The Ciphers of the Monks David A. King, 2001 This is the first comprehensive study of an ingenious number notation from the Middle Ages that was devised by monks and mainly used in monasteries A simple notation for representing any number up to 99 by a single cipher somehow related to an ancient Greek shorthand first appeared in early 13th century England brought from Athens by an English monk A second more useful version due to Cistercian monks is first attested in the late 13th century in what is today the border country between Belgium and France with this any number up to 9999 can be represented by a single cipher The ciphers were used in scriptoria for the foliation of manuscripts for writing year numbers preparing indexes and concordances numbering sermons and the like and outside the scriptoria for marking the scales on an astronomical instrument writing year numbers in astronomical tables and for incising volumes on wine barrels Related notations were used in medieval and Renaissance shorthands and coded scripts This richly illustrated book surveys the medieval manuscripts and Renaissance books in which the ciphers occur and takes a close look at an intriguing astrolabe from 14th century Picardy marked with ciphers religious cultural and political climate Books in Series, 1876-1949 R.R. Bowker Company,1982 The Cistercian Order in Medieval Europe Emilia Jamroziak,2015-06-22 The Cistercian Order in Medieval Europe offers an accessible and engaging history of the Order from its beginnings in the twelfth century through to the early sixteenth century Unlike most other existing volumes on this subject it gives a nuanced analysis of the late medieval Cistercian experience as well as the early years of the Order Jamroziak argues that the story of the Cistercian Order in the Middle Ages was not one of a Golden Age followed by decline nor was the true Cistercian spirit exclusively embedded in the early texts to remain unchanged for centuries Instead she shows how the Order functioned and changed over time as an international organisation held together by a novel management system from Estonia in the east to Portugal in the west and from Norway to Italy The ability to adapt and respond to these very different social and economic conditions is what made the Cistercians so successful This book draws upon a wide range of primary sources as well as scholarly literature in several languages to explore the following key areas the degree of centralisation versus local specificity how much the contact between monastic communities and lay people changed over time how the concept of reform was central to the Medieval history of the Cistercian Order This book will appeal to anyone interested in Medieval history and the Medieval Church more generally as well as those with a particular interest in monasticism Churchmen and Urban Government in Late Medieval Italy, c.1200-c.1450 Frances Andrews,Agata Pincelli,2013-11-28 Major new study of secular religious boundaries and the role of the clergy in the administration of Italy s late medieval city states The Cistercians in Scandinavia James France,1992 The Underground Wealth of Nations Jeannette Graulau,2019-01-01 Silver mining was a capitalist business long before the supposed origin of modern capitalism Hundreds of years before a sixteenth century crisis in European agriculture led to the origins of capital investment and finance the silver mining industry exhibited many of the features of modern capitalism Silver mines were large scale businesses that demanded large investments and steady cash flow achieved by spreading that risk through fungible shares and creating legal structures to protect entrepreneurs from financial disaster Jeannette Graulau argues that mining preceded agriculture as the first true capitalist enterprise of the modern world The Cumulative Book Index ,1986 A world list of books in the English language The Finances of the Cistercian Order in the Fourteenth Century Liturgical Press,1985-11-01 The Finances of the Cistercian Order in the Fourteenth Century An Index of Cistercian Authors and Works in Medieval Library Catalogues in Great Britain David N.
