Figuring Grief Gallant Munro And The Poetics Of Elegy:

Figuring Grief Karen Elizabeth Smythe, 1992 Karen Smythe's theoretical study is concerned largely with the works of two of the best short story writers in the English language Mavis Gallant and Alice Munro Although Gallant and Munro have received increasing attention in recent years most critics have taken a general approach to their works usually discussing the themes of memory and loss In contrast Smythe focuses specifically on the importance of elegy in these fictions and on the role the reader plays in reading them Thomas Hardy's Elegiac Prose and Poetry Galia Benziman, 2018-03-28 This book examines the transition from traditional to modern elegy through a close study of Thomas Hardy's oeuvre and its commitment to mourning and remembrance Hardy is usually read as an avowed elegist who writes against the collective forgetfulness typical of the late Victorian era But Hardy as argued here is dialectically implicated in the very cultural and psychological amnesia that he resists as her book demonstrates by expanding the corpus of study beyond the spousal elegies the Poems of 1912 1913 to include a wide variety of poems novels and short stories that deal with bereavement and mourning Locating the modern aspect of Hardy's elegiac writing in this ambivalence and in the subversion of memory as unreliable the book explores the textual moments at which Hardy challenges binary dichotomies such as forgetting vs remembering narcissism vs unselfish commitment grief vs betrayal the work of mourning vs melancholia presence vs absence The book's analysis allows us to relate Hardy's elegiac poetics and particularly his description of the mourner as a writer to shifting late Victorian conceptualizations of death memory art science and gender relations Grief, Identity, and the Arts Bram Lambrecht, Miriam Wendling, 2022-11-28 Death and grief have often elicited the response of creativity from elegies and requiems to memorial architecture Such artistic expressions of grief form the focus of Grief Identity and the Arts which brings together scholars from the disciplines of musicology literature sociology film studies social work and museum studies While presenting one or more case studies from a range of artistic disciplines historical periods or geographical areas each chapter addresses the interdependence of grief and identity in the arts The volume as a whole shows how artistic expressions of grief are both influenced by and contribute to constructions of religious national familial social and artistic identities Contributors to this volume Tammy Clewell Lizet Duyvendak David Gist Maryam Haiawi Owen Hansen Maggie Jackson Christoph Jedan Bram Lambrecht Carlo Leo Wolfgang Marx Tijn Nuyts Despoina Papastathi Julia P aczkiewicz Bavjola Shatro Caroline Supply Nicolette van den Bogerd Eric Venbrux Janneke Weijermars Miriam Wendling and Mariske Westendorp We Are What We Mourn Priscila Uppal, 2009 The first book on the Canadian poetic elegy challenges all previous ideas about the purpose of mourning Diaspora, Law and Literature Klaus Stierstorfer, Daniela Carpi, 2016-11-07 The well known challenges of international migration have triggered new departures in academic approaches with diaspora studies evolving as an interdisciplinary and even transdisciplinary field of study Its emerging methodology shares concerns with another interdisciplinary field the study of the relations between law and literature which focuses on the ways in which the two cultural practices of law and literature mutually negotiate each other and on the question after the ontological commensurability of the domains This volume offers for the first time an attempt to provide an interface between these overlapping interdisciplinary endeavours of literary studies legal studies and diaspora studies In doing so it explores new approaches and invites new perspectives on diasporas migration and the disciplines that study them hopefull also adding to the cultural resources of coping with a swiftly changing social landscape in a globalizing world Victorian Poetry Now Valentine Cunningham,2011-06-03 This book is the definitive guide to Victorian poetry which its author approaches in the light of modern critical concerns and contemporary contexts Valentine Cunningham exhibits encyclopedic knowledge of the poetry produced in this period and offers dazzling close readings of a number of well known poems Draws on the work of major Victorian poets and their works as well as many of the less well known poets and poems Reads poems and poets in the light of both Victorian and modern critical concerns Places poetry in its personal aesthetic historical and ideological context Organized in terms of the Victorian anxieties of self body and melancholy Argues that rhyming repetition is the major formal feature of Victorian poetry Highlights the Victorian obsession with small subjects in small poems Shows how Victorian poetry attempts to engage with the modern subject and how its modernity segues into modernism and postmodernism

