"Fallen from the Symbolic World" Wyatt Prunty, 1990-02-22 This study evaluates figure and form in contemporary poetry especially the powers of simile and simile like structures Examining the works of Nemerov Wilbur Bowers Hecht Justice Cunningham Bishop Van Duyn Hollander Pack Kennedy Ammons Creeley and Wright Prunty argues that doubts about language the tradition and theistic assumptions embedded in the tradition have made simile and various simile like arrangements into major modes of thought From Lowell's early interest in the similitudo and the phantasm of Gilson to Husserl's phantasies and Heidegger's interest in similitudo to the use made by contemporary poets of simile he shows that metaphor together with slippage mimicry synaphea conjunctions anacoluthon chiasmus and other simile like patternings have proven to be more trustworthy than symbol and allegory Throughout the study Prunty demonstrates that as uncertainty about language has changed from a predicament of mind to a new way of thinking simile and simile like occurrences have provided poetry with variational thought and constitutive power

Twentieth-Century Metapoetry and the Lyric Tradition Daniella Jancsó, 2019-02-19 Twentieth Century Metapoetry and the Lyric Tradition reveals the unique value of metapoems for exploring twentieth century poetry By placing these texts into a hitherto barely investigated literary historical perspective it demonstrates that modern metapoetry is steeped in the lyric tradition to a much greater extent than previously acknowledged Since these literary continuities that cut across epochal boundaries can be traced across all major poetic movements they challenge established accounts of the history of twentieth century poetry that postulate a radical break with the immediate past Moreover the finding that metapoems perpetuate traditional forms and topoi distinguishes metapoetry historically and systematically from metafiction and metadrama After highlighting the most important differences as regards to the function of metareference in poetry on the one side and in fiction and drama on the other the book concludes with a discussion of how to account for these generic differences theoretically With its extraordinarily subtle and perceptive Ronald Bush St John's College Oxford interpretive readings of over one hundred metapoems by canonical anglophone authors it offers the first representative selection of twentieth century poems about poetry in English

rather than theorized over     Viral Leonard Sweet,2012-03-13 The gospel is nothing without relationship And no one gets it like the Google Generation God came to earth to invite us personally into a relationship And while Christians at times downplay relationships the social media generation is completely sold on the idea In Viral Leonard Sweet says Christians need to learn about connecting with others from the experts those who can't seem to stop texting IM'ing tweeting and updating their Facebook statuses What would happen he asks if Christians devoted less attention to strategies and statistics and paid more attention to pursuing relationships The current generation is driven by a God-given desire to know others and to be known by others Most of them in seeking to connect in meaningful ways have found a place of belonging that is outside the organized church Why not bring the two together Those who are sold out to relationships can teach Christians how to be better friends to people who need God At the same time members of the social media generation can learn how to follow their desire for belonging straight into the arms of God It's time for relationship to be restored to the heart of the gospel And when that happens can revival be far behind End of Chapter Interactives Included     Writers and Miners David C. Duke,2021-10-21 Coal miners evoke admiration and sympathy from the public and writers some seeking a muse others a cause traditionally champion them David C Duke explores more than one hundred years of this tradition in literature poetry drama and film Duke argues that as most writers spoke about rather than to the mining community miners became stock characters in an industrial morality play robbed of individuality or humanity He discusses activist writers such as John Reed Theodore Dreiser and Denise Giardina who assisted striking workers and looks at the writing of miners themselves He examines portrayals of miners from The Trail of the Lonesome Pine to Matewan and The Kentucky Cycle The most comprehensive study on the subject to date Writers and Miners investigates the vexed political and creative relationship between activists and artists and those they seek to represent     A New Way of Seeing Michael Sarnowski,2025-06-04 A New Way of Seeing considers the poetry of five writers Louis Simpson Keith Douglas Richard Hugo Howard Nemerov and Randall Jarrell whose work draws on their activities as soldiers in World War II Basing his examination on extensive primary source research Michael Sarnowski identifies distance both literal and figurative and traumatic memory as two interconnected elements of how these poets internalized the war and made sense of the events they witnessed The book is structured on a gradient related to each poet's proximity to combat as the chapters in turn focus on an infantryman Simpson a tank commander Douglas a bombardier Hugo a pilot Nemerov and a stateside flight instructor Jarrell Sarnowski relies on a wealth of archival material overlooked by previous scholarship including poem drafts correspondence flight logs and personal belongings The conclusion revisits notions of legacy and representation by assessing factors that contributed to the early labeling of World War II soldiers as a Silent Generation in contrast to the outpouring of poetry published during and following the First World War By exploring how poets processed their wartime experiences A New Way of Seeing offers a stark reminder of why it remains vital to recognize the physical mental and psychological consequences endured by veterans

Memory and Fire Gary Pacernick, 1989 Mentions also the Holocaust as a theme in works by Charles Reznikoff Jerome Rothenberg and Louis Simpson antisemitism as a theme in Philip Levine's work and the Wandering Jew motif in the work of Howard Nemerov

On Close Reading John Guillory, 2025-01-08 John Guillory considers close reading within the larger history of reading and writing as cultural techniques At a time of debate about the future of English as a discipline and the fundamental methods of literary study few terms appear more frequently than close reading now widely regarded as the core practice of literary study But what exactly is close reading and where did it come from Here John Guillory author of the acclaimed Professing Criticism takes up two puzzles First why did the New Critics who supposedly made close reading central to literary study so seldom use the term And second why have scholars not been better able to define close reading For Guillory these puzzles are intertwined The literary critics of the interwar period he argues weren't aiming to devise a method of reading at all These critics were most urgently concerned with establishing the judgment of literature on more rigorous grounds than previously obtained in criticism Guillory understands close reading as a technique a particular kind of methodical procedure that can be described but not prescribed and that is transmitted largely by demonstration and imitation Guillory's short book will be essential reading for all college teachers of literature An annotated bibliography curated by Scott Newstok provides a guide to key documents in the history of close reading along with valuable suggestions for further research
