Narrating Conflict in the Middle East Dina Matar,Zahera Harb,2013-06-21 The term conflict has often been used broadly and uncritically to talk about diverse situations ranging from street protests to war though the many factors that give rise to any conflict and its continuation over a period of time vary greatly The starting point of this innovative book is that it is unsatisfactory either to consider conflict within a singular concept or alternatively to consider each conflict as entirely distinct and unique Narrating Conflict in the Middle East explores another path to addressing long term conflict The contributors set out to examine the ways in which such conflicts in Palestine and Lebanon have been and are narrated imagined and remembered in diverse spaces including that of the media They examine discourses and representations of the conflicts as well as practices of memory and performance in narratives of suffering and conflict all of which suggest an embodied investment in narrating or communicating conflict In so doing they engage with local global and regional realities in Lebanon and in Palestine and they respond dynamically to these realities

World Guide to Television & Film ,1995 Darcy Lange, Videography as Social Practice Mercedes Vicente, 2023-11-20 The Videography of Darcy Lange is a critical monograph of a pivotal figure in early analogue video Trained as a sculptor at the Royal College of Art Lange developed a socially engaged video practice with remarkable studies of people at work in industrial farming and teaching contexts that drew from conceptual art social documentary and structuralist filmmaking Lange saw in portable video a democratic tool for communication and social transformation continuing the legacy of the revolutionary avant garde projects that merged art with social life and turned audiences into producers This book follows Lange s trajectory from his early observational studies to the crisis of representation and socially engaged video and activism as it is shaped by and resists the artistic cultural and political preoccupations of the 1970s and 1980s It strikes a balance between being a monographic account providing a close analysis of Lange s oeuvre and drawing from unpublished archival materials a sort of catalogue raisonn  whilst maintaining a breadth with theoretical discourses around the themes of labour and class education and indigenous struggles central to his work The book's frameworks of Conceptual Art structuralist and ethnographic film theory social documentary and the critique of representation video as social practice and the notion of feedback participatory socially engaged art and postcolonial and indigenous theory expand our understanding of video outside the predominant structuralist tendencies Lange's transnational and nomadic career introduces notions of alterity and challenges nationalistic accounts that excluded him in the past

Transformation of Contemporary Film Genre Fangyi Xu, 2022-10-25 This book is the first one focusing on Chinese mainstream films from a cross disciplinary perspective Based on case studies it discusses three subgenres of mainland Chinese commercial mainstream films and offers an approach to studying the transformation of Chinese mainstream film within the theoretical frameworks of genre theory and screenwriting method It helps professionals understand the genres and narratives of Chinese mainstream films and also serves as a must read for non professionals interested in Chinese cinema

Hollywood Theory, Non-Hollywood Practice Annette Davison, 2017-07-05 Relatively little has been written about film scores and soundtracks outside of Hollywood cinema Hollywood Theory Non Hollywood Practice addresses this gap by looking at the practices of film soundtrack composition for non Hollywood films made after 1980 Annette Davison argues that since the mid 1970s the model of the classical Hollywood score has functioned as a form of dominant ideology in relation to which alternative scoring and soundtrack practices may assert themselves The first part of the book explores some of the key theoretical issues and debates in film studies and film music studies The second part comprises a series of case studies of non Hollywood scores Starting with Jean Luc Godard's Pr m Carmen 1983 Davison argues that the film's score offers a deconstruction of the relationship between sound and image proposed by classical Hollywood film. Derek Jarman's The Garden (1990) takes the debate a step further in its exploration of the possibility that a film's soundtrack may be liberated from slavery to the image track. Wings of Desire (1987) directed by Wim Wenders offers Davison believes a negotiation between classical and alternative scoring and soundtrack practices while David Lynch's Wild at Heart (1990) actually fully integrates scoring and soundtrack practices so that sounds and dialogue are used in musical ways. Seeking to stimulate debate about the aesthetics and interpretation of film scores and soundtracks in general, this book develops an important synthesis of film studies and musicology.