Modernism and Mourning Patricia Rae,2007 The essays in Modernism and Mourning examine the work of mourning in modernist literature or more precisely its propensity for resisting this work Drawing from recent developments in the theory and cultural history of mourning its contributors explore the various ways in which modernist writers repudiate Freud s famous injunction to mourners to work through their grief endorsing instead a resistant or melancholic mourning that shapes both their themes and their radical experiments with form The emerging picture of the pervasive influence of melancholic mourning in modernist literature casts new light on longstanding critical arguments especially those about the politics of modernism It also makes clear the pertinence of this literature to the present day in which the catastrophic losses of 9 11 of retaliatory war of racially motivated genocide of the AIDS epidemic have made the work of mourning a subject of widespread interest and debate Patricia Rae is Head of the Department of English at Queen s University The Daughter's Way Tanis MacDonald,2012-09-01 The Daughter's Way investigates negotiations of female subjectivity in twentieth century Canadian women s elegies with a special emphasis on the father s death as a literary and political watershed The book examines the work of Dorothy Livesay P K Page Jay Macpherson Margaret Atwood Kristjana Gunnars Lola Lemire Tostevin Anne Carson and Erin Mour as elegiac daughteronomies literary artifacts of mourning that grow from the poets investigation into the function and limitations of elegiac convention Some poets treat the father as a metaphor for socio political power while others explore more personal iterations of loss but all the poets in The Daughter's Way seek to redefine daughterly duty in a contemporary context by challenging elegiac tradition through questions of genre and gender Beginning with psychoanalytical theories of filiation inheritance and mourning as they are complicated by feminist challenges to theories of kinship and citizenship The Daughter's Way debates the efficacy of the literary work of mourning in twentieth century Canadian poetry By investigating the way a daughter's filial piety performs and sometimes reconfigures such work and situating melancholia as a creative force in women's elegies the book considers how elegies inquire into the rhetoric of mourning as it is complicated by father daughter kinship Writing Grief Christian Riegel, 2003-09-24 Margaret Laurence's much admired Manawaka fiction The Stone Angel A Jest of God The Fire Dwellers A Bird in the House and The Diviners has achieved remarkable recognition for its compassionate portrayal of the attempt to find meaning and peace in ordinary life In Writing Grief Christian Riegel argues that the protagonists in these books achieve resolution through acts of mourning placing this fiction within the larger tradition of writing that explores the nuances and strategies of mourning Riegel's analysis alludes to sociological and literary antecedents of the study of mourning including the tradition of elegy from Derrida and Lacan to Freud van Gennep and Milton The work of mourning is necessary to move from a state of emotional paralysis to one of acceptance and active engagement Laurence's characters perform the work of mourning returning over and over again to the key issues relating to loss and as Riegel's close examination of the texts suggests are changed thereafter fundamentally and significantly As an important study of one aspect of Laurence's oeuvre Writing Grief not only illustrates how Laurence's own preoccupations with mourning are figured but also how different ways of working through grief result in renewed potential for consolation and connection and a renewed definition of self Response to Death Christian Riegel, 2005-02-15 Response to Death presents a literary historical perspective on mourning tracing examples of mourning in literary works from the medieval world to the present day Contributors offer a chronological examination of the concept of the work of mourning in specific literary and historical contexts beginning with an exploration of the medieval York Cycle of plays and sixteenth century French women's lyric and continuing through the Renaissance with considerations of Shakespeare the nineteenth century and into the twentieth century Foreword by Jonathan Hart Signifying Loss Nouri Gana, 2011-01-20 By remapping the configurations of mourning across modernist postmodernist and postcolonial literatures psychoanalysis and deconstruction James Joyce Jamaica Kincaid Tahar Ben Jelloun Elias Khoury Sigmund Freud and Jacques Derrida Signifying Loss studies not only how loss is signified but also the ethico political significance of such signifying First by examining the dynamics between narrative tropes and mourning it elaborates a poetics of narrative mourning in which prosopopoeia becomes the master trope of mourning while catachresis the master trope of melancholia and chiasmus of trauma Second it develops a situated and flexible theory of mourning capable of adjusting to diverse contexts in which the ethical and political stakes of mourning are different in short Signifying Loss calls for the formulation of geopolitical and differential tactics of mourning and mournability rather than for a clear cut strategy of inconsolability A Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English Erin Fallon, R.C. Feddersen, James Kurtzleben, Maurice A. Lee, Susan Rochette-Crawley, 2013-10-31 Although the short story has existed in various forms for centuries it has particularly flourished during the last hundred years Reader's Companion to the Short Story in English includes alphabetically arranged entries for 50 English language short story writers from around the world. Most of these writers have been active since 1960 and they reflect a wide range of experiences and perspectives in their works. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes biography, a review of existing criticism, a lengthier analysis of specific works, and a selected bibliography of primary and secondary sources. The volume begins with a detailed introduction to the short story genre and concludes with an annotated bibliography of major works on short story theory.

