Magazine Focus On Doctor Who Movies:

British Popular Films 1929-1939 Stephen Shafer, 2003-09-02 Shafer's study challenges the conventional historical assumption that British feature films during the Thirties were mostly oriented to the middle class. Instead, he makes the critical distinction between films intended for West End and international circulation and those intended primarily for domestic working class audiences. Far from being alienated by a middle class institution, working men and women flocked to see pictures featuring such music hall luminaries as Gracie Fields and George Formby. The New Movie Magazine, 1929

Popular Mechanics Magazine, 1929 The Monster Movies of Universal Studios James L. Neibaur, 2017-06-16 In 1931 Universal Studios released Dracula starring Bela Lugosi. This box office success was followed by a string of films featuring macabre characters and chilling atmospherics including Frankenstein, The Mummy, and The Invisible Man. With each new film, Universal established its place in the Hollywood firmament as the leading producer of horror films, a status it enjoyed for more than twenty years. In The Monster Movies of Universal Studios, James L. Neibaur examines the key films produced by the studio from the early 1930s through the mid 1950s. In each entry, the author recounts the movie's production, provides critical commentary, considers the film's commercial reception, and offers an overall assessment of the movie's significance. Neibaur also examines the impact these films had on popular culture, an influence that resonates in the cinema of fear today. From the world premiere of Dracula to the 1956 release of The Creature Walks among Us, Universal excelled at scaring viewers of all ages and even elicited a few chuckles along the way by pitting their iconic creatures against the comedic pair of Abbott and Costello. The Monster Movies of Universal Studios captures the thrills of these films, making this book a treat for fans of the golden age of horror cinema. Bay Lodyans Cécile Accilien, 2023-08-01 In Haitian Creole, bay lodyans means to tell stories to an audience and more generally to entertain. This book is the first to analyze popular contemporary Haitian films, looking especially at how they respond to the needs and desires of Haitian audiences in and beyond Haiti. Produced between 2000 and 2018 and largely shot with digital cameras and sometimes cellphones, these films focus on the complexities of community, nostalgia, belonging, identity, and the emotional landscapes of exile and diaspora. They reflect sociopolitical and cultural issues related to family, language, immigration, religion, gender, sexuality, and economic hardship. Using storytelling and other less traditionally academic techniques, Cécile Accilien advances Haitian epistemological frameworks. Bay Lodyans integrates terms and concepts from Haitian culture, such as je-rans and kafou, derived from the French words for to manage and crossroads, respectively, and includes interviews with Haitian filmmakers, actors, and scholars in order to challenge the dominance of Western theoretical approaches and perspectives. Compressed Air Magazine ... , 1923 Photo-era Magazine, 1927 Watching Doctor Who Paul Booth, Craig Owen Jones, 2020-02-20 Watching Doctor Who explores fandom's changing attitudes towards Doctor Who. Why do fans love an episode one year but deride it a decade later? How do fans' values of Doctor Who change over time? As a show with an over fifty-year history, Doctor Who helps us understand the changing nature of notions of value and quality in popular television The authors interrogate the way Doctor Who fans and audiences re interpret the value of particular episodes Doctors companions and eras of Who With a foreword by Paul Cornell
