

Aim

- Situation in the financial sector: There are plenty of monetary indicators but few are value added oriented for the financial sector (banks). The Swiss Federal Statistical Office publishes only yearly data on the „production account“.
- A quarterly or even a monthly reliable reference series for the value added does not exist
  - Our financial indicator will therefore not be measured or scaled on a reference series
- We want to find a simple and easy to understand indicator for financial activities which is early disposable
- The financial sector indicator will be constructed along the following lines
  - Referring only to questions that directly relate to the value added
  - Transparent computation and aggregation
  - Timely provision of information on economic coincident activity of banks