Alice Munro's Miraculous Art Janice Fiamengo, Gerald Lynch, 2017-02-14 Alice Munro's Miraculous Art is a collection of sixteen original essays on Nobel laureate Alice Munro's writings. The volume covers the entirety of Munro's career from the first stories she published in the early 1950s as an undergraduate at the University of Western Ontario to her final books. It offers an enlightening range of approaches and interpretive strategies and provides many new perspectives, reconsidered positions, and analyses that will enhance the reading, teaching, and appreciation of Munro's remarkable, indeed, miraculous work. Following the editors' introduction, which surveys Munro's recurrent themes, explains the design of the book, and summarizes each contribution, Munro biographer Robert Thacker contributes a substantial bio-critical introduction to her career. The book is then divided into three sections focusing on Munro's characteristic forms, themes, and most notable literary effects.

Reading the Contemporary Author Alison Gibbons, Elizabeth King, 2023-12 Readers, literary critics, and theorists alike have long demonstrated an abiding fascination with the author, both as a real person, an artist, and creator, and as a theoretical concept that shapes the way we read literary works. Whether anonymous, pseudonymous, or trending on social media, authors continue to be an object of critical and readerly interest. Yet theories surrounding authorship have yet to be satisfactorily updated to register the changes wrought on the literary sphere by the advent of the digital age, the recent turn to autofiction, and the current literary climate, more generally. In Reading the Contemporary Author, the contributors look back on the long history of theorizing the author and offer innovative new approaches for understanding this elusive figure. Mapping the contours of the vast territory that is contemporary authorship, this collection investigates authorship in the context of narrative genres ranging from memoir and autobiographically informed texts to biofiction and novels featuring novelist narrators and characters. Bringing together the perspectives of leading scholars in narratology, cultural theory, literary criticism, stylistics, comparative literature, and autobiography studies, Reading the Contemporary Author demonstrates that a variety of interdisciplinary viewpoints and critical stances are necessary to capture the multifaceted nature of contemporary authorship.

Alice Munro Coral Howells, 2024-07-30 This is the first full-length study of Alice Munro's work to be published in Britain. Highlights Munro's distinctive storytelling methods where everything becomes both touchable and mysterious.

