Wide Web, the widespread availability of cellphones and personal computers, and remarkable advances in space exploration, the 1990s introduced a new era in human history. During that decade, the United States experienced changes that previous generations never imagined the abrupt collapse of worldwide communism the ability of ordinary Americans to connect with individuals and organizations throughout the world via the internet and the initiation and near completion of the Human Genome Project that led to unprecedented advances in human health These and other developments changed Americans lives forever This volume in the Daily Life through History series examines how the cultural trends of the 1990s revolutionized the way people were able to teach and learn conduct business express themselves and interact with one another The book goes on to explore the evolution in long held attitudes about the proper roles for women in society sex sexuality and the concept of family to include other kinds of relationships childless marriages single parent and mixed families and LGBTQ relationships New trends in fashion and music from grunge to hip hop culture also had a powerful impact on how some Americans presented themselves while others rejected these cultural shifts and clung fervently and sometimes violently to traditional values and worldviews Daily Life in 1990s America enables readers to better understand the significance complexities and enduring influence of this era defining period in American history

Hollywood from Vietnam to Reagan . . . and Beyond Robin Wood, 2003-07-10 This classic of film criticism long considered invaluable for its eloquent study of a problematic period in film history is now substantially updated and revised by the author to include chapters beyond the Reagan era and into the twenty first century For the new edition Robin Wood has written a substantial new preface that explores the interesting double context within which the book can be read that in which it was written and that in which we find ourselves today Among the other additions to this new edition are a celebration of modern screwball comedies like My Best Friend's Wedding and an analysis of 90s American and Canadian teen movies in the vein of American Pie Can't Hardly Wait and Rollercoaster Also included are a chapter on Hollywood today that looks at David Fincher and Jim Jarmusch among others and an illuminating essay on Day of the Dead Proceedings of the 1st International Conference on University-Industry Collaborations for Sustainable Development Ranjith Dissanayake, Guttilla Yugantha Jayasinghe, Sujeeva Setunge, Dilanthi Amaratunga, Lasith Gunawardana, Pradeep Gajanayake, 2025-01-10 This book includes peer reviewed articles from the 1st International Conference on University industry Collaborations for Sustainable Development ICSD 2024 under the themes of Student Employability Blended Learning Invention and Innovation Technoentrepreneurial Skills Curriculum Development Multidisciplinary Joint Research and other initiatives etc It highlights the latest knowledge of strategic university industry partnerships in Asian universities and brings together academic and industry experts to exchange knowledge and foster collaboration Rain and Moon Dibyendu Mrugaraj, 2015-08-27 When a potential Urban Planner decides to dedicate rest his life for filmmaking he is attacked by questions mostly by himself if not by others At the age of twenty a kid from a typical middleclass Indian family when takes that desiccation for himself he creates a ripple effect for the people surrounding him He waits to see the ripple turn into tsunami with constant counterproductive forces like insecurity self doubt creative block ego etc that modifies his behaviour to cause catastrophic effects like loss of love broken friendship detachment from family isolation and even detachment from his own passion In a faraway Himalayan land while living with a self exile mentality he attempts to retrospect his past with the little will power and optimism that's left one last and deliberate attempt to cure his mental block he devises a creative instrument that would take him and us towards enigmatic dimensions Its the story of a man who wants to be a film maker and who constantly tries to justify to himself regarding why he wants to do so Its the story of an accidental expressionist part of the story's dramatization is available as a video called IRRATIONAL A Retro Dream on YouTube com imdiyu
