Filming For Amateurs:

Filming for Amateurs Paul Burnford, 1940      Amateur Movie Making Martha J. McNamara, Karan Sheldon, 2017-06-20

A compelling regional and historical study that transforms our understanding of film history Amateur Movie Making demonstrates how amateur films and home movies stand as testaments to the creative lives of ordinary people enriching our experience of art and the everyday Here we encounter the lyrical and visually expressive qualities of films produced in New England between 1915 and 1960 and held in the collections of Northeast Historic Film a moving image repository and study center that was established to collect preserve and interpret the audiovisual record of northern New England Contributors from diverse backgrounds examine the visual aesthetics of these films while placing them in their social political and historical contexts Each discussion is enhanced by technical notes and the analyses are also juxtaposed with personal reflections by artists who have close connections to particular amateur filmmakers These reflections reanimate the original private contexts of the home movies before they were recast as objects of study and artifacts of public history      How to Film on Location for Amateurs Andrew Buchanan, 2016-09-12 Many of the earliest books particularly those dating back to the 1900s and before are now extremely scarce and increasingly expensive We are republishing these classic works in affordable high quality modern editions using the original text and artwork      Amateur Cinema Charles Tepperman, 2014-12-24 From the very beginning of cinema there have been amateur filmmakers at work It wasn't until Kodak introduced 16mm film in 1923 however that amateur moviemaking became a widespread reality and by the 1950s over a million Americans had amateur movie cameras In Amateur Cinema Charles Tepperman explores the meaning of the amateur in film history and modern visual culture In the middle decades of the twentieth century the period that saw Hollywood's rise to dominance in the global film industry a movement of amateur filmmakers created an alternative world of small scale movie production and circulation Organized amateur moviemaking was a significant phenomenon that gave rise to dozens of clubs and thousands of participants producing experimental nonfiction or short subject narratives Rooted in an examination of surviving films this book traces the contexts of advanced amateur cinema and articulates the broad aesthetic and stylistic tendencies of amateur films      Amateur film Heather Norris Nicholson, 2019-01-04 Amateur film Meaning and practice 1927-77 plunges readers into the world of home movies making and reveals that behind popular perceptions of clichéd family scenes shakily shot at home or by the sea there is much more to discover Exploring who how where when and why amateur enthusiasts made and shared their films provides fascinating insights into an often misunderstood aspect of national visual history This study of how non professional filmmakers responded to the new possibilities of moving image places decades of cine use into a history of changing visual technologies that span from Edwardian visual toys to mobile phones Using northern cine club records interviews and amateur films the author reveals how film making practices ranged from family footage to highly crafted edited productions about local life and distant places made by enthusiasts who sought to educate inspire and entertain armchair audiences during the early decades of British television      Amateur Movie Makers, 1929      Global Perspectives on Amateur Film Histories and Cultures Masha Salazkina, Enrique Fibla-Gutiérrez, 2021-01-05 For too long the field of amateur cinema has focused on North America and Europe In Global Perspectives on Amateur Film Histories and Cultures however editors Masha Salazkina and Enrique Fibla Gutiérrez fill the literature gap by extending that focus and increasing inclusivity Through carefully curated essays Salazkina and Fibla Gutiérrez bring wider meaning and significance to the discipline through their study of alternative cinema in new territories fueled by different historical and political circumstances innovative technologies and ambitious practitioners The essays in this volume work to realize the radical societal democratization that shows up in amateur cinema around the world In particular diverse contributors highlight the significance of amateur filmmaking the exhibition of amateur films the uses and availability of film technologies and the inventive and creative approaches of filmmakers and advocates of amateur film Together these essays shed new light on alternative cinema in a wide range of cities and countries where amateur films thrive in the shadow of commercial and conventional film industries      A New History of German Cinema Jennifer M. Kapczynski, Michael David Richardson, 2012 A dynamic event centered exploration of the hundred year history of German language film This dynamic event centered anthology offers a new understanding of the hundred year history of German language film from the earliest days of the Kintopp to contemporary productions like The Lives of Others Each of the more than eighty essays takes a key date as its starting point and explores its significance for German film history pursuing its relationship with its social political and aesthetic moment While the essays offer ample temporal and topical spread this book emphasizes the juxtaposition of famous and unknown stories granting attention to a wide range of cinematic events Brief section introductions provide a larger historical and film historical framework that illuminates the essays within it offering both scholars and the general reader a setting for the individual texts and figures under investigation Cross references to other essays in the book are included at the close of each entry encouraging readers not only to pursue familiar trajectories in the development of German film but also to trace particular figures and motifs across genres and historical periods Together the contributions offer a new view of the multiple intersecting narratives that make up German language cinema The constellation that is thus established challenges unidirectional narratives of German film history and charts new ways of thinking about film historiography more broadly Jennifer Kapczynski is Associate Professor of German at Washington University St Louis and Michael Richardson is Associate Professor of German at Ithaca College      Postwar Amateur Film Practices in a Transnational Perspective Hanna Stein, Renée Winter, Heidrun Zettelbauer, 2023-11-13 Amateur film and amateur media practices have attracted increasing interest in recent decades in the context of the visual turn Questions of agency participatory and political militant film practices and of representations of self and other are of interest as well as the institutions and networks of amateur productions This special issue of zeitgeschichte contributes to this field of research by examining international and transnational developments of amateur films in the period after the Second World War The collected contributions analyze national specifics and regional shapings of practices as well as cultural constructions in amateur film and video they trace transnational entanglements of amateur media and tackle cross border amateur filmmaking and internationally and globally shared discursive references and uses of metaphors in video activism The authors elaborate parallels to organizational structures in amateur film practices in specific sociopolitical and cultural contexts and discuss aspects of memory and the appropriation of hegemonic visual cultures in individual film practices Small-Gauge Storytelling Ryan Shand,2013-05-30

