American Media and Mass Culture Donald Lazere,1987-12-07 On subjects from Superman to rock n roll from Donald Duck to the TV news from soap operas and romance novels to the use of double speak in advertising these lively essays offer students of contemporary media a comprehensive counterstatement to the conservatism that has been ascendant since the seventies in American politics and cultural criticism Donald Lazere brings together selections from nearly forty of the most prominent Marxist feminist and other leftist critics of American mass culture from a dozen academic disciplines and fields of media activism The collection will appeal to a wide range of students scholars and general readers

It Came From the 1950s! Darryl Jones,Elizabeth McCarthy,Bernice M. Murphy,2011-10-04 An eclectic and insightful collection of essays predicated on the hypothesis that popular cultural documents provide unique insights into the concerns anxieties and desires of their times 1950s popular culture is analysed by leading scholars and critics such as Christopher Frayling Mark Jancovich

Kim Newman and David J Skal American Audiences on Movies and Moviegoing Tom Stempel, 2021-12-14 A unique perspective on half a century of American cinema from the audience's point of view Tom Stempel goes beyond the comments of professional reviewers concentrating on the opinions of ordinary people He traces shifting trends in genre and taste examining and questioning the power films have in American society Stempel blends audience response with his own observations and analyzes box office results that identify the movies people actually went to see not just those praised by the critics Avoiding statistical summary he presents the results of a survey on movies and moviegoing in the respondents own words words that surprise amuse and irritate The moviegoers respond Big bad plane big bad motorcycle and big bad Kelly McGillis On Top Gun All I can recall were the slave girls and the Golden Calf sequence and how it got me excited My parents must have been very pleased with my enthusiasm for the Bible On why a seven year old boy stayed up to watch The Ten Commandments I learned the fine art of seduction by watching Faye Dunaway smolder A woman's reaction to seeing Bonnie and Clyde At age fifteen Jesus said he would be back he just didn't say what he would look like On E T Quasimodo is every seventh grader On why The Hunchback of Notre Dame should play well with middle schoolers A moronic very Hollywood script and a bunch of dancing teddy bears On Return of the Jedi I couldn't help but think how Mad magazine would lampoon this On The Exorcist Gender in Science Fiction Films, 1964-1979 Bonnie Noonan, 2015-06-08 The 1950s era of science fiction film effectively ended when space flight became a reality with the first manned orbit of Earth in 1962 As the genre's wildly speculative depictions of science and technology gave way to more reality based representations relations between male and female characters reflected the changing political and social climates of the era Drawing on critical analyses film reviews and cultural commentaries this book examines the development of science fiction film and its representations of gender from the groundbreaking films of 1968 including 2001 A Space Odyssey Barbarella and Planet of the Apes through its often overlooked Middle Period which includes such films as Colossus The Forbin Project 1970 The Stepford Wives 1975 and A Boy and His Dog 1975 The author examines intersections of gender and race in The Omega Man 1971 and Frogs 1972 gender and dystopia in Soylent Green 1973 and Logan's Run 1976 and gender and computers in Demon Seed 1977 The big budget films of the late 1970s Close Encounters of the Third Kind Alien and Star Wars are also discussed Film, a Modern Art Aaron Sultanik, 1986 Monsters in the Machine Steffen Hantke, 2016-06-20 During the 1950s and early 1960s the American film industry produced a distinct cycle of films situated on the boundary between horror and science fiction Using the familiar imagery of science fiction from alien invasions to biological mutation and space travel the vast majority of these films subscribed to the effects and aesthetics of horror film anticipating the dystopian turn of many science fiction films to come Departing from projections of American technological awe and optimism these films often evinced paranoia unease fear shock and disgust Not only did these movies address technophobia and its psychological social and cultural corollaries they also returned persistently to the military as a source of character setting and conflict Commensurate with a state of perpetual mobilization the US military comes across as an inescapable presence in American life Regardless of their genre Steffen Hantke argues that these films have long been understood as allegories of the Cold War They register anxieties about two major issues of the time atomic technologies especially the testing and use of nuclear weapons as well as communist aggression and or subversion Setting out to question expand and correct this critical argument Hantke follows shifts and adjustments prompted by recent scholarly work into the technological political and social history of America in the 1950s Based on this revised historical understanding science fiction films appear in a new light as they reflect on the troubled memories of World War II the emergence of the military industrial complex the postwar rewriting of the American landscape and the relative insignificance of catastrophic nuclear war compared to America s involvement in postcolonial conflicts around the globe

Back to the Fifties Michael D. Dwyer,2015-06-10 Throughout the 1970s and 1980s Hollywood studios and record companies churned out films albums music videos and promotional materials that sought to recapture revise and re imagine the 1950s Breaking from dominant wisdom that casts the trend as wholly defined by Ronald Reagan s politics or the rise of postmodernism Back to the Fifties reveals how Fifties nostalgia from 1973 to 1988 was utilized by a range of audiences for diverse and often competing agendas Films from American Graffiti to Hairspray and popular music from Sha Na Na to Michael Jackson shaped and were shaped by the complex social political and cultural conditions of the Reagan Era By closely examining the ways that the Fifties was remade and recalled Back to the Fifties explores how cultural memories were fostered for a generation of teenagers trained by popular culture to rewind record recycle and replay
