radio Much factual detail and a literary chronology guide the reader through the text The Palgrave Handbook of the Vampire Simon Bacon, 2024-04-16 Winner of the The Lord Ruthven Assembly Award for Non Fiction 2024 This Handbook MRW is a unique encompassing overview of the figure of the vampire Not only covering the list of usual suspects this volume provides coverage from the very first reports of vampire like creatures in the 17th century to film and media representations in the 21st century The Palgrave Handbook of the Vampire shows that what you thought you knew about vampires is only a fraction of the real and fascinating story How Stage Playwrights Saved the British Cinema, 1930-1956 David Cottis, 2024-12-26 Examines the film careers and work of British playwrights who worked as screenwriters between 1930 1956 During the period between the 1927 Cinematograph Films Act and the new drama of the 1950s many British writers associated with the stage also wrote for films bringing the techniques of the well made play with them Some like Bernard Shaw Noel Coward and Terence Rattigan were screenwriter stars part of the publicity of the films they worked on Pygmalion Brief Encounter The Way to the Stars Others were less celebrated but had long successful screen careers such as R C Sherriff author of Journey's End who worked on films as different as The Invisible Man The Four Feathers and The Dam Busters Using the authors original archives this book follows the way in which these writers adapted their stage skills for the screen contributing to the post war Golden Age of the British cinema and creating the classic form of screenplay that continues today Cinema and the Indian National Emergency, 2025-07-24 The Indian National Emergency of 1975 to 1977 saw the suspension of civil liberties increasing censorship and extra judicial state control It is recognised as one of the most tumultuous periods in the history of postcolonial India and its socio political consequences have been exhaustively studied Despite this the profound cinematic implications of this event have remained relatively unexplored This book examines the strained relationship between the state and the Indian film industry during this 21 month period of political upheaval Each of the essays written from a broad range of critical perspectives consider the various modes of state suppression adopted from increasing levels of film censorship to police surveillance of film productions and exhibitions Contributors analyse controversial films such as Aandhi 1975 and Nasbandi 1978 which were banned for the duration of the Emergency and overtly political films such as Kissa Kursi Ka 1977 the prints of which were permanently confiscated owing to the film's criticisms of the state They also consider the political and aesthetic dilemmas of state sponsored films such as Ashadh Ka Ek Din 1971 which was made to be explicitly apolitical and came to be known as a key work of New Indian Cinema Movies on Home Ground Ian Craven, 2020-07-13 Movies on Home Ground Explorations in Amateur Cinema offers a critical response to the still under explored mode of amateur cinema as a particular sphere of British film practice Concentrating upon a roughly fifty year period 1930 1980 during which such filmmaking grew rapidly as a significant leisure activity in Britain the volume shows how popular cine assumed distinctive institutional and ideological forms and some remarkable aesthetic emphases grounded in consistent technical and critical apparatuses Although an outline history of such filmmaking is certainly implicit the priority of Movies On Home Ground is to offer a series of overlapping perspectives on amateur movie making with a view to locating such filmmaking as a component of the broader shape of British film culture Emphasis is thus given to institutional contexts technical determinants and the social formations of practising filmmakers as well as to concerns with the construction of amateur outlooks understandings of amateur aesthetics and the remarkable diversity of amateur genericity The anthology thus supplies a text offering support to study courses dealing with the many varieties of non professional participation best understood as truly amateur rather than as independent or alternative filmmaking By granting the amateur a place within the acknowledged range of significant interventions the recognised canon of British filmmaking is widened in fascinating new directions The Oxford Critical and Cultural History of Modernist Magazines

Peter Brooker, Andrew Thacker, 2009-03-26 The first full study of the role of little magazines and their contribution to the making of artistic modernism A major scholarly achievement of immense value to teachers researchers and students

The project of Indian art cinema began in the years following independence in 1947 at once evoking the global reach of the term art film and speaking to the aspirations of the new nation state In this pioneering book Rochona Majumdar examines key works of Indian art cinema to demonstrate how film emerged as a mode of doing history and that in so doing it anticipated some of the most influential insights of postcolonial thought Majumdar details how filmmakers as well as a host of film societies and publications sought to foster a new cinematic culture for the new nation fueled by enthusiasm for a future of progress and development Good films would help make good citizens art cinema would not only earn global prestige but also shape discerning individuals capable of exercising aesthetic and political judgment During the 1960s however Satyajit Ray Mrinal Sen and Ritwik Ghatak the leading figures of Indian art cinema became disillusioned with the belief that film was integral to national development Instead Majumdar contends their works captured the unresolvable contradictions of the postcolonial present which pointed toward possible yet unrealized futures Analyzing the films of Ray Sen and Ghatak and working through previously unexplored archives of film society publications Majumdar offers a radical reinterpretation of Indian film history Art Cinema and India's Forgotten Futures offers sweeping new insights into film's relationship with the postcolonial condition and its role in decolonial imaginations of the future The Revolution of Indian Parallel Cinema in the Global South (1968-1995)

Omar Ahmed, 2025-01-23 Drawing from over a decade of research and writings this book takes you on an epic journey through the history of Indian Parallel Cinema 1968 1995 India the late 1960s Something was in the air A film manifesto penned by passionate cinephiles called for a new cinema An exciting generation of iconoclastic filmmakers were on the march the first to graduate from the newly incarnated Film and Television Institute of India seizing the moment to forge one of the first major post colonial film movements What emerged was an unprecedented level of creativity merging international influences with experimental indigenous styles and creating an aesthetic and thematic rupture and that ultimately led to new ways of making films But it is a story that has rarely been told inextricably absent from the parochial Euro centric and linear histories of film This is the story of Indian Parallel Cinema From auteurs like Mani Kaul and John Abraham to Smita Patil and Om Puri The Revolution of Indian Parallel Cinema in the Global South explores the origins evolution demise and legacy of a film movement that produced a pantheon of innovative filmmakers in excess of two hundred films and a distinctly regional identity in which film societies state funding and political insurgency were catalysts for a defiant radical dialogue much of it anti establishment that broke all the rules Most importantly this publication considers the ways in which Parallel Cinema narrated a new history from below using a range of case studies that includes Uski Roti Mirch Masala and Amma Ariyan
