Fin De Siècle:

The Fin-de-Siècle World Michael Saler, 2014-11-20 This comprehensive and beautifully illustrated collection of essays conveys a vivid picture of a fascinating and hugely significant period in history the Fin de Siècle Featuring contributions from over forty international scholars this book takes a thematic approach to a period of huge upheaval across all walks of life and is truly innovative in examining the Fin de Siècle from a global perspective The volume includes pathbreaking essays on how the period was experienced not only in Europe and North America but also in China Japan the Middle East Latin America Africa India and elsewhere across the globe Thematic topics covered include new concepts of time and space globalization the city and new political movements including nationalism the New Liberalism and socialism and communism The volume also looks at the development of mass media over this period and emerging trends in culture such as advertising and consumption film and publishing as well as the technological and scientific changes that shaped the world at the turn of the nineteenth century such as the invention of the telephone new transport systems eugenics and physics The Fin de Siècle World also considers issues such as selfhood through chapters looking at gender sexuality adolescence race and class and considers the importance of different religions both old and new at the turn of the century Finally the volume examines significant and emerging trends in art music and literature alongside movements such as realism and aestheticism This volume conveys a vivid picture of how politics religion popular and artistic culture social practices and scientific endeavours fitted together in an exciting world of change It will be invaluable reading for all students and scholars of the Fin de Siècle period

Art Nouveau in Fin-de-siècle France Debora Silverman, 1989 Explores the shift in the locus of modernity in fin de siècle France from technological monument to private interior The text examines the political economic social intellectual and artistic factors specific to the French fin de siècle that interacted

Language, Science and Popular Fiction in the Victorian Fin-de-siècle Christine Ferguson, 2006 Christine Ferguson's timely study is the first comprehensive examination of the importance of language in forming a crucial nexus among popular fiction biology and philology at the Victorian fin de siècle Ferguson demonstrates how Darwinian accounts of primitive and animal language were co-opted into wider cultural debates about the apparent brutality of popular fiction and shows how popular novelists used their fantastic narratives to radically reformulate the relationships among language thought and progress that underwrote much of the contemporary prejudice against mass literary taste

Fin de Siècle and Its Legacy Mikulas Teich, Roy Porter, 1990 Contrary to popular conceptions of decadence this volume of essays argues that the 1900s otherwise known as la fin de Siècle were in fact a time of essentially positive and progressive dramatic change

Russian Writers and the Fin de Siècle Katherine Bowers, Ani Kokobobo, 2015-06-17 Russian literature has a reputation for gloomy texts especially during the late nineteenth century This volume argues that a fin de siècle mood informed Russian literature long before the chronological end of the nineteenth century in ways that had significant impact on the development of Russian realism Some chapters consider ideas more readily associated with fin de siècle Europe such as degeneration theory bieterminism Freudian psychoanalysis or apocalypticism alongside earlier Russian realist texts by writers such as Turgenev Dostoevsky or Tolstoy Other chapters explore the changes that realism underwent as modernism emerged examining later nineteenth century or early twentieth century texts in the context of the earlier realist tradition or their own cultural moment Overall a team of emerging and established scholars of Russian literature and culture present a wide range of creative and insightful readings that shed new light on later realism in all its manifestations

Sexuality at the Fin de Siècle Peter Maxwell Cryle, Christopher E. Forth, 2008 It has come to be widely accepted that sexuality as we know it took shape at the end of the nineteenth century This is when Krafft Ebing asserted that sexual feeling is really the root of all ethics and no doubt of aestheticism and religion and Havelock Ellis declared sexuality to be the central problem of life Yet however self evident Ellis's claim about sexuality might seem the act of placing something at the center is the consequence of insistent cultural work that engages with competing views about bodies and indeed about the life of society This volume examines how this work was carried out and what resulted from such efforts

BOOK JACKET Fin de Siècle Beirut Jens Hanssen, 2005-07-28 Postwar Beirut conjures up contradictory images of remarkable openness and inconceivable violence of great antiquity and a bright future The Lebanese capital stands for Arab cosmopolitanism and cultural effervescence but also for its tragedies of destruction This book examines the historical formation of Beirut as a multiply contested Mediterranean city Fin de Siècle Beirut is a landmark contribution to the growing literature in Ottoman studies in Arab cultural history and on Mediterranean cities Combining urban theory particularly Henri Lefebvre's work on cities and capitalism with postcolonial methodology the central thesis of this book is that modern Beirut is the outcome of persistent social and intellectual struggles over the production of space The city of Beirut was at once the product the object and the project of imperial and urban politics of difference overlapping European Ottoman and municipal civilising missions competed in the political fields of administration infrastructure urban planning public health education public morality journalism and architecture Jens Hanssen offers a comprehensive original account of the emergence of modern Beirut out of an economic shift away from Acre in the wake of the Napoleonic wars He argues that the Ottoman government's decision to heed calls for the creation of a new province around Beirut and grant it provincial capital status in 1888 paved the way for fundamental urban and regional reconfigurations long before colonial policies during the French Mandate period This new Ottoman province came to constitute the territorial embodiment of regional self determination for Arab nationalists in Beirut until the dissolution of the Ottoman Empire after World War I Drawing on published and unpublished Ottoman government documents Arabic sources and European archival material Hanssen's book traces the urban experience of modernity in the Ottoman Empire The transformation of everyday life in late nineteenth century Beirut and the concomitant policies of urban management is vividly set against the devastating civil war in Mount Lebanon and Damascus in 1860

Art and Womanhood in Fin-de-Siècle Writing Catherine Delyfer, 2015-10-06

Lucas Malet is one of a number of forgotten female writers whose work bridges the gap between George Eliot and Virginia Woolf. Malet's writing was intrinsically linked to her passion for art. This is the first book-length study of Malet's novels.