The Tumble of Reason Ajay Heble, 1994-11-01 Much of the critical writing on the fiction of Alice Munro has explored and emphasized Munro's realism. But her stories frequently turn on what has been left out; they are rife with unsent, unfinished letters, with things people mean to but do not say or tell Ajay Heble's study focuses on Munro's involvement with a discourse of absence and suggests that our understanding of these texts often depends not only on what happens in the fiction but also on what might have happened. Munro's stories confer their meaning not simply by referring to an outer reality but also by bestowing upon the reader a stimulating wealth of possibilities taken from what we might call a potential or absent level of meaning. Characteristically they articulate an unresolvable tension between variants on these positions between on the one hand her delineation of a surface reality a world out there which we are invited to recognize as real and true and on the other her involvement with a discourse of absence that challenges the very conventions within which her fiction operates. Drawing on structuralist and post-structuralist theories of language and its relation to meaning knowledge and systems of power and on theories of postmodernist fiction Heble offers both a careful reading of Munro's stories and a theoretical framework for reading meanings in absence. His book extends recent revisionist analysis and makes a valuable and original contribution to the criticism on Munro.

The Cambridge Companion to Alice Munro David Staines, 2016-03-08 This Companion is a thorough introduction to the writings of the Nobel Prize winner Alice Munro. Uniting the talents of distinguished creative writers and noted academics David Staines has put together a comprehensive exploratory account of Munro's biography her position as a feminist her evocation of life in small town Ontario her non-fictional writings as well as her short stories and her artistic achievement. Considering a wide range of topics including Munro's style life writing her personal development and her use of Greek myths Celtic ballads Norse sagas and popular songs this volume will appeal to keen readers of Munro's fiction as well as students and scholars of literature and Canadian and gender studies.

The Found Voice Denis Sampson, 2016-05-12 The Found Voice Writers Beginnings uses the means of literary biography and criticism to do something rarely attempted to understand how a key creative period establishes the authoritative voice of a unique artist. The essays which explore this hidden process of the writer writing focus on some of the major writers of recent times V S Naipaul J M Coetzee Alice Munro William Trevor and Mavis Gallant The focus of investigation is a single work by each author and many of them identify the book in which this turning point was reached The writers have a somewhat different sense of what the voice is a true voice the voice in the mind the writing voice etc yet all of them accept the phrase finding a voice as a decisive and necessary process towards a unique style and vision their raison d'être as artists These essays allow each one to define his or her sense of the process of writing and their style is exploratory Nevertheless certain patterns emerge of migration and cultural displacement of linguistic self consciousness of memory and a reimagining of the first home of absorbing and rejecting mentors and models Crucially the essays rely not just on what led up to the moment of creation but on a sense of the career that emerged from it Most of the writers have written retrospectively in memoirs interviews or essays about the pivotal work and its foundational significance They are the best witnesses to the process although their silence or their commentary is understood in terms of the many strands of the narrative that each essay presents

Transient Questions, 2021-09-20 Mavis Gallant has been a leading literary figure in Canada since her first short story published in 1951 and has grown to be considered internationally as a modern master of the genre Her writing is nuanced sensitive gifted deep and concise She leaves everything open for the hidden potential that can always be discovered Times change society history politics may develop out of recognition Cultures metamorphose Literary landscapes and theories are renewed But the classics of our time stay where they are pillars of that which is solidly about us Mavis Gallant's work is of that calibre her writing will remain interesting and relevant no matter what else happens This book is an exploration of what Gallant's readers are thinking now where they place her in the panorama of literature and what meaning she has for them now Scholars continue to probe into the stories their characters the capsules of history they present and continue to find them challenging As with Shakespeare no amount of scrutiny will yield the final answer That is how complex Gallant's writing is Especially now when the positioning of her characters is a more prominent condition in general we need to review Gallant's artistic insights As Francine Prose says in Harper's Magazine Gallant's cast of characters are a motley assortment of refugees fugitives and travelers and displaced persons scrambling on the margins of a society they will never belong to This is the modern condition As with other great writers Gallant shows herself to be prophetic in cutting down to the roots of the sensibility of our era We are reading her work and we are thinking about it and talking about it This book is part of that large conversation Contributors are Neil Besner Di Brandt Nicole Côté John Lent Gerald Lynch Maria Noelle Ng Peter Stevens Simone Vauthier Per Winther