What do you understand by the term home movie Do you imagine images of babies on the lawn sandcastles on the beach or travels with the family Did you know that amateur filmmakers have also explored fictional genres as diverse and fascinating as their professional counterparts that specific amateur film studios have risen and fallen or that household name directors owe their origins and inspirations to the amateur film movement Across a range of settings from the Canadian north west to the Russian far east this book offers an introduction to the amateur maker of film comedies thrillers adaptations and sci fi It records the ambitions and achievements of enthusiasts struggling to emulate the mainstream and tell their own stories armed with limited resources and endless initiative Color and the Moving Image Simon Brown,Sarah Street,Liz

Watkins,2013-10-28 This new AFI Film Reader is the first comprehensive collection of original essays on the use of color in film Contributors from diverse film studies backgrounds consider the importance of color throughout the history of the medium assessing not only the theoretical implications of color on the screen but also the ways in which developments in cinematographic technologies transformed the aesthetics of color and the nature of film archiving and restoration Color and the Moving Image includes new writing on key directors whose work is already associated with color such as Hitchcock Jarman and Sirk as well as others whose use of color has not yet been explored in such detail including Eric Rohmer and the Coen Brothers This volume is an excellent resource for a variety of film studies courses and the global film archiving community at large Reel Families Patricia R. Zimmermann,1995-07-22 Examines amateur film filmmaking and equipment from the late 1890s to the present focusing on the emerging and changing discourse of aesthetics creativity and innovation and standards of production The Amateur Photographer & Cinematographer ,1929 Amateur Film and Underground Cinema Stefan Szczelkun,2023-10-23 Starting with Early Cinema the next section looks at USA Underground film going on to British Underground film and a closer look at David Leister s lounge cinema clubs of the later 1980s The I switch to a short history of home movies This is all by way of giving background to London s Exploding Cinema 1991 the present which was the subject of my doctoral research at the Royal College of Art 2002 and is now a book Movies on Home Ground Ian Craven,2020-07-13 Movies on Home Ground Explorations in Amateur Cinema offers a critical response to the still under explored mode of amateur cinema as a particular sphere of British film practice Concentrating upon a roughly fifty year period 1930 1980 during which such filmmaking grew rapidly as a significant leisure activity in Britain the volume shows how popular cine assumed distinctive institutional and ideological forms and some remarkable aesthetic emphases grounded in consistent technical and critical apparatuses Although an outline history of such filmmaking is certainly implicit the priority of Movies On Home Ground is to offer a series of overlapping perspectives on amateur movie making with a view to locating such filmmaking as a component of the broader shape of British film culture Emphasis is thus given to institutional contexts technical determinants and the social formations of practising filmmakers as well as to concerns with the construction of amateur outlooks understandings of amateur aesthetics and the remarkable diversity of amateur genericity The anthology thus supplies a text offering support to study courses dealing with the many varieties of non professional participation best understood as truly amateur rather than as independent or alternative filmmaking By granting the amateur a place within the acknowledged range of significant interventions the recognised canon of British filmmaking is widened in fascinating new directions

Amateur Filmmaking Laura Rascaroli, Gwenda Young, Barry Monahan, 2014-02-27 With the advent of digital filmmaking and critical recognition of the relevance of self expression first person narratives and personal practices of memorialization interest in the amateur moving image has never been stronger Bringing together key scholars in the field and revealing the rich variety of amateur filmmaking from home movies of Imperial India and film diaries of life in contemporary China to the work of leading auteurs such as Joseph Morder and Peter Forgcs Amateur Filmmaking highlights the importance of amateur cinema as a core object of critical interest across an array of disciplines With contributions on the role of the archive on YouTube and on the impact of new technologies on amateur filmmaking these essays offer the first comprehensive examination of this growing field