From Fin-de-siècle to Theresienstadt Helga Kraft, Dagmar C. G. Lorenz, 2007 Original Scholarly Monograph

Fin-de-siècle Vienna Carl E. Schorske, 1979 Seven interlinked essays on Habsburg Vienna in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries focus on the intersection of politics and culture and the achievements of the city's geniuses.

Degeneration, decadence and disease in the Russian fin de siècle Frederick White, 2015-11-01 Early in the twentieth century Russia was experiencing a decadent period of cultural degeneration just as science was developing ways to identify medical conditions which supposedly reflected the health of the entire nation. Leonid Andreev, the leading literary figure of his time, stepped into the breach of this scientific discourse with literary works about degenerates. The spirited social debates on mental illness, morality, and sexual deviance which resulted from these works became part of the ongoing battle over the definition and depiction of the irrational, complicated by Andreev's own publicised bouts with neurasthenia. This book examines the concept of pathology in Russia, the influence of European medical discourse, the development of Russian psychiatry, and the role that it had in popular culture by investigating the life and works of Andreev. It engages the emergence of psychiatry and the role that art played in the development of this objective science. Science, Fiction, and the

Fin-de-Siècle Periodical Press Will Tattersdill, 2016-03-29 In this revisionary study Will Tattersdill argues against the reductive two cultures model of intellectual discourse by exploring the cultural interactions between literature and science embodied in late nineteenth century periodical literature, tracing the emergence of the new genre that would become known as science fiction. He examines a range of fictional and non-fictional fin de siècle writing around distinct scientific themes: Martian communication, future prediction, X-rays, and polar exploration. Every chapter explores a major work of H.G. Wells but also presents a wealth of exciting new material drawn from a variety of late Victorian periodicals. Arguing that the publications in which they appeared as well as the stories themselves played a crucial part in the development of science fiction, Tattersdill uses the form of the general interest magazine as a way of understanding the relationship between the arts and the sciences and the creation of a new literary genre. Edinburgh Companion to Fin de Siècle Literature, Culture and the Arts Josephine M. Guy, 2017-10-23 The late nineteenth century fin de siècle has proved an enduringly fascinating moment in literary and cultural history. It is associated with the emergence of intriguing figures such as the new woman and Uranian, with contradictory impulses of decadence and decay on the one hand and of experiment and renewal on the other, as well as with unprecedented intercultural exchange, especially between Britain and France. The 22 newly commissioned essays collected here re-examine some of the key concepts taken to define the fin de siècle while also introducing hitherto overlooked cultural phenomena into the frame, such as the importance of humanitarianism. The impact of recent research in material culture is explored, particularly how the history of the book and the history of performance culture is changing our understanding of this period A wide range of cultural activities is discussed from participation in avant garde theatre to interior decoration and from the writing of poetry to political and religious activism Together the essays provide new scholarly insights into British fin de siècle and enrich our understanding of this complex period while paying particular attention to the importance of regionalism

Fin(s) de Siècle in Scandinavian Perspective Faith Ingwersen, Mary Kay Norseng, 1993 Essays focusing on the artistic innovations of Scandinavian fin de siècles This collection of essays by eminent Scandinavists focusses on works and artistic movements prominent towards the ends of the last four centuries The last decade of each century has seen amazing innovations in Scandinavian arts especially in literature the flowering of genres in national languages in the 1600s the bawdy rococo voice of Carl Michael Bellman in the 1700s the rise of Scandinavian drama with August Strindberg and Henrik Ibsen and the neoromanticism of the premodernistic novels of Hamsun Each essay is a study from the unique perspective of one of the field's foremost European or American scholars and is inspired by the Renaissance interests of the Norwegian scholar Harlad S Naess The collection as a whole contributes to the creation of a modern multilayered view of the beginnings and endings of the seventeenth eighteenth nineteenth and twentieth century worlds in Scandinavia and Scandinavian America

Feminism/femininity in Chinese Literature Whitney Crothers Dilley, 2002 The present volume of Critical Studies is a collection of selected essays on the topic of feminism and femininity in Chinese literature Although feminism has been a hot topic in Chinese literary circles in recent years this remarkable collection represents one of the first of its kind to be published in English The essays have been written by well known scholars and feminists including Kang I Sun Chang of Yale University and Li Ziyun a writer and feminist in Shanghai China The essays are inter and multi disciplinary covering several historical periods in poetry and fiction from the Ming Qing periods to the twentieth century In particular the development of women's writing in the New Period post 1976 is examined in depth The articles thus offer the reader a composite and broad perspective of feminism and the treatment of the female in Chinese literature As this remarkable new collection attests the voices of women in China have begun calling out loudly in ways that challenge prevalent views about the Chinese female persona

Fin de Siècle Shearer West, 1994 Fin de siècle is a term that represents a cultural malaise deriving from the anxiety and uncertainty of a society approaching the end of a century and based on a belief that this transitional time will bring decay decline and ultimate disaster From the basis of the art of the late nineteenth century Shearer West examines the fin de siècle as a cultural phenomenon throughout the Western world Dust jacket
