Film Theory And Criticism:

Film Theory and Criticism Gerald Mast, Marshall Cohen, 1974 Film Theory and Criticism Leo Braudy, Marshall Cohen, 2016 Since publication of the first edition in 1974 Leo Braudy and Marshall Cohen's Film Theory and Criticism has been the most widely used and cited anthology of critical writings about film. Now in its eighth edition this landmark text continues to offer outstanding coverage of more than a century of thought and writing about the movies. Incorporating classic texts by pioneers in film theory and cutting edge essays by contemporary scholars the text examines both historical and theoretical viewpoints on the subject. Building upon the wide range of selections and the extensive historical coverage that marked previous editions this new compilation stretches from the earliest attempts to define the cinema to the most recent efforts to place film in the contexts of psychology sociology and philosophy and to explore issues of gender and race. Reorganized into ten sections each comprising the major fields of critical controversy and analysis this new edition features reformulated introductions and biographical headnotes that contextualize the readings making the text more accessible than ever to students film enthusiasts and general readers alike. A wide ranging critical and historical survey Film Theory and Criticism remains the leading text for undergraduate courses in film theory. It is also ideal for graduate courses in film theory and criticism.

Nonfiction Film Theory and Criticism Richard Meran Barsam, 1976 French Film Theory and Criticism Richard Abel, 1988 These two volumes examine a significant but previously neglected moment in French cultural history the emergence of French film theory and criticism before the essays of Andr Bazin. Richard Abel has devised an organizational scheme of six nearly symmetrical periods that serve to bite into the discursive flow of early French writing on the cinema. Each of the periods is discussed in a separate and extensive historical introduction with convincing explications of the various concepts current at the time. In each instance Abel goes on to provide a complementary anthology of selected texts in translation. Amounting to a portable archive these anthologies make available a rich selection of nearly one hundred and fifty important texts most of them never before published in English.
