collection and organization of information in the business marketing and financial communities Internet Banking and the Law in Europe Apostolos Ath. Gkoutzinis, 2006-11-02 The European Union has long sought to create a single financial area across Europe where consumers in one country benefit from financial markets and activities in other countries With the emergence of the Internet as a platform for the provision of online banking services the creation of a pan European market for banking services appeared a realistic proposition In practice however this has not happened This book asks why and argues that the creation of banking markets via the Internet relies on both available technologies and appropriate laws and regulations The institutional and legal framework for online banking services in the single European market are examined as is the level of legal harmonization achieved in the UK France and Germany under the influence of the EU Directives pertaining to online banking activities The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau's Semiannual Report to Congress United States.
